CENTENNIAL PARADE FLOAT

Carpenter Kenneth Kennedy works on a scale model of the Audubon mansion in Tiburon, a model that will be entered in the San Rafael Centennial Parade by the Marin Builder's Exchange. The miniature mansion, not yet topped by its tower (at right) will be 11 feet tall, seven feet wide and eight feet long. It cost more than $4,000 to build and will be donated to the Audubon Society after the Centennial celebration, according to Exchange spokesman James Mahoney.

$5.1 Billion For Foreign Aid Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon proposed to Congress today a $5.1 billion foreign aid program, including $250 million for Egypt to strengthen the "forces of moderation" in the Middle East.

The aid package for the fiscal year starting July 1 would include $1.5 billion in United States assistance to international development institutions. The rest would be for economic and military assistance.

The President also urged Congress to authorize an appropriation of $939.8 million to assist South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos in their efforts to shift their economies from war to peace.

Nixon and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger outlined the program at a meeting with congressional leaders and appealed for support on grounds that foreign aid "has become an indispensible element" of U.S. foreign policy.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, long a foe of foreign aid, told reporters, "I will look at it with an open mind. I will give it consideration."

House Speaker Carl Albert said of the proposed aid to Egypt and other Mideast nations that "barring something I do not know about, it is a well thought out program that will be helpful to the Middle East, to the United States, the Arab nations and Israel."

The $250 million in assistance to Egypt would be used for clearing the Suez Canal, repairing the war damage in adjacent cities and restoring Egyptian trade, Nixon said.

He said American diplomatic initiatives in the Mideast had helped create conditions "necessary for an end to conflict and violence."

Besides the quarter-billion for Egypt, the President proposed to provide Israel $50 million for security support and $300 million in military credit sales to permit it to continue to defend itself and reduce the prospect of a new conflict.

He also asked $100 million in military assistance grants for Jordan, plus $77.5 million in security supporting assistance, and $30 million in military credit sales.

In addition, Nixon requested a "special requirements fund" of $100 million to be disbursed for new needs that may arise as the outlines of a peaceful settlement in the Mideast takes shape, including provision for peacekeeping forces, aid to refugees and development projects.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., had told reporters after Nixon's meeting with top congressional leaders that while the aid request was "a pretty tidy sum" and that aid was "unpopular with the country," he intended to support it.

Peninsula Density Reduction Planned

Supervisors To Rezone Areas Around Tiburon

By ERIK M. INGRAM

The Marin County Board of Supervisors agreed unanimously yesterday to proceed with rezoning open space lands on the Tiburon Peninsula — including Ring Mountain — to reduce the number of possible homesites. (Other supervisors stories, page 23.)

The board's action, in effect, reverses last week's 3-to-2 decision to remove the picturesque mountain from the protection of rezoning undertaken in connection with the Strawberry Community Plan.

At that time, supervisors Arnold M. Baptiste, Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Robert A. Roumiguiere agreed it should be purchased for open space and that the county should not tamper with the land pending purchase negotiation.

The rezonings were before supervisors yesterday as part of the county's program to rezone lands listed in the county general plan as open space. (State law requires zoning lands in conformance with adopted plans.)

At the end of the two-hour hearing, in which numerous property owners and their attorneys protested the rezoning, the matter was sent back to the planning commission for its review. The rezoning will be voted on again May 14 by the board.

The decision reduces the number of possible homesites on 960 acres of Ring Mountain and the Tiburon Ridge from 3,000 to about 650, according to planning department figures.

A spokesman for American Savings and Loan Association, owner of the Strawberry Spit and lands on Strawberry Point, protested the rezoning, which would reduce the existing 105 buildable lots on the spit to nine.

He, like others who spoke yesterday, charged the rezoning amounted to "taking the land without compensation." He offered to sell the property to the county for $2.1 million, though the assessor lists its value at $350,000.

Another major property owner, John Ried of the Martha Co., said the rezoning would drastically lower the value of his 93 acres on the eastern tip of the peninsula, overlooking Keil Cove.

Current zoning would allow 370 homes on the 93 acres — 37 acres of which is considered buildable — and the rezoning would reduce the number of homesites to about 19.

Ried argued that with the higher number of homesites, he could provide homes for low to middle-income families. The land has spectacular views of Angel Island, San Francisco and the East Bay.

Property owners with smaller holdings appeared to win board support for allowing more use of their land. Anne Norman, who owns 16 acres off Paradise Drive was promised seven homesites instead of the three recommended by the planning commission.

The heart of the discussion centered on Thomas Deffebach's 352 acres on Ring Mountain. His attorney, Rodrick P. Martinelli of San Rafael, urged the board to exclude his client's land from the planning process as it did last week.

The board, which during the week received numerous phone calls protesting last week's action, declined. Several supervisors said they considered the rezoning, allowing one unit for every 10 acres, to be "a holding zone," pending submission of detailed development plans.

Rampton Harvey, chairman of the Ring Mountain study committee, said the concept of holding zones "does not tell the developer or the community what he can do with his property."

William Long, chairman of the county planning commission, agreed and called such zoning "a cop out." "Holding zones are not the intent of zoning," he said.

Supervisor Baptiste, who last week opposed including Ring Mountain in the Strawberry plan, said the issue is whether a landowner should propose what will be developed on his land or whether the community should. He said he favored the landowner having the option, which would be safeguarded by the "holding zone concept."

Big Changes In Juvenile Hall Backed

By GEORGE NEVIN

A committee's call for major changes in the operation of Marin's juvenile hall was endorsed yesterday by the full Marin Juvenile Justice Commission.

But the commission postponed until its next meeting a scrutiny of the data collected by the four-member subcommittee in support of its conclusion that many parts of the hall should be closed due to their "prison-like atmosphere."

That the senior boys' unit be replaced.

That more foster and receiving homes be secured for placement of youngsters who do not pose security risks.

That future staff be carefully screened to weed out those whose appraoch to their work is more punitive than compassionate.

That more coeducational activities and recreation be allowed.

And that a double standard not be applied to boys and girls.

Crowe Fires Off Stinging Volley

By NELS JOHNSON

Former Fairfax Town Administrator Robert E. Crowe, in a stinging indictment of the town council, last night declared his ouster Monday was handled in an "illegal and capricious manner" and stemmed from "old vendettas" of political foes.

Crowe issued his broadside in a brief speech before the Fairfax Merchants and Businesspeople's Association, which met in the Fairfax Women's Club for a forum on local ballot issues facing voters on June 4.

Crowe told the assemblage of about 45 merchants and residents that he decided to speak out to "set some records straight." His appearance was greeted by several rounds of applause.

"My point is this. The council is acting in an illegal and capricious manner due to personal dislikes or old vendettas, in handling my minor situation," Crowe said, reading from a prepared text. "So one wonders how they will handle the problems that will directly affect the future of Fairfax."

Declared the former administrator: "It isn't just me. My career has already been shot by what happened election night. The council is not acting in an above-board manner." Crowe will be arraigned Monday in Marin Superior Court on a felony count of assault with a deadly weapon, a charge that stems from a post-election brawl in which he grabbed an ax and grappled in a city street with another man.

Crowe prefaced his remarks with a review of events leading to his ouster Monday. He described as an "illegal ultimatum" a council offer that he prepare the town budget, and said his rejection of that offer last week did not signal his resignation.

"Far from the truth. I not only did not resign, I said I was ready to return to my full duties and devote all my energies to the continued improvement of Fairfax," Crowe claimed.

The council on Monday said that Crowe in effect had resigned when he refused to perform limited budget duties and when he failed last Thursday to appear for work on expiration of his sick leave time.

The council said Crowe will be paid for accumulated vacation time after a detailed audit.

New City Manager Is Hired In Novato

Phillip J. Brown, 42, vice president of Lampman and Associates, municipal consultants of Sacramento, was hired last night as Novato city manager. (Another Novato City Council story, page 3.)

Brown will take over the job May 20 and will receive $27,000 a year, a car for city business and moving expenses from his home in Davis.

He will succeed Charles A. Brown, no relation, who resigned March 11 and is now city manager in Milpitas in Santa Clara County.

For the past two years Brown has been with Lampman and Associates, which he described as a firm composed of former city employees now acting as consultants to local governments.

Brown was assistant city manager of Daly City for four-and-one-half years, city manager of Arcata, Humboldt County, for three-and-one-half years, and city manager of Madera, a city of 18,000 for six-and-one-half years before joining the firm.

During his term in Madera, there was voter approval for two bond measures, creation of a housing authority and construction of 400 low income and senior citizen dwellings. While he was city manager at Arcata there was development of a new city hall and a mass communication system and he was associated with an improvement program for the central business district, the council reported.

Brown is a native of Portland, Ore. He was reared in San Francisco and was graduated from San Francisco State College.

He said he was acquainted with former City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and had talked with him when it was apparent the job would be open and he was acquainted with Marin County, having lived in San Francisco while city manager of Daly City.

Brown is married and has three children. He served in the Navy from 1951-54, including the Korean War.

He was selected from a field

Another Bank Hikes Interest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bank of America, the world's largest commercial bank, raised the prime lending rate today from 10¼ to 10½ per cent, effective immediately.

The prime rate was raised yesterday to 10½ per cent by Wells Fargo Bank, Crocker Bank, United California Bank and the Bank of California.

The prime rate is the interest charged by a bank to its largest and most credit-worthy customers.

Autos SLA Used In Robbery Found

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two getaway cars used in a Symbionese Liberation Army bank robbery with newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst were found today in a basement parking garage, the FBI said.

Charles Bates, FBI agent in charge, said it was not known how long the rented cars had been in the garage at the Japan Center on Geary Street in the city's Western Addition district.

Police said the green Maverick and 1973 Ford LTD were recovered about 8 a.m. and taken to the city police garage. The FBI did not immediately disclose how the cars were found.

Meanwhile, a newspaper and a television station said that two women reportedly acquainted with SLA members have been called before a federal grand jury investigating the Patricia Hearst kidnaping and the bank robbery.

The witnesses were identified as Janet Cooper, also known as Janet Cooper Weiss, and Cynthia Garvey, both of Oakland, by the San Francisco Examiner and public television station KQED.

Police said identification bearing Miss Cooper's name was used by a woman who rented the getaway cars used in the $10,690 robbery of a Hibernia Bank here April 15. Miss Cooper said her identification was stolen a year ago.

The terrorist SLA, which said it kidnaped Miss Hearst Feb. 4, invaded the bank with the 20-year-old newspaper heiress, escaped with $10,692 and shot and wounded two passers-by.

Bank robbery warrants are out for four alleged SLA members — three white women and a black man. Miss Hearst, who carried a gun in the holdup, is sought as a material witness.

Marilyn Baker of KQED reported that Miss Cooper and Miss Garvey were subpoenaed to appear tomorrow before the grand jury.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. had no comment.

The Examiner, edited by Miss Hearst's father, said both women have been in hiding since the Hearst kidnaping. Authorities say both women have known persons who later joined the SLA, the newspaper said.

Forecast Says More Rain Due

Intermittent rain fell last night and this morning over Marin and Southern Sonoma, and more might fall tonight before clear skies arrive tomorrow.

Through noon today, San Rafael had .32 inch of rain. Other rainfall reports through 8 a.m. were: Sausalito, .44 inch; Bolinas, .71 inch; Mill Valley, .45 inch; Homestead Valley, .50 inch; Tamalpais Valley, .62 inch; and Larkspur, .54 inch.

There were reports of rain mixed with snow on Mount Tamalpais, although the snow did not stick on the ground.

The weather forecast for tonight calls for 40 per cent chance of showers, with clear skies scheduled for tomorrow.

Caylor Is Reinstated To Special Congress Ballot

The Secretary of State's office yesterday reinstated Thomas O. Caylor on the ballot for the special election June 4 in the Sixth Congressional District. (For a report on Caylor and the Marin County Republican Central Committee, see page 6.)

The San Francisco businessman had been ruled off the ballot Monday by Sacramento officials on the ground that one of his nomination petitions had been circulated by someone who lived outside the San Francisco portion of the district.

Caylor, as reported yesterday by the Independent-Journal, apparently had only 38 valid signatures on his nomination papers as a result of the Sacramento ruling.

Further search of registrations in the Marin County elections office, however, validated two of the three previously disputed signatures on his Marin petitions, giving him the minimum of 40 needed to qualify for the ballot. As a result, the dispute over the San Francisco petition became moot.

The county counsel's office ruled that one of the disputed signatures was valid even though the signer used his nickname. The registration for the other had been misplaced temporarily.

Caylor also is a candidate in the regular primary election in the renumbered Fifth Congressional District for a two-year term. The special term expires in December.

EXTENDS DEADLINE — Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, told a new conference yesterday he has agreed to a five-day delay in the deadline for President Nixon to respond to the panel's subpoena for tapes and documents. At left is John Doar, the committee's chief impeachment counsel.

Committee Reluctantly Willing To Give Nixon Additional Time

WASHINGTON (UPI) — They don't like it, but members of the House Judiciary Committee are willing to go along with their chairman and give President Nixon five more days to respond to a subpoena for 42 Watergate tapes.

Nixon's request for the delay makes the new date for compliance next Tuesday, April 30. By coincidence that is one year to the day after aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman resigned, John W. Dean III was fired and Nixon went on television to accept the responsibility, but not the blame, for the Watergate cover-up.

Adding to the committee's discomfort over the delay was the sharp White House reaction to its new request for more potentialimpeachment evidence.

The response came from Ken W. Clawson, director of White House communications, who said: "The demands of the House Judiciary Committee are the same excesses that led to the demise of the Senate Watergate committee."

The new request is for tapes to show whether the ITT and milk industry contributions to Nixon's re-election campaign purchased political favors.

The subpoenaed tapes cover Nixon's conversations last year when he says he first learned of his administration's role in the Watergate cover-up.

A high White House official told UPI the President "has nothing to hide on those (the subpoenaed) tapes." The tapes contain "some ambiguities which can be read by different people different ways," he said. "But a fair mind would support the President."

"I don't think the House will vote to impeach," added the official, who declined to be identified.

Even while asking for more time, the White House made no promise that it would provide all 42 subpoenaed tapes, Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., told a news conference yesterday.

White House officials have been hinting they would provide transcripts, but not tapes. Rodino and others call that unsatisfactory.

James D. St. Clair, Nixon's White House lawyer, sought the delay. "He stated he was having a difficult time getting the material together and the President had not yet reviewed it."

Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif. said he would vote against an extension. But few other members were likely to buck Rodino's recommendation for accommodation.

Chance Grows Nixon Will Be Impeached

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If constituent sentiment has any effect, President Nixon faces a greater danger now of being impeached than he did before the Easter recess of Congress.

That is the message brought back to the Capitol by many of the 38 members of the House Judiciary Committee this week at the end of a 10-day Easter recess.

"The attitude is hardening against the President," said Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier.

Rep. Walter Flowers, D-Ala., who used to discount the value of the impeachment process and who has defended Nixon to an extent, detected a more dramatic change in his district.

Minds have changed, he said, "toward a climate of impeachment more than I have ever known before."

Even Rep. Trent Lott, R-Miss., one of Nixon's strongest supporters on the committee, who cast one of the three votes against subpoenaing the President, acknowledged that Nixon's "position has weakened some down there."

But Judiciary Committee members say their decision on whether to recommend articles of impeachment to the full House will not depend on constituent sentiment. They will weigh their vote on the evidence, they say.

However, as Flowers said: "We are all cognizant of the public's attitude. All of our actions are influenced by constituents."

Several other members reported no change in their district, Democrats saying their districts already had favored Nixon's impeachment and Republicans saying their constituents were still opposed to it.

Some other Democrats say the opposition to Nixon is stronger. A poll which Rep. George E. Danielson took in his California district last winter found 59 per cent in favor of impeachment or resignation. "Now I'd 'd put it at 65 per cent, maybe higher," he said.

Rep. Joshua Eilberg, D-Pa., said sentiment in his district is "overwhelming for impeachment, turning over the evidence." He said: "Wherever I go, I find the sentiment is for impeachment."

Air Strikes Intensify Golan War

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Israeli and Syrian warplanes bombed and strafed each other's positions on the Golan Heights today and an official Damascus newspaper warned that the fighting, now in the 44th day of tank and artillery duels, could escalate into the fifth Middle East War.

A Syrian military communique said Syrian air defenses —reported to include new Soviet-built multiple warhead missiles shot down two Israeli planes trying to bomb Syrian positions on Mount Herman. A Tel Aviv military spokesman reported new Israeli air strikes but said all planes returned safely.

A spokesman reported no Israeli casualties but reported the deaths yesterday of three Israeli soldiers and injuries to four others in a mining incident on a road in the lower Jordan Valley near an Israeli paramilitary settlement 35 miles north of Jerusalem.

Israeli military sources reported heightened alerts along the fronts on the eve of Israel's Independence Day celebrations tomorrow, six months and three weeks after the surprise Arab attack of Yom Kippur that kicked off the Middle East war against Egypt and Syria.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Israeli planes first hit Syrian installations in the Mount Hermon region for one and a half hours of midmorning strikes.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

President Of Austria Dies

VIENNA (UPI) — Austrian President Franz Jonas, a loyal Socialist who worked his way up through party ranks, died early today in a Vienna Hospital at 74.

Jonas

A presidential spokesman declined to give the cause of death, but government sources said the white-haired chief of state was suffering from stomach cancer.

Chancellor Bruno Kreisky called the late president a "great Austrian" and said, "Jonas was an outstanding example of loyalty."

In Austria, the president mainly has ceremonial duties and the country is actually run by the chancellor.

New French Poll

But the 1,800 persons interviewed said they believed he would be beaten in a run-off vote by either of his major rivals, the official Gaullist candidate, Jacques Chaban-Delmas, and Gaullist supporter Valery Giscard d'Estaing, the finance minister.

The poll gave Mitterrand 41 per cent of the vote for the first round of balloting May 5 against 26 per cent for d'Estaing and 23 per cent for Chaban-Delmas.

Kennedy Cheered

LENINGRAD, USSR (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, buoyed by cheering, applauding crowds in the Soviet south, today set out for more sightseeing and handshake diplomacy in the former capital of Czarist Russia.

The senator arrived in Russia's second largest city by special plane last night.

To The Polls

JOHANNESBURG (UPI — White South Africans went to the polls today in an election expected to strengthen the parliamentary majority of Prime Minister John Vorster's separatist National Party.

Stall U.N. Work

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — More than half the interpreters at the United Nations called in sick yesterday, forcing cancellation of key meetings at the world body.

The "job action" forced officials to cancel sessions of the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council, but a U.N. spokesman said normal interpreter services were expected to resume today.

U.N. sources said interpreters called in sick to protest long hours of work during the General Assembly's current special session.

Whooping Cough

CINCINNATI (UPI) — A whooping cough epidemic has hit Cincinnati.

City Health Commissioner Dr. William R. Else reported the epidemic yesterday, saying there have been 36 cases — or suspected cases — of the contagious disease here since March 1.

Cincinnati usually has three to five cases a year.

Alarm Sounded

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today the Ethiopian government was on the verge of declaring a state of emergency to head off violent strikes and protests by labor unions.

A government statement broadcast on radio and television yesterday said police and soldiers were ordered to take "all necessary steps" to preserve law and order and block illegal strikes and demonstrations.

Proposed Ban On Building In San Anselmo Dropped

The San Anselmo City Council last night chose not to impose a moratorium on new development in the city to prevent additional sewage from pouring into Corte Madera Creek, when councilmen were told that another agency is effectively dealing with the problem.

The building ban had been suggested by Mayor Martin G. Blinder as a way to keep fecal matter from entering the creek during the rainy season. When the present sewage system becomes overloaded with rainwater, relief valves allow raw sewage to flow directly into the creek, Blinder said.

Councilmen shied from the ban when told by Ned J. Ongaro, manager of the Ross Valley Sanitary District, that construction now underway will eliminate 90 per cent of the sewage overflow of the whole district before the next rainy season.

Even without this news, councilmen John H. Colteaux and Woodrow V. Capurro agreed that the moratorium was unnecessary, because "we can keep the handle on growth as we like with our own use-permit system" for new housing units, Colteaux said.

Blinder Wednesday wrote to ask the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board to deny requests for hookups to the sanitary system, but the board has not responded to his letter.

Blinder said he would advise other councilmen of the regional board's response at the council's next meeting, May 14 at City Hall.

Ongaro said the only potential pitfall in the local sanitary district's new construction is an upcoming labor negotiation that could result in delay due to strikes.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

SITE PLANS — Chose architecture firm of Wagstaff and McDonald of San Anselmo as site planners to report plans and estimated costs of proposed renovations to city public buildings.

DUPLEX — Approved rezoning 240 and 250 Red Hill Avenue for construction of a duplex by Roland M. Mireles.

HOMES — Denied (4-1) appeals of planning commission decisions that denied permits to build homes at 175 Ridge Road (A.C. Signorelli) and 22 Monterey Terrace (Carl A. Baumsteiger). Councilman Capurro was in the minority on both appeals.

DRESSMAKING — Denied appeal of a planning commission decision which prevented Marjorie Anderson, 174 Meadowcraft Drive, from operating a dressmaking shop at her home.

PROPERTY USE — Granted Ross Valley Sanitary District permission to use city property off San Francisco Boulevard near the American Legion Log Cabin for a contractor's storage yard, provided that the city will not be held liable for damage to equipment on the site.

NOMINATIONS — Nominated George Stump as a candidate for appointment to the library board, for the seat recently vacated by resignation; and nominated Ed Henley as a candidate for appointment to the Park and Recreation Commission, for a seat also vacated by resignation.

LAFCO — On a 3-2 vote (Mayor Blinder and Councilman Pieter Toal opposed) decided to support Ross Town Councilman Roy Farrington Jones over Corte Madera Mayor Joan L. Sestak for appointment to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

LIBRARY — Deferred until budget-hearing time a request from librarian Lucy Palo that she be given $10,000 from revenue sharing money to buy new books for the library.

TRANSIT — Decided not to act on a request by the City County Planning Council to endorse the proposed 25 cent tax rate for local transit.

FIRE DEPARTMENT — Appointed Bradley G. Kaufhold as firefighter at $845 per month.

CAR SERVICE — Appointed Kenneth A. Cummings as automotive serviceman at $590 per month.

ROBSON PARK — Approved removal and cleanup of storage area in Robson Park.

MEDICAL CLAIM — Denied and referred to insurance carrier a claim by Mrs. Robert S. Caughie for medical services needed by her son after a fall at a city tiny tot program.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Approved the North Bay Senior Planning Council as the representative agency for Marin County.

New Rules On Planning Introduced

New rules governing the city's plan review committee were introduced by the Novato City Council last night. (Another Novato City Council story, page 1.)

After making several changes, the council unanimously introduced a separate ordinance governing the committee, which has been operating under the zoning ordinance.

Committee action became a political issue in the recent council campaign when businessmen charged it was too restrictive and going beyond its scope in its decisions.

Councilmen bypassed duties and makeup of the committee last night, leaving such matters for a joint meeting with the committee, not yet set, and focused on terms and appointments.

As proposed all appointments to the five-member committee expire June 30. Terms will be for two years with three members to be appointed in even number years (municipal election years) and two in odd numbered years.

The exception will be this June when two terms will be for one year to start the new rotation system.

The planning staff had proposed that the terms remain for one year, as at present.

Councilmen voted 3-to-2 against permitting removal of a committee member by three council votes, rather than four. Councilmen Fred F. Ruegg and Dorothy P. Young favored removal by three votes.

As proposed a committee member wouldn't be able to serve on any other city commission or committee or hold any city job.

The council deleted a section which would have given the committee the duty to prepare each year a program of overall community design for use as a general guide for developments, agreeing that matter could be at a joint meeting with the committee.

The Novato City Council also:

HORSES — Unanimously introduced an ordinance to permit keeping horses in agricultural districts without a use permit.

ROAD JOB — Held a hearing on the final cost, $205,501, and assessments against property owners on the Tamalpais Avenue reconstruction between Novato Boulevard and Center Road. There weren't any protests from property owners.

HEARINGS — Set June 11 at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House for public hearings on the proposed annexation of three acres along Vineyard Road, east of Trumbull Avenue and 6.77 acres at the southwest corner of Center Road and Wilson Avenue.

A Biochemist Says Cause Of Arthritis Found

LONDON (UPI) — A biochemist said yesterday he has discovered the cause of arthritis and a way both to prevent and control the crippling disease.

A spokesman for the Arthritis and Rheumatism Council declined comment on the claim.

It was circulated in a news conference by Dr. E.C. Barton-Wright and in a booklet aimed at laymen and medical personnel.

"I am not claiming I have discovered a permanent cure for arthritis," he said. "What I do claim is that we have discovered the cause, the method of control and the method of prevention."

Barton-Wright said the disease was caused by a deficiency of pantothenic acid, a component of Vitamin B which is easily destroyed in food processing and cooking.

Mitchell, Stans Jury Hears Plea

NEW YORK (UPI) — The defense told a federal court jury today that the case against John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans, two former powerful Nixon cabinet members, was "a prosecutor's vision, engendered in the heat of a terrible national trauma."

Peter Fleming Jr., a tall, rangy silver-haired attorney who is representing former Attorney General Mitchell, did not name that trauma. The government case against the two got going during the height of the Watergate investigation.

Fleming's summation was the second and last for the defense. Stans' attorney, Walter J. Bonner, had hammered away in his summation yesterday at a sarcastic theme—"some fix! some conspiracy!" — and said that the government had deliberately built its conspiracy case.

Fleming said that the government prosecutors had painted Mitchell as the "second most powerful man in America" in his post as Attorney General in the Nixon administration.

"We go home and joke with him at night about what a lousy fixer he is," Fleming said.

Mitchell, 60, and Stans, 66, former Commerce Secretary, are charged with trying to impede a federal investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for his secret $200,000 cash contribution to the 1972 Nixon campaign.

Vesco was indicted as a codefendant but fled the country.

Fleming said the defendants were charged with " a conspiracy to fix a case for a man they couldn't care less about, in 1972, for $200,000 out of $60 million."

The $60 million is what Stans testified was the total he raised in 1972 for the campaign as chairman of the Nixon Finance Committee.

"If you can live with your verdict the rest of your life, then we'll be satisfied with that verdict," Fleming said.

"We ask you to do your best because God knows I don't know what else people can do. stand on that."

Fleming said that "I make no brief for Vesco; I call no man a slimer—I'm not rich enough."

That was a reference to the testimony of G. Bradford Cook, who at age 36 in 1973 became the youngest chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and who, the defense contends, got the post through the efforts of his rich father.

Fleming, as had Bonner, launched a fiery attack on Cook, a government witness.

Fleming said that when the grand jury found there was a conflict in Stans' testimony last year "they didn't call Stans up and tell him that, they called 36-year-old Brad Cook."

"He's just a venal liar," Fleming continued. "You may find the most venal thing a man can do is get on the stand and say: 'I didn't tell the truth out of respect for Mr. Stans.' You may find that's Brad Cook's largest, biggest and most heinous perjury."

Fleming pointed out that the government had pictured its key witnesses — Cook, former presidential counsel John W. Dean, New Jersey Republican leader Harry L. Sears, and Vesco executive Laurence Richardson—as pieces in a jigsaw puzzle but none of them had been indicted.

"Richardson is a man who is so close to Vesco that it was said around the company that if you kicked Vesco in the tail you hit Richardson in the face — that close," Fleming said. "He was not indicted in this case—he's one of the boys.

"Harry Sears is not on trial, Richardson is not on trial, Cook is not on trial even for perjury, Dean is not on trial. No one is on trial except Mr. Stans and Mr. Mitchell. No one is accused of false swearing except Maurice Stans and John Mitchell."

Nixon Told To Give Up All Tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican leader John J. Rhodes said today that he had urged President Nixon to turn over full tapes of his Watergate-related conversations to House impeachment investigators.

Rhodes told reporters he suggested to Nixon about two months ago that a "high level elite group" including Chairman Peter J. Rodino, D-N.J., of the House Judiciary Committee Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Ohio, ranking GOP member chief counsel John M. Doar, and Nixon's main Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, should listen to the tapes for the entire committee.

"I don't think that the tapes ever were to be handled as a routine staff operation," Rhodes said.

The Arizona Republican indicated he did not believe either the Judiciary Committee or the full House would be satisfied with transcripts alone of the tapes. White House staff members are said to be working on transcripts of tapes of 42 of his Watergate conversations that the committee has subpoenaed.

Rhodes said he believes "the committee and the House will have to be convinced that all relevant materials are set forth in the transcripts before transcripts alone would be acceptable."

Asked if he thought the President would be impeached by the House, Rhodes said, "I haven't taken any nose counts."

A high level White House official says Nixon "has nothing to hide on those tapes" and also predicts he will not be impeached by the House.

Docking Facility Plans Approved

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night approved design plans and granted a permit for a docking facility on the San Rafael Canal to be used by Sea Scouts.

The commission, however, said use of the facility behind Montecito Shopping Center must be limited to nonprofit groups.

Sea Explorers Ship No. 55 for months had been looking for a permanent berth for their 75-foot converted Navy torpedo recovery boat before the Canal site was donated by Abraham Blumenfeld.

The commission next meets at 8 p.m. Monday to continue its review of the city general plan.

Fairfax Man Is Found Dead

A Fairfax man was found dead in a car just outside the town last night. A hose was attacked to the exhaust pipe of the car.

Newton Russell Millen Jr., 26, of 63 Laurel Drive, was found by Fairfax resident Larry Daunell on the fire road at the end of Glen Drive, at approximately 8 p.m. No note was found, according to the county coroner's office.

Millen was an unemployed artist. He was the son of Newton Millen Sr. of Plymouth, Mich.

Funeral will be held in Michigan.

Choir, Band Will Present Concert

The band and choir of Wasatch Academy in Utah, a coeducational boarding high school, will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Presbyterian Church of Novato, 710 Wilson Avenue.

Prior to the performance, the 42-member group will be guests at a potluck supper at the church's Christensen Room and after the performance will stay overnight at the home of congregation members.

Alert Photo Bug Traps A Gunman

A disabled veteran who told police he pulled four armed robberies, three in San Rafael, because his government check did not arrive, was in San Francisco City Jail today, thanks to a quick-thinking amateur photographer.

Marin Sheriff's deputies arrested Larry Thomas Adkins, 22, of Los Ranchitos, after a tip from photographer Jimo Perini of San Francisco, who followed Adkins to Marin from San Francisco.

San Rafael police said Adkins told them he robbed a San Rafael liquor store twice and a gasoline station once, and that "if he had gotten his disability check on time, this would not have happened."

San Rafael Police Insp. Ray Maynard said Perini saw a man running along Fillmore Street yesterday at 12:50 p.m. and later told officers, "I suspected he had committed a crime."

Perini snapped photos of Adkins removing a golf cap and dark glasses, then hopped in his car and followed Adkins to an apartment building at 11 Merrydale Road. He then went to a nearby hamburger stand and phoned the sheriff.

Deputies searched the apartment building without success, but arrested Adkins about a block away, walking along Merrydale Road. A .22-caliber revolver allegedly used in the robberies was found, said Maynard.

According to police, Adkins said he had robbed United Liquors, 1556 Fourth Street, of about $300 on March 21, and of a like amount last Thursday, and Redwood Oil Co., 3021 Second Street, of $100 Sunday.

San Francisco police said Adkins took $70 from a Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant at Fillmore and Lombard streets moments before Perini spotted him.

ZONING

concept" does not affect property owner's legal right to petition government to change any zoning. Whether the request is accepted is another question.)

Martinelli said he would accept the rezoning on the understanding that his client would not be limited to one unit for every 10 acres as the zoning designates.

While Baptiste and Roumiguiere conceded that point, Chairman Michael Wornum said he didn't.

The changes recommended by the board will be reviewed by the planning commission May 6 and returned to the board for final action May 14.

27-Year-Old Inmate Dies Of Stabbing

A 27-year-old San Quentin convict was stabbed and killed today, in an attack for which officials knew no motive.

The dead man was Robert Stover, who was serving a five-year-to-life sentence for first degree robbery in Alameda County. He also had concurrent sentences for an assault on a police officer and receiving stolen property.

Stover was attacked as he walked through the upper yard, crowded with convicts on their way to work assignments. Prison information Officer William D. Nyberg said the stabbing occurred shortly before 8 a.m. Stover died in the prison hospital about an hour later.

He was stabbed once in the back with a sharpened 12-inch screw driver which had a six-inch handle.

Officers found the weapon, but had no suspects.

Nyberg said that Stover, a white man, did not belong to any prison cliques. He had been at San Quentin more than two years.

He was the second fatal stabbing at the prison this year, Nyberg said. In all, 14 convicts have been stabbed by other inmates in 1974, and one remains in critical condition in the prison hospital.

lowed by a town forum on two ballot issues facing Fairfax voters in June.

At issue are a police pay measure that would set the salary of town police at a level no lower than that paid by other Marin police agencies and a proposal by the Fairfax School District board for a $750,000 bond issue to finance a community center at White Hill School.

Merchants heard explanations of the measures from police and school officials and engaged in a round of questions.

The association, however, took no vote of its membership in support or opposition to the ballot issues.

Community Players Plan 'Wonderland'

Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" will be presented by the Sonoma State College residential community players at 8:30 p.m. Thursday through Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday in the cafeteria of Zinfandel Hall on the Rohnert Park campus.

The production will be directed by theater arts majors Sharon Glanz and Mona Jacobson.

CHANGES

unit, which was criticized as having "the atmosphere of a jail."

The meeting was well attended by parents, attorneys, members of the juvenile hall auxiliary and some hall employees.

One juvenile hall counselor, Toni Zappone, said she and other members of the Marin Probation Workers Union believe many of the hall's faults can be traced to Supt. Erick F. Yarchin.

"We're convinced that as long as Erick Yarchin is head of juvenile hall, there will be no changes," she said.

In a letter to the commission from the Probation Workers Union, Local 35's president Don Deane said: "The union is of the firm belief that under the existing conditions of the juvenile hall administration, the possibilities for appropriate and positive changes desired by the study committee and the union are remote."

One spectator and auxiliary member, Helen Dreyfus, said she agreed with the committee's goal to eliminate the hall's "prison like atmosphere, but added: "You can't put locked doors and a chainlink fence around a place and call it a home. What you're trying to do it is great, but it's an impossible task."

In a 10-page response to the committee's critical report, chief probation officer John W. Brewer took issue with but a few of the recommendations and endorsed many of them.

Much of the reply, which Brewer read aloud, dealt with how hard it is for laymen to understand problems at juvenile hall. Included were comments such as "lay people... may not be familiar with all the ramifications of juvenile detention."

Under questioning by the commission, Brewer said there was no point on which he considered the committee was "way off base."

He ended up agreeing that more placements for youths outside juvenile hall should be found.

After reviewing some of the committee's supporting information at its next meeting May 21, the commission will forward the report to the board of supervisors.

of 64 applicants in a search that started in January when the city hired Arthur D. Little Co. of San Francisco, management consultants, to recruit and screen candidates.

Mayor David Price Jones said three weeks ago the firm submitted a list of six top applicants for interview by the council and "we interviewed the six and Rod Brown (acting City Mgr. Rodney Brown, (no relation to either the former or present city manager) who we felt were highly qualified."

The council reinterviewed the top three candidates and last Thursday narrowed the field to Phillip Brown. Jones said the use of Arthur D. Little Co. resulted in "highly qualified candidates."

In making its choice the council emphasized "good relations with personnel, good administration, high integrity and substantial experience," Jones said.

Wells Fargo Buys School Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Wells Fargo Bank has announced purchase of an $8 million issue for Oakland Unified School District bonds.

Wells Fargo and Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co., Inc., headed an investment group which made the successful bid on the 1974 series "A" school bonds, it was announced yesterday.

Sanitary Board Backs Fee Hikes

The Homestead Valley Sanitary District board last night approved new ordinances upgrading the standards of construction of new sewer lines and raising sewer connection fees on Monday.

Board secretary Gustaf F. Wolf said that most hookup fees doubled with the fee for the average single-family home going from $240 to $500.

Beach Planning Session Set Monday

The Stinson Beach Planing Group will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Stinson Beach Community Center, according to group organizers.

The session is open to any resident interested in helping develop planning objectives for the community. The group's relation wit the county planning department, Golden Gate National Recreation Area and the Stinson Beach Water and Fire districts will be discussed.

OBITUARIES

WILBER DISNEY

Wilber Disney, 64, proprietor of the Black Point Shingle and Shake Co., died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Disney, who lived at 456 Estado Way, Novato, formerly operated a roofing company in San Carlos and the Disney Seater Supply Co.

He was a native of Oklahoma and had been a resident of California since 1930. He had been a resident of Novato for two years.

Surviving are his wife, Elsie, two daughters, Barbara Martinez of San Carlos and Mary Jean Urzo of San Mateo; two brothers, Alroye Disney of Oklahoma and James Disney of Widsoe, Sonoma County; a sister, Hazel Morris of Guthrie, Okla., and four grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at White Oaks Chapel, San Carlos. Burial will be at Skyline Memorial Park, San Mateo.

LINDLEY SCHMIDT

Funeral for retired Col. Lindley Grey Schmidt, father of Mrs. Charles W. Henderson of Sausalito, will be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Patterson and O'Connell Chapel by the Wayside in San Mateo.

Colonel Schmidt, who was 86, died Monday at Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio of San Francisco.

He was born in Washington, D.C. and enlisted there in the Army in 1917. He served in both World War I and World War II, retiring in 1947.

He had lived in San Mateo the past five years.

In addition to his daughter in Sausalito, he is also survived by his wife, Mae K. Schmidt; another daughter, Mrs. Jean M. Blois of Hillsborough; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, and his sister, Clara Laird of Woodside, N.Y.

A service also will be conducted at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Washington, D.C., Sunday, followed by burial in Arlington National Cemetery in Arlington, Va.

The family prefers memorial contributions to St. Andrew's Lutheran Church in San Mateo or a favorite charity.

GEORGE WAGNER

George Warren Wagner of Petaluma, a former resident of Novato, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness. He was 37.

He worked as a pipefitter at Mare Island.

He is survived by his wife, Sandra, a daughter, Carrie Ann, a son, George W. Wagner Jr., two brothers, David R. Wagner of Ohio and Robert B. Wagner of Pennsylvania, and two sisters, Sally Carns and Dolores Miller, both of Pennsylvania.

Funeral will be Friday at 11 a.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Interment will be at the Liberty Cemetery, also in Petaluma.

RAYMOND SMITH

Graveside service for Raymond R. Smith, 84, of Corte Madera will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

He died Monday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Smith was born and reared in Mount Vernon, Ill. He came to California and became an advertising copy writer for Beaumont and Hohman Advertising Agency in San Francisco, a position he held for 40 years until he retired. For the past 20 years he had lived at 165 Summit Drive, Corte Madera.

He was a member of the Assembly of God Church of San Rafael.

Smith is survived by his wife, Vreda Smith of Clio, Plumas County; five sons, Ray Smith of Greenbrae; Ernest Smith of Wenatchee, Wash.; Lewis Smith of Ross; Denning Smith of Sacramento, and Benjamin Smith of Kent, Wash.; four sisters, Mildred Frisholz of Seal Beach, Orange County; Helen Blumenthal of Alameda; Josephine Mathews of Walnut Creek and Catherine McGregor of Walnut Creek; two brothers, George Smith of Burbank, Los Angeles County, and Donald Smith of Kensington; 13 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

MRS. RUSSELL

Funeral for Gertrude Russell of San Rafael will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Williams and Heffernan Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Russell, who was 38, died April 16 in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

She was a native of Andros, the Bahamas, but had lived in Marin about 10 years. She was a domestic, having worked for several families in the county.

Mrs. Russell was a member of the Fairfax Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

She is survived by a son, Brian Cleare; her mother, Mrs. Izoria Griffin; her father, Harold Woodside, and her sister, Eureka Griffin, all of the Bahamas.

Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

ROTC Squadron Planning Auction

The Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps Squadron at Novato High School will have an auction at 10 a.m. May 4 ath the Novato Community House.

Proceeds will go toward educational field trips and other squadron activities. The Sequoia Auction Co. of Novato is donating its services, and the cadets are seeking donations for the auction.

Stargazing Party Set Saturday

The Marin Astronomical Association will hold a stargazing party Saturday at 8 p.m. at the College of Marin parking lot near the tennis court.

According to Ralph Parlette of the society, the event will be part of Astronomy Day 1974, sponsored by the Astronomical Association of Northern California.

Society members and members of the College of Marin Astronomy Department will share telescopes at the party.

Saturn will be visible, according to Parlette.

Films On Jung Are Planned

"The story of Carl Gustav Jung," a series of three films on the life of the pioneer psychiatrist, will be shown at 5, 7:30 and 10 p.m. Friday at the Veterans Auditorium in Cotati.

Filmed in Switzerland, where Jung lived, the movies include footage of his African safari and early family photographs.

Dr. Raul Burke, a Jungian therapist, will speak after the 7:30 showing, a spokesman said.

Clubs Planning Chess Tourney

The Sonoma State College and Santa Rosa Chess clubs will sponsor a two-day tournament at 10:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Sonoma State Cafeteria.

Classes will be determined by the score of each contestant's first two games, a spokesman said.

Grape Harvest Speakers Slated

United Farmworkers' vice-president Delores Huerta and Rev. William Sloane Coffin of the National Council of Churches will speak April 30 about the battle between the Teamsters' Union and the United Farm Workers over harvesting contracts in the grape fields.

The fund raising event will be held at the Sperry residence, 20 Crest Road, Belvedere, at 6:30 p.m.

Tito Will Visit

BELGRADE (UPI) — President Tito of Yugoslavia will visit Hungary later this week at the invitation of the Hungarian Communist Party and government, Belgrade radio announced Monday.

Committee Endorses Exotic Pets Measure

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Controversial legislation to control the import and sale of exotic pets in California has been endorsed unanimously by the Senate Natural Resources and Wildlife Committee.

The action came Monday after almost two hours of debate and opposition by bird fanciers from throughout the state, despite the fact Behr earlier had removed birds from the measure.

The bill was asked by the Sierra Club on the ground the multimillion-dollar business threatens to deplete populations of wild animals taken for the luxury pet market. Only one of 12 animals taken from its native habitat survives long enough for sale, and then many become sick and die after sale because they are not cared for properly, according to studies of the problem.

Behr's bill, SB 1766, requires only one permit for each person. According to a summary of the bill by Behr's staff, "If the applicant can establish his present ability to properly confine a dozen armadillos, one permit is issued, not 12."

Behr Bill Wasn't Meant To Control Boardwalks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, author of a 1972 bill extending the jurisdiction of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission up Corte Madera Creek, said yesterday he never intended to put the boardwalks in Larkspur and Greenbrae under the commission's control.

If needed, remedial legislation will be introduced this session to clear up the issue promptly, he said.

Behr promised the action after meeting with commission officials over the knotty issue of whether to allow construction on 30 undeveloped marshland lots along the creek. The issue is before the commission because of an application by Irvin T. Boop of Corte Madera to build on a lot he owns adjacent to Piper Park.

The senator said the only purpose of the 1972 law was to protect the creek from an undue proliferation of boat docks, which would interfere with restoration of fish runs in the creek.

Bagley Bill Would Hike Pay At UC

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO —A special $6.5 million appropriation bill for pay hikes to academic employees at the University of California has been introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

A spokesman for the assemblyman said the bill was introduced at the request of the university's lobbyist. It will be pushed only if the pay hikes are not provided in the budget, the spokesman said.

The bill, in effect, was put in "to get leverage" for the pay hikes in budget negotiations, he said.

Homeowners Group Reelects Officers

Richard Poppe has been reelected president of the San Geronimo Valley Association, and the other association officers also were named to serve another year.

Other reelected officers were Betty Gardiner, vice president; Frances Van Midde, treasurer, and Ola Pope, secretary.

Open Grand Jury Hearings Asked

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to require grand juries to open their doors to the public in hearings on noncriminal investigations was introduced today by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The bill was asked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors over the objections of the presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, E. Warren McGuire, who argued that grand juries' probes of local government should be behind closed doors.

Bagley stressed the measure will not affect the secrecy of criminal allegations until, as at present, there is enough evidence to warrant criminal indictment.

The assemblyman predicted that the "greater appreciation for openness in government" resulting from the Watergate scandals will make it easier to pass such a bill. "Even the cloud of Watergate must have a silver lining," he said.

Bagley also introduced five other bills requested by the Marin supervisors to increase the salaries of municipal court clerks, extend planning commission powers, require the state to pay costs for processing the flood of habeas corpus writs filed by prison inmates, clarify flood control laws and allow the county to sell liquor in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

The bill on court clerk salaries left blank the amount of the increases pending negotiations with the employees. The judges have proposed a 5 per cent longevity hike and raising the court filing fee from $10.50 to $11.50 to defray the cost.

The planning measure would require that long-range capital improvement programs by special districts be reviewed by the affected county or city planning agency. The bill was asked to improve coordination between special district and local planning agencies.

The flood control bill would allow formation of subzones within the Marin County Flood Control District, delete redundant language and update bond interest limits to match the current market.

The attempt to sell liquor at the veteran's building is a revival of legislation that has been defeated in the past. The county is seeking the power to sell liquor on the ground it would provide a substantial source of revenue.

VEGA. LOWEST PRICED CAR MADE IN AMERICA.

Vega has a lower list price than any other car made in the U.S.A.

VEGA $2380

That's the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the Vega Notchback Coupe, including dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, optional equipment, state or local taxes are additional. Other Vega models are available, of course. Such as the popular Vega Hatchback at $2492.

The quality and value of Chevrolet.
Vega makes as much sense for what it gives you as for what it doesn't cost you. Steel side guard beams in each door. Double-panel steel roof. Front disc brakes. A Full Coil suspension for a good ride. A wide stance and low center of gravity for stability and good handling. Molded full foam front bucket seats.

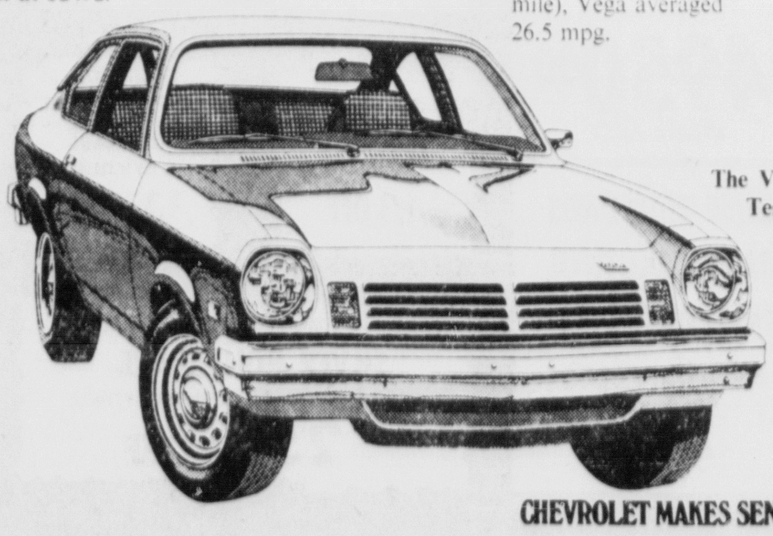
And a few surprises for the money.
Carpeting. Floor-mounted shift and hand brake controls. A sporty-looking instrument panel. And our overhead cam aluminum block four-cylinder engine which is both economical and responsive.

29.8 MPG

Yes, Vega Hatchback did get 29.8 miles per gallon. Results of recent Chevrolet fuel economy tests show an average of 29.8 miles per gallon for Vega at a steady speed of 55 miles per hour, the maximum Federal speed. In simulated suburban city driving (average speed 24 mph with 1.6 stops per mile), Vega averaged 26.5 mpg.

Engineers conducted the tests at our Proving Grounds. Cars were Vega Hatchbacks equipped with standard engine and transmission and popular options. In all tests, cars carried the weight of two passengers. Of course the mileage you'll get depends on how and where you drive.
Vega's fuel economy, coupled with its standard 16-gallon-rated fuel tank, offers the kind of driving range that makes lots of sense today.

A real value.
Vega is a comfortable, solid little car that's a lot of fun to drive and goes a long way on a gallon of gas. It just happens to have a very low price.



The Vega Notchback Coupe.

DANCING UP A STORY

Birju Maharaj (right) demonstrates a Northern Indian Kathak dance which blends rhythmic elements with the telling of stories from the Puranas, books of ancient lore. More than a hundred persons attended the demonstration yesterday at Congregation Rodef Sholom in San Rafael. The event was sponsored by the Ali Akbar College of Music in San Rafael and the American Society for Eastern Arts.

Caylor Is Given Endorsement Of Marin GOP Committee

The Marin County Republican Central Committee last night endorsed Thomas O. Caylor of San Rafael, candidate in the special election June 4 in the Sixth Congressional District.

The endorsement was approved 16-1, reported committee chairman Bert D. Inman of Greenbrae. The sole dissent was not against Caylor, but against making any endorsement, Inman said.

The vote came after the committee heard talks by Caylor and the three other candidates: Sean McCarthy of San Rafael, Wesley Wilkes of Tiburon and Jean M. Wall of San Francisco. All but Wilkes also are candidates for the Republican nomination in the regular primary the same date for a full two-year term in the renumbered Fifth Congressional District. The special election will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of William S. Mailliard, whose term expires at the end of the year.

The central committee is barred from making endorsements in the regular primary, but not in the special election, since voters in the special can ballot for any candidate, regardless of party.

In other business, Inman appointed Loren Olson of Novato as precinct chairman, Ruby Streiff of Greenbrae as consultant to Olson, and Bernice Rueger of Novato as registration chairman.

San Quentin Prisoner Walks Away

A San Quentin inmate walked away from the prison's family visiting center last night after leaving his mother a note telling her not to worry.

George Richard Pettit, 38, a convicted robber, was discovered missing at 5 a.m. by his mother, who was staying with him in the visiting area outside the prison walls.

Mrs. Pettit notified guards at the gate that her son had gone. His prison clothes later were found by Larkspur police near the Greenbrae interchange to Highway 101.

Pettit has been in prison off and on since 1958. He came to San Quentin from Los Angeles County in May of 1971.

"Mom, please try and understand," he wrote. "Don't worry. I won't get hurt or hurt anyone. I love you. I'm just tired of all this time. Please don't worry. Love you. — Sony."

Rezoning Backed For Drug Store

Rezoning to allow construction of a drug store has been recommended by the Cotati Planning Commission.

The commission acted Monday to change zoning from R-4, multifamily residential, to C-1, commercial, on a lot next to the Rancho Cotate Shopping Center on East Cotati Avenue. Codding Enterprises plans to build a drug store on the site, which is presently vacant.

Planning Director Mark Thysen said the commission also continued to its May 13 meeting a decision on the environmental impact of a 30-unit apartment complex planned for 79 William Street.

Agency Defends State's Prepaid Health Program

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A state Health Department official has disputed an Auditor General's report criticizing state-supported prepaid health plans for Medi-Cal recipients.

"The report demonstrates an appalling lack of understanding of the prepaid health plan program or the health care system in California," Deputy Health Director David Winston said yesterday.

In a letter to Assemblyman Vincent Thomas, D-San Pedro, chairman of the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, Winston also said the report apparently was the result of "narrow political goals."

The audit committee ordered the Auditor General's Office to investigate the plans.

The Auditor General report charged that more money was spent on administrative costs than on actual health care services in the plans.

It said that of the $56.5 million payments made by the Health department to 15 prepaid health plan (PHP) contracts, only 38 per cent went for health care services while 52 per cent was spent on administrative costs such as salaries.

The report suggested that legislation be enacted to limit administrative costs to only 25 per cent.

"The news media and the people of this state have been given the impression that an expenditure of 52 per cent PHP funds on administration and overhead is somehow wasteful and extravagant," Winston said in the letter.

"Had any of the staff of the Office of the Auditor General bothered to educate themselves on this subject," he added, "they would have found these rates comparable to private physician practice.

"The American Medical Association's 1973 Profile on Medical Practice estimtes that between 43 per cent and 50 per cent of group practice income is expended on administrative costs," he said.

Winston also said he hoped the "Auditor General will rejoin me in serving the interest of all the people of California, rather than acting precipitously to further whatever narrow political goals may have prompted this current effort."

The PHP program in California is financed on a 50-50 state, federal basis and provides free health care services to 204,000 persons under the state's welfare programs. Fourteen of the 15 plans are in Los Angeles County.

More Environmental Education Proposed

A proposal for expanding environmental education programs run by the Marin County superintendent of schools office was received last night by the Marin County Board of Education.

Paul Maxwell, environmental educator with the schools office told the board that by June the environmental program, started this year at the Martha Alexander Gerbode Preserve in the Golden Gate headlands, will have been used by nearly 2,000 students.

He said arrangements are being made to continue use of the preserve next year through the National Park Service which will purchase the area for inclusion in the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

Maxwell said the park service has proposed leasing it to the county for environmental studies, one of the first leases of this type ever proposed by the park service.

It would be "most unique and could gain national recognition in demonstrating a workable arrangement between federal and local agencies," Maxwell said.

He also told the board of plans to open a "model farm" at which students could help raise livestock and crops. He said the farm might be located at St. Vincent's School for Boys.

Asst. Supt. Robert E. Spain said that although the board took no action on the expansion plans, it liked Maxwell's ideas. Spain said more detailed expansion plans will be presented during upcoming budget sessions.

The Marin County Board of Education Also:

CONSULTANT — Hired Diana Hutchcroft as a consultant and speaker at the spring conference for school psychologists to be held tomorrow at Dominican College. She will receive $100.

PRISON — Approved renewal of its contract for Bayview School at San Quentin Prison. The 1974-75 contract includes two additional teachers, required because more prisoners have attended the school since some work programs at the prison such as textile mill have been closed, according to Spain. School budget proposed at $290,107.98 next year as opposed to $242,383 this year.

APPLICATION — Agreed to cosponsor a grant application by the Family Service Agency of Marin which is seeking funds from the San Francisco Foundation to continue its workshop for siblings of handicapped children.

TRIP — Approved a one-day trip to Disneyland for 13 children and a teacher from Forest Meadows Development Center, expenses to be paid by parents and donations.

CLOSED — Met in closed session to instruct its salary negotiator.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to May 14 at 8 p.m. in the county schools office.

Tarantino Is Ordered To Higher Court

Ludwig Tarantino, who founded a namesake restaurant in Bolinas and operated it for 30 years, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a felony charge of burning the building down.

Municipal Judge David R. Baty ruled there is enough evidence to try the case the ordered the 76-year-old Tarantino to appear May 7 in the higher court for arraignment.

Baty also ruled that statements made by Tarantino to sheriff's department investigators, in which he admitted setting the March 21 fire at Tarantino's Seafood Grotto, were made voluntarily and may be used as evidence.

The predawn fire destroyed the landmark building and forced several tenants of apartments to the rear of the restaurant to flee.

Ghetto Uprising Celebration Set

A celebration in honor of the 31st anniversary of the Warsaw ghetto uprising against the Nazis, will take place at 7 p.m. Sunday at Temple Beth Ami, 4676 Mayette Avenue, Santa Rosa.

Sponsored by the Petaluma Jewish Community Council, the event will include a speech by Ambrose R. Nichols, the first president of Sonoma State College.

County Willing To Pay Bird Chasing Costs

FREDERICK, Md. (UPI) — County commissioners agreed Monday to pay a $2,000 bill — the cost of scaring off millions of birds from their roosting place near the tiny village on Graceham.

The funds were to finance a five-night noise attack that had featured fire crackers and electronic sound equipment. The birds had frightened livestock, destroyed grain fields and created a potential health hazards with their droppings, which were inches deep in spots.

After the birds finally left, commissioners were upset that the state health department ran up the $2,000 bill without their prior authorization. But they agreed yesterday that the restoration of serenity in Graceham was worth the cost.

Near-Death From TV Fire Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A witness told a government hearing today a flaming television set brought him within 30 seconds of death.

Jasper Hawkins of Los Angeles, an architect, testified that he had checked into a motel room in Orlando, Fla., turned a Philco color set on around 1 a.m. and then fell asleep.

"When I awoke I had the sensation of not being able to breathe. The room was dark and there were flames about one inch high on the sides and across the top of the television."

He told the Consumer Products Safety Commission hearing that the room was so filled with gas that he had to squirm across the floor on his stomach until he finally reached a door.

"I came within 30 seconds of not being here today," he added.

Hawkins works for a committee of the National Fire Protection Association. He said the hotel management told him that there were 30 other TV fires in the previous nine months. Hawkins' experience resulted in recall of thousands of the Philco sets.

Richard L. Glass, executive vice president of the National Electronic Service Dealers Association, told a government hearing yesterday that consumer abuse and accidents can sometimes have as much to do with television set fire and shock hazards as does the way the set itself was made.

Glass testified at a Consumer Products Safety Commission hearing designed to provide the panel with information on which it will base mandatory government safety rules for the manufacture of all television sets.

Glass said a build-up of grease and dust in older sets can cause fires, and he told of one case where a pet monkey dumped a vase of water on a set, causing a fire, and "the monkey jumped around setting the drapes on fire.

"Even mice have been known to short out television sets," he added.

Glass also said people throw strange things —like money — into the sets.

POLICE CHIEF — When the 165 policemen in Chicago's traffic administration division say "Good morning, chief," a woman answers. She is Marilynn O'Regan, 53, a 26-year veteran of the force who was appointed to the $27,000-a-year job last week in a shakeup of the Chicago Police Department. It is the highest post ever held by a woman on the 13,750-member force.

Bodies Being Taken From Plane Crash

DENPASAR, Bali (UPI) — Indonesian jungle troops today began the grim task of taking the bodies of 107 Pan American Airways crash victims down a steep, 4,000-foot mountain on the resort island of Bali.

Commandos and paratroopers, hacking at the dense undergrowth with machetes, began gathering the remains in the jungle on volcanic Mahese Mountain for the rough trip down the slopes.

Among those killed was 43-year-old Edward J. Keating of San Rafael, flight engineer on the plane.

The Pan Am Boeing 707 crashed into the mountain Monday night 100 yards from the summit and burst into flames killing all aboard. The troops reached the crash site yesterday after a seven-hour, 35-mile trip through the jungle.

Paula Causey, a U.S. Information Services (USIS) officer based in Jakarta, went with the search party to the scene. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Causey of West Point, Va., were among 26 Americans on the plane.

"It's a total loss," the Indonesian troop leader radioed to a hastily erected search command post near the mountain.

Randall Johnson, Pan Am manager for Indonesia, said the army report "clearly says everybody is dead. I don't have any hope. Now it's a matter of getting the bodies out."

Pan Am officials said the soldiers reported wreckage strewn over vast reaches of the mountain and human remains badly disintegrated. The troops were carrying the bodies down the mountain for identification at the village of Singaraja.

BUD ABBOTT

Comedian Bud Abbott Dies At 75

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — William (Bud) Abbott, 75, the skinny straight man to Lou Costello in one of the most famous comedy team of the 1940s, died today.

Death was attributed to cancer, a family spokesman said. Abbott's widow Betty was with him when he died.

Abbott had been in poor health for more than a decade after a series of strokes.

He finished his life living on Social Security after his savings from the huge sums he earned as a star were stripped from him by the government in a tax action in 1959.

Abbott and Costello spent much of their professional lives in obscurity until they achieved spectacular fame in the 1940s with routines which established them as the successors to Laurel and Hardy.

Costello died in 1959.

Abbott was 58 by the time he teamed with Costello and in his 40s by the time they became a nationwide hit in the World War II years.

He and Costello made more than 50 movies and were together for 21 years and Abbott once said he made $400,000 a year at the height of his career in the 1940s.

Abbott was born into show business in Atlantic City, N.J., on Oct. 2, 1898. His mother was a circus bareback rider and his father was an advance man for the show.

In the 50s, the team faded and in 1957 broke up. In 1969, the Internal Revenue Service audited Abbott's tax returns for eight years and disallowed $1 million in deductions.

Anderson Quits Maryland Post

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — The federal investigation of political corruption in Maryland which forced former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew from office has ended a second political career — that of Agnew's successor as Baltimore County executive.

N. Dale Anderson, who succeeded Agnew in the county government post in 1966, announced yesterday that he was resigning from office effective this Friday.

The 55-year-old Democrat was convicted last month on 32 counts of extorting kickbacks and evading federal taxes. He had been indicted by the same federal grand jury which investigated Agnew. Anderson is appealing the verdict and contends he is innocent.

No Action Yet On Promotion

A counselor in the Marin County Probation Department, who has protested that his promotional board did not include a minority race member, has not been considered for promotion yet by Chief Probation Officer John W. Brewer.

The Independent-Journal erred last Friday in saying Hubert Black was passed over by Brewer after he and four others were "certified" for promotion to a supervisory slot.

The promotional board ranks candidates for promotion, but the department head has the final decision.

Expert Thinks Patricia Forced

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An authority on the 1970 Kent State shootings has decided by an independent study of pictures taken during a bank holdup that kidnaped Patricia Hearst was an unwilling member of the robbery team.

Peter Davies, a Staten Island, N.Y., realtor, said a careful study of the photos taken by a bank camera during the April 15 crime indicated Miss Hearst was being forced to carry an automatic rifle and participate in the crime.

Davies' conclusions were contained in a letter to the Hearst family which released its contents to newsmen yesterday. The letter was turned over to U.S. Attorney James l. Browning Jr. with a recommendation it be submitted to the federal grand jury probing the Feb. 4 abduction by the Symbionese Liberation Army and the robbery.

Davies' study of photographs taken during the Kent State trouble played a key role in the recent indictments of National guardsmen in Ohio. He also wrote a book on the shootings.

The letter to the Hearst family said: "The strap of the weapon (Miss Hearst was carrying) does not go around the back of her neck. Apart from the fact that this is a little unusual, that the strap should go over her right shoulder only, what makes it extremely significant is that her coat has been put on after shouldering the gun.

"Consequently, it becomes impossible for her to throw down the weapon without first removing the coat."

"With ~~her right hand~~ in the pocket of her coat, how can she possibly get a finger on the trigger mechanism of the gun?" he asked.

Davies said her hand might have been bound inside the coat or strapped to the butt of the rifle.

In another development, FBI agent in charge Charles W. Bates said a tape recording and penciled notes claiming to be from the SLA were apparently a hoax. They had been received by the Sacramento (Calif.) Bee.

Weight Control Workshop Theme

"Diets that Really Work," a workshop oh weight control and popular diets, will be held next Monday at 8 p.m. in room 166 of Harlan Center at the College of Marin.

Nutritionist Frances Dahl and home economist Nancy Bratt will lead the workshop, sponsored by the college in cooperation with the Marin County Department of Health and Human Services.

INDEPENDENT STUDY — Peter Davies of New York, described as a photo expert by the Patricia Hearst family, believes that Miss Hearst was an unwilling member of the April 15 bank robbery in San Francisco. He made his conclusions from a study of pictures of the robbery which was undertaken by the Hearst family and revealed to newsmen yesterday. Four of his theories are advanced in this photo. Alioto Says 'Zebra' Tactics Will Continue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph Alioto said yesterday "stop and question" tactics will go on as long as police believe it will turn up clues in the search for the mysterious "Zebra" killers, who have shot 18 persons randomly.

Alioto responded to criticism by some black groups and to two civil rights suits filed against the police, saying police used the same procedures to hunt a white suspect in the "Zodiac" killings several years ago.

"More people were stopped in the Zodiac investigation than in the current one," Alioto told newsmen. The "Zodiac" claimed to kill as many as 37 persons between 1966 and 1968, but was only linked definitely to six. He has never been captured.

The Zebra killers have taken a dozen lives.

Alioto said 503 men had been stopped and only 160 of these had been interrogated since "Operation Zebra" began last week.

He said police would abide by any ruling resulting from a scheduled hearing in U.S. District court on the constitutionality of the intensive search.

A 30-member team of black detectives was added to the search team to gather intelligence "We might not otherwise be able to get," said police chief Donald Scott.

Uniformed police have been stopping black men resembling an artist's sketch of one of the suspects, who have killed 12 persons without warning, and wounded six others. All the victims were white.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the American Civil Liberties Union have filed suit in federal court, in an attempt to halt the police action.

Jogging Doesn't Take Off Weight

CHICAGO (UPI) — A jogger who burns up 100 calories daily through his daily run could lose 10 pounds a year.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports that the jogger burns up almost as many calories as the out-and-out runner. But the Journal also says that exercise alone — fast or slow —won't burn off pounds.

An Air Force Academy research team study shows that a 170-pound man running about 1.5 miles in eight minutes will burn up 175 calories while another man the same size jogging the distance in 16 minutes will burn 157 calories —only 18 fewer. But, fast or slow, it would take quite a while to burn off 3,500 calories —equivalent to one pound of fat.

Novato Youth Arrested In Robbery Case

A 17-year-old Novato youth, being chased by a Pizza Hut cook, was arrested by Novato police last night on suspicion of armed robbery.

Police said the youth, who made believe he had a gun under his coat, took $281 from the Pizza Hut restaurant, 880 DeLong Avenue at 11:45 p.m.

Waitress Paulette Susan Strowbridge, 25, told officers the youth, lone patron in the restaurant at the time, ordered her to open the cash register and then took the money.

When the youth left through the rear door, Robert H. Vedder, 22, of 101 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, a cook, ran out the front door and gave chase, police said.

An officer responding to a radio call about the armed robbery saw the two running along the sidewalk near Denny's restaurant. Vedder shouted "That's him," and the officer arrested the youth.

Police said $231 of the stolen money was recovered. The youth was booked at juvenile hall.

Recreation Opinions Are Asked

A questionnaire seeking residents' opinions on park development was approved last night by directors of the Tamalpais Community Services District and parks and recreation commissioners.

The questionnaire, to be mailed in the next two weeks, asks citizens if they prefer high use development, such as a swimming pool, tennis courts and a ballfield, for the district's two undeveloped parks or less intensive development, such as hiking trails and bicycle paths, according to director Richard A. Drever Jr.

A resident survey 18 months ago indicated citizens preferred that the district acquire open space rather than develop Eastwood and Rhubarb parks.

Since then, plans by the Golden Gate National Recreation Area call for the acquisition of large amounts of land around Tamalpais Valley for open space.

Because of this, directors feel that residents now favor park development over open space. The questionnaire, to be returned by May 31, also seeks to confirm this belief, Drever said.

Directors also named parks and recreation commissioner Mary Fessler to work with a district committee in discussions with the Mill Valley School District on possible construction of a ballfield at Tamalpais Valley School.

A Way To Add Class To Party

LONDON (UPI) — Want to add a dash of class to your garden party, your annual office dinner or maybe even to the judges' panel for the neighborhood beauty contest? Then why not rent a Lord?

That's the pitch of a new London agency called "Prime Performers" set up to put organizers of such functions in touch with show business-minded British peers.

"Many Lords are extremely talented, especially as afterdinner speakers," said Barbara Kelly, who runs the service. "Most simply don't know their own worth."

But some peers obviously do. The going rate for the rent-a-Lord service is $240 per appearance plus expenses, or more if he is required for extra chores like giving a speech.

WANT TO KNOW THE HONEST TRUTH ABOUT GROUND BEEF?

IT'S THIS:

Nobody can guarantee its exact fat content.

There's been lots of talk lately about the fat-lean ratio in ground beef. So why not label each package "Contains x% of fat"? Let us tell you why.

We've been making ground beef just about as long as anyone and we know there's no way to make two batches that are exactly alike. Two samples taken from the same batch (or even the same package) can differ in ratio of fat to lean. Even with meticulous care in selecting ingredients, there are variations in fat-lean ratio. Even with our most modern grinding and mixing equipment. Even with use of the best available fat-measuring devices.

Yet we know our customers want and expect us to provide them with a choice of ground beef products to meet their varying preferences, tastes and budgets. After long and careful consideration, we have concluded that we can best meet our customers' need for variety by offering just two ground beef products—REGULAR and PREMIUM. We make both kinds from fresh chunks of beef. We prepare both kinds with equal care to maintain the top quality which has helped earn our fine meat reputation.

Our REGULAR is made the way we believe most families prefer their ground beef. It contains enough fat to assure full juiciness in the cooked meat. It makes marvelous hamburgers, meat loaves, meat balls, spaghetti sauce, Salisbury steak and other delicious dishes.

Our PREMIUM is made to please families that want a leaner ground beef. It shrinks less in cooking and makes wonderful ground beef dishes of all kinds—plain and fancy.

Why not try both kinds and see which is preferred by the folks at your house? (You might even want to make a mix with some of each.) The famous Safeway money-back guarantee applies, of course, to our ground beef as to all of our other products.

WHERE THE FAULT LIES

This is one of several illustrations contained in a "guidebook" for land-use planners and public officials published by the U.S. Geological Survey which spells out the type of damage that frequently results from an earthquake. This illustration shows the approximate location of fault traces with a part of the Hayward fault zone in the East Bay. The report outlines earthquake-induced geologic conditions that could be hazardous, types of problems they pose and their implications to land use.

Magee Asks Judge For Life Sentence

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Convict Ruchell Magee yesterday, asked a judge to send him to prison for life, saying, "I'm going to start killing."

In an outburst of frustration during pretrial hearings before Superior Judge William Ingram, the 34-year-old Magee asked that his plea of innocent be changed to guilty on charges resulting from the bloody August 1970, shoot-out at the Marin County Hall of Justice in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others were killed.

Magee's trial is scheduled to start May 28 on kidnap-extortion charges in connection with the incident.

Judge Ingram refused to allow the defendant to change his plea, telling him that it could not be accepted because Magee had not conferred with his attorney.

Magee, who has been involved in frequent courtroom outbursts during lengthy trials, was berating his court-appointed lawyer, public defender Sheldon Portman, and accusing the judge of being prejudiced.

When Ingram refused to disqualify himself from the case, Magee left the courtroom. He came back a few minutes later and told the judge:

"I wish to withdraw my not guilty plea and enter a guilty plea to get out of this courtroom. I want you to give me life. Man, I've been through this for 10 years. I am tired of this insult . . . I wish to go back to prison or wherever it's at because I'm going to start killing wherever I'm at. I'm going to start here . . . I'm going to make you shoot me."

The judge recessed court for a half hour and then announced he would delay further hearing until tomorrow in order to allow Magee to confer with any attorney he wishes.

Oakland Firm Given Contract

The Mill Valley City Council has awarded a contract for site grading work for the city's new public safety building to Fanfa-Mulloy of Oakland.

The firm's low bid of $32,516 on the base proposal and $6,250 for some additional work involved was accepted Monday provided that the city attorney approves the contract with the firm.

Other bids were Ghilotti Brothers, $53,620 and $8,200, and McGuire and Hester, $50,499 and $15,300.

12 Groups Eye Lease Of School

Twelve nonprofit groups have expressed interest in leasing West End School, the San Rafael Board of Education learned last night.

In addition, the county school system and the City of San Rafael are studying possible use of the building, he said.

West End School will close in June due to sagging enrollment.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

PROPOSAL — Told staff to study a proposal by the state School Employees Association for $200 annual pay hikes for teachers who complete a 144-hour professional growth program.

CONTRACT — Approved a $8,000 contract with Applied Technology Center for a study of the school system's custodian services.

NEGOTIATIONS — Approved a contract of $140 monthly with Negotiation Support Service for consulting work in connection with analyzing employee pay proposals.

MEETINGS — Adjourned to closed session at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to discuss employee pay proposals and said it will use the next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to discuss next fiscal year's budget.

Spring Snow

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A spring storm dumped nearly an inch of snow in the Truckee Meadows early today, with over two feet reported at Sierra Nevada locations.

Larkspur Townhouse Report Is Attacked

An environmental impact report on a 30-unit townhouse project in Larkspur was criticized last night during a public hearing before the city planning commission as failing to recognize serious effects of the development.

John E. Roberto, city planning director, said about seven persons criticized the report for labeling such things as additional traffic and noise as "slight impacts."

Roberto said the speakers felt that additional noise and traffic created by the estimated 80 persons who would live in the townhouses should be considered significant impacts.

The report prepared by Environmental Science Associates said the only significant impacts of Skylark Phase Three would be loss of view and open space.

Roberto said the report was also criticized for not fully analyzing grading which would be required and not including comment on possible invasion of privacy because the proposed site overlooks several residences along Magnolia Avenue.

The commission closed the public hearing on the report but delayed action on accepting it until May 14 when commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Purse Snatched In Parking Lot

Two men snatched a purse from a 71-year-old San Rafael woman yesterday in the parking lot of Mayfair market at Third and Union streets, San Rafael police reported.

Alberta Claire Dodds, of 15 Jewel Street, San Rafael, told police that she had just parked her car and started walking toward the market when the men grabbed her purse and ran toward Mary Street.

She was so shocked by the incident that she could not give any description of the men, according to police. She had $25 in cash in the purse which she valued at $10, police reported.

Explosion Cause

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fire officials say a gas leak caused the explosion in a midtown Manhattan office building near the United Nations Plaza that injured nearly 100 persons two days ago.

'Extended Learning' Proposals Are Hit

Anthony G. Bacich School teachers last night took exception to two recommendations by a citizens advisory committee on the Kentfield School District's "extended learning" program.

Presently, students at Bacich make their own class schedule for four afternoons per week and Greenbrae School students do the same one day per week.

Teachers told district trustees they oppose recommendations to limit self-schedulinng to students in upper grades and cutting funds for coordination of the program, according to Supt. Eugene C. Peters.

The citizens committee said about $6,000 could be saved by hiring a nonteaching person to run the program. Various teachers now participate in coordinating it and $12,000 was budgeted for coordination.)

But teachers said that even if a nonteaching person is hired, it will cost about $14,000 next year for coordination at both schools.

Peters said the board postponed any decision on either of the groups' recommendations until after a preliminary budget is prepared early next month.

Trustees also authorized Peters to seek applications for principal of Adaline E. Kent Elementary School. The principal's duties were handled by other district administrators during this school year, Peters said.

Boston Busing Bill Veto Stands

BOSTON (UPI) — A bill calling for voters in Boston to decide whether to allow school busing for desegregation died in the Massachusetts Senate Monday.

Gov. Francis Sargent vetoed the bill, and the state senate voted 20-15 in favor of overriding the veto yesterday, four votes short of the two thirds required to override.

The action came after about 30 minutes of debate during which senators from Boston argued that the people of the city have a right to vote on the busing issue.

Petaluman Is Killed In Collision

A 40-year-old Petaluma man was killed yesterday when his small foreign car was struck by a pickup truck.

The California Highway Patrol said Charles Curtis Carter of 1283 Beechwood Drive died shortly after the 6 p.m. crash. The accident occurred on Highway 121 between Sonoma and Napa at the road's intersection with Burndale Road.

Officers said Carter's vehicle was hit by the truck driven by Howard Eugene Stambaugh, 39, of Sonoma.

Carter was westbound on the highway and Stambaugh was northbound on Burndale, according to the highway patrol.

Officers said Stambaugh stopped at the intersection, then started across the highway. He apparently did not see Carter's oncoming car and struck it broadside, the highway patrol reported.

Kissinger Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will leave Sunday on another mission to the Middle East to try arrange disengagement of Syrian and Israeli military forces on the Golan Heights.

CAMPAIGNS '74

A Riles Reception Set Saturday In Belvedere

A cocktail reception for Wilson Riles, candidate for reelection as state superintendent of public schools, will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Mervin D. Field, 45 Bay View Avenue.

Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Roger B. Falge of Mill Valley. Marin chairman of Riles's campaign is Frances Compton of Kentfield.

MEYER — Coffees for Peter C. Meyer of San Rafael, candidate for Marin County clerk, will be held: 4 p.m. Sunday at the Larkspur home of Virginia Brennan, 16 Skylark No. 8; 8 p.m. Sunday at the San Rafael home of Peter Palches, 45 Graceland Drive, and 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Mill Valley home of Mrs. D. C. Fowler, 11 Cornelia Avenue.

CAYLOR — A coffee for Thomas O. Caylor of San Francisco, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Fifth Congressional District, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Greenbrae home of Bruce A. Koppe, 54 Paseo Way.

ALIOTO — San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and his wife, Angelina, will appear at a fund-raising champagne buffet at 4 p.m. Sunday at Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley. Tickets are being handled by Alioto's Marin campaign headquarters, 135 Third Street, San Rafael.

GRANT — Robert Lee Grant of Tiburon, candidate for Marin Municipal Water District's Division 5 seat, has charged that the county's environment is being damaged by inadequate treatment of wastewater. "The discharge of wastewater, which is being treated below water quality standards, must be improved before the volume of water coming into the MMWD is increased," he said.

BURTON — A fund-raising "Fun Forties" party for Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, candidate for his party's nomination in the Fifth Congressional District, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the Boathouse restaurant, Sausalito. The event will feature a dance revue, jitterbug floor show and tap dancing.

NEUER — Paul Neuer of Santa Rosa, candidate for Sonoma County sheriff, has named Betty Johansen of Santa Rosa as chairman of his campaign and Jan Thibodeau of Sebastopol as finance chairman.

FELSON — Jack R. Felson of Forest Knolls, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Ninth Assembly District, has urged Marin and Sonoma citizens to celebrate "United Farmworkers Week" starting Tuesday.

A fundraising vaudeville show for Felson will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the San Rafael High School auditorium, and a garage and rummage sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 4 at 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

BROCKBANK — A fund-raising spaghetti dinner for Elaine Brockbank of Kentfield, candidate for Tamalpais High School District trustee, will be held at 7 p.m. Friday at Robson House, 237 Crescent Drive, San Anselmo. Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Fred Hafer of Corte Madera.

REEVES — Alan F. Reeves of San Francisco, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Fifth Congressional District, has declared that "environmental considerations should take precedence over others. A gasoline shortage can be corrected in time, but a wilderness shortage is a loss for all times." Reeves said the damage done "by unplanned headlong population and industrial growth" would be corrected instead of tampering further with "the ecological foundations of our society."

Work Along Creeks Will Be Studied

Summer work programs along creeks will be discussed by the Novato Flood Control Zone Advisory board at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

Silt and vegetation removal is scheduled along Novato and Warner creeks and Arroyo Avichi in the frequently flooded Nave Gardens area.

Former Governor's Wife Is Candidate

DOVER, N.J. (UPI) — Helen Meyner, wife of former Gov. Robert B. Meyner, has announced she will run for the U.S. House this year, saying "new leadership is needed in Washington."

Mrs. Meyner announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination in the 13th Congressional District at a news conference yesterday.

A SPECIAL DINNER

Two Won Ton Fillings Offered; How To Wrap

Indonesian foods and dancing will be featured at the nine-course Indonesian rice table dinner to be held Saturday by the Marin Auxiliary of Florence Crittenton Services. The party, catered by Glenn Klavert of Fairfax, a native of Indonesia, will be held at the Shelter Ridge club house in Mill Valley.

Mmesa. Jeane Fleischman and Charles Best are chairman for the 6:30 p.m. event, and are preparing recipes for the meal.

PORK WON TON FILLING

2 lbs. ground pork
1½ cups chopped scallions lightly stir fried together until it loses its pinkness
1 8½ oz. can chopped bamboo shoots (1 cup)
1 6 oz. can chopped water chestnuts (1 cup)
2 cups chopped mushrooms
2 tbsp. MSG
2 tbsp. mirin or sherry
2 tbsp. sesame oil
6 tbsp. soy sauce
4 or 5 packages of won ton skins

Mix ingredients and let stand 30 minutes. Makes 350 or more.

SHRIMP AND CREAM CHEESE WON TON FILLING

3 cups shrimp or crab
11 oz. cream cheese
1 tsp. sesame oil
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. mirin or sherry
½ tsp. white pepper
1 tbsp. soy sauce (light not highly salted)

Mix ingredients and let stand 15 minutes. Makes 100 or more. Fry to golden brown in peanut oil, 2-3 packages won ton skins.

FOLDING THE WON TON

1. Hold the won ton skin in the palm of your left hand with the lower corner pointing toward you.
2. Place about one-half to one teaspoon of filling slightly below the center of the skin.
3. Moisten the two adjacent edges of the skin with beaten egg or other sealing agent. Fold won ton skin diagonally in half to form a triangle.
4. Press the edges to seal, while at the same time gently pressing out any air pockets around the filling.
5. Brush a bit of the sealing agent on the front of the triangle's right corner and on the underside or back of the left corner.
6. With a twisting action, bring the two moistened surfaces together and pinch to seal.

COOKING

To deep fry:

1. Heat peanut oil for deep frying to 375 degrees. Add the won tons a few at a time.
2. Reduce heat to medium and deep fry until golden on each side. Remove with a slotted spoon; drain on paper toweling.

To pan fry:

1. Boil the won tons. Then rinse and dry.
2. Heat two tablespoons peanut oil.
3. Add the won tons several at a time and brown on both sides.

Serve with plum sauce, Chinese mustard, soy sauce or sweet and sour sauce.

Deep-fried won ton may be completely prepared in advance, then cooled, wrapped in foil and frozen. They can be reheated without preliminary thawing either by placing them in a slow oven or immersing them briefly in hot oil. Leftover deep-fried won ton can be treated in the same way.

Family Size Recipe For Beef Rolls

Gretel Franzen, a member, and her husband, Bert, who are natives of Heilbronn, Germany, have arranged a German adendessen (supper) featuring rinds rouladen, a family dish adapted by Mrs. Franzen for the large group.

The former manager of a restaurant in Heilbronn, she shares the family size recipe here:

RINDS ROULADEN
(Beef rolls)

2 pounds top round beef, thinly sliced, or one flank steak sliced thinly
4 slices bacon, diced
3 dill pickles, sliced lengthwise
1 teaspoon mustard
pinch marjoram
2 to 3 tbsp. flour
2 tbsp. fat
2 cups beef broth
1 bay leaf
1 garlic clove, mashed
1 tbsp. parsley, diced
salt and pepper to taste

Cut meat into four to six rectangular shapes, pound with mallet until thin to break tissues. Place bacon, pickle, and mustard over each. Sprinkle with marjoram. Roll up. Dredge the outside of each roll with a bit of flour. Secure rolls with toothpicks. Saute in hot fat, brown on all sides. Transfer to casserole. Add rest of flour and pan drippings.

Cook a few seconds, add broth and spices. Simmer until thick. Pour over meat, placed in casserole. Cover, simmer one and one-half hours or until tender. Excellent when cooked ahead, and reheated in own gravy. Serves four to six persons.

Salad Acapulco

Mash ripe avocado; mix with lemon juice, chopped anchovy, onion, parsley, and seasoned salt and pepper to taste. Spoon mixture over wedges of crisp western iceberg lettuce. Garnish with tomato wedges.

NATURAL GARDEN soup contains four vegetables. It is topped with whipped cream and Danish blue cheese; then delicately browned under the broiler. Your food blender does most of the work in the preparation of this naturally delicious and nutritious soup.

Blender Plays Major Factor In This Soup

As a first course, soup gets a luncheon or dinner under way in grand style, plus it makes even a simple meal something special.

The electric blender is indispensable when it comes to preparing natural vetetable soups. This Danish soup recipe is adopted to a speedy blender method.

Whenever possible the Danes dress their soups with a fluff or two of whipped cream, then sprinkle on their Danablu cheese, their name for Danish blue. The soup is then broiled until the cream is a golden brown and the cheese is melted.

NATURAL GARDEN SOUP

3 green onions, cut into thirds with a little of top left on 3 whole medium-large mushrooms, cut into thirds
3 large stalks celery, cut up
1 tbsp. salt
1 tbsp. sugar
½ tsp. marjoram
2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 tbsp. butter
½ to ⅔ cup whipping cream, whipped
½ cup blue cheese, crumbled

In a five cup (40-ounce) size blender container add tomatoes, vegetables, and seasonings. Turn blender to second speed (puree position on some models) and blend three to four seconds or until vegetables are in fine pieces.

In a three-quart size saucepan dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. Add puree of vegetables, mixing well and bring to a boil on high heat. Add butter. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes for flavors to blend.

Have six to eight, depending upon size, over-proof soup dishes warmed and placed on a shallow pan for easy handling. Serve soup in each. Top each soup service with a heaping spoonful of whipped cream.

Quickly divide blue cheese crumbs on top of each serving. Slip soups under a preheated broiler until cream browns to a golden color and cheese melts. Serve immediately. Makes seven cups soup or six to eight servings.

Various Starches And Shapes Can Be Used In Dumpling Dish

Dumplings may be made of many different starches — wheat flour, potatoes, stale bread, crackers or any cereal grain. Dumplings may also take many shapes —round, triangular, square or even in pinwheel swirls.

Translating the old-fashioned idea of chicken and dumplings into a new-fashioned chicken-in-dumplings, also results in a dinner that is elegant, filling, and amazingly quick to prepare. By cooking the chicken a day ahead, the mixing, rolling, cutting and cooking can be completed in, roughly, half an hour.

Although the recipe as developed calls for the plump, tender legs and thighs, any part your family prefers may be used.

Serve chicken in dumplings with a simple salad, and a dessert of fresh strawberries with plenty of sour cream and brown sugar for dipping.

NEW-FASHIONED CHICKEN DUMPLINGS

2 pounds chicken legs and thighs
1 medium-size onion, quartered
2 (6-inch) stalks celery
1 (10¾ oz.) can condensed chicken broth
1 can water
1¾ tsp. salt
4 tbsps. melted butter
2 tbsps. chopped parsley
½ tsp. onion salt
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2½ tsps. baking powder
1 egg, beaten
6 Tbsps. milk
*Chicken gravy

Place chicken in kettle with onion, celery, broth, water and 1 teaspoon salt and heat to boiling. Cover, turn heat low, and simmer 30 minutes, until chicken is tender. Cool sufficiently to handle. Remove skin and bones from chicken, and dice meat. Strain stock, and skim off any excess fat from surface. Combine diced chicken, two tablespoons butter, parsley and onion salt; mix well. Resift flour with baking powder and remaining three-quarter teaspoon salt. Combine egg, milk and remaining two tablespoons butter. Stir into flour mixture to make a soft dough. Turn out onto floured board, and roll to a rectangle 8 x 10 inches. Spread chicken mixture over dough, and roll up from short side as for jelly roll. Heat one cup of the chicken stock to boiling in a nine or 10-inch skillet with a cover. Using kitchen shears, or thin bladed sharp knife, cut the dumpling roll into six slices, and place cut-side down in simmering stock. Cover skillet, turn heat low and cook 20 minutes without removing cover. Meanwhile, prepare chicken gravy. Serve dumplings with gravy. Makes six servings.

Chicken gravy — Melt three tablespoons butter in small saucepan, and stir in 3½ tablespoons flour. Add remaining chicken stock (should be 1½ cups). Cook, stirring until gravy boils and thickens. Stir in four or five drops bottled gravy coloring and two teaspoons chopped parsley. Makes about 1½ cups gravy.

Note — Vegetables from the stock may be pureed in blender, or through a wire strainer, and added to gravy if desired. This will increase the amount to 1¾ cups and gravy will be slightly thicker.

Mushroom Dishes Can Be Elegant

Mushroom dishes can be quite elegant — flavorful enough for the family or guests who may or may not be dieting. They include mushroom and chicken Polynesian and braised steak with mushrooms and peppers. Either dish may be served with rice, mashed potatoes or noodles — a very small serving for the dieter who is in earnest.

MUSHROOM AND CHICKEN POLYNESIAN

- ½ cup domestic soy sauce
- 2 Tbsps. white vinegar
- 1 Tbsp. dry sherry
- ¼ cup chopped scallions
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 tsp. ground ginger
- ⅛ tsp. ground white pepper
- 3 chicken breasts, split, skinned and boned
- 1 pound fresh mushrooms or two cans (six to eight oz. each) whole mushrooms
- 1 large green pepper, cut into chunks

In a medium bowl combine soy sauce, vinegar, sherry, scallions, garlic, ginger and white pepper; mix well. Cut chicken breasts into 1½-inch pieces; add to soy mixture; toss well to coat all sides. Cover and refrigerate for one hour. Rinse, pat dry and halve fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms. Add to chicken mixture; toss well to coat. Alternately arrange on six skewers chicken, mushrooms and green pepper. Brush with soy mixture. Arrange skewers on broiler rack. Place under preheated extremely hot broiler (500 degrees); broil until cooked, turning and brushing frequently with soy mixture, about 10 minutes. If desired, serve with steamed rice.

BRAISED STEAK WITH MUSHROOMS AND PEPPERS

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms
- 1 Tbsp. salad oil
- 2 pound boneless chuck or shoulder steak
- 1 can (12 oz.) cocktail vegetable juice
- ½ cup sliced onion
- 2 tsps. salt
- ¼ tsp. ground black pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 cups green peppers cut into 2-inch chunks
- 1 Tbsp. cornstarch
- 1 Tbsp. cold water
- ¼ cup chopped parsley

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms; set aside. In a large skillet heat oil. Add steak brown on both sides. Add juice, onion, salt, black pepper and bay leaf. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until almost tender, about one hour. Add reserved mushrooms and green peppers. Return to boiling point. Reduce heat; cover and simmer until meat and vegetables are fork-tender, about 10 minutes. Mix cornstarch with water. Blend into skillet; cook and stir until thickened; stir in parsley. Discard bay leaf. Slice steak and serve with vegetable gravy.

Serves six.

Resist Temptation Of Overbuying

Resist the temptation to overbuy if you want to save money. Even canned foods lose flavor and texture in time.

Fresh vegetables and fruit are perishable and spoiled food wastes money.

Food Budget Corner-Cutter

The high cost of food is bringing ingenuity to the kitchen forefront. Entertaining is almost prohibitive unless you use some of the less expensive types of meat.

A barbecued one-dish meal is an especially flavorful, low-cost dish. Use smoked sausage (or the regular kind if you can't get smoked), rice and green beans as the main ingredients. Then season with liquid smoke, catsup, and mustard plus a touch of brown sugar.

One thing to watch when cutting corners on the budget: make sure that nothing is cut from the nutritional value. The combination of sausage and rice makes a dish of good-quality protein without anyone realizing that you are serving less sausage.

BARBECUED ONE-DISH MEAL

- 1 pound smoked link sausage
- 1 can (16 oz.) cut green beans
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 1 Tbsp. bacon drippings or vegetable oil
- ¾ cup catsup
- 2 Tbsps. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 1½ tsps. liquid smoke
- 2 bouillon cubes
- 3 cups cooked rice

Cover and cook sausage in one-half cup water about 5 minutes. Remove from water and cut in one-inch pieces. Drain beans, reserving liquid. Saute onions in bacon drippings. Add one-half cup bean liquid and remaining ingredients except rice. Simmer 10 minutes. Stir in rice. Season to taste. Cover and continue simmering 20 minutes. Makes six servings.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT GROUND BEEF

TYPE	FAT CONTENT OBJECTIVE
Ground Beef	Approx. 25%
Extra Lean Ground Beef	Approx. 16%

Even with the most modern equipment and technology now available it is not possible to guarantee that every package will be at the fat content objective. Despite our best efforts, variances of up to five percentage points may well occur.

Our objective is that a pound of Ground Beef contain approximately 12.0 ounces of lean meat, and that a pound of Extra Lean Ground Beef contain approximately 13.4 ounces of lean meat. Tastes differ respecting the desired degree of leanness, and taste may well determine which type you select. The cost-concious shopper should remember that the cost per ounce of lean meat is lower in Ground Beef than in Extra Lean Ground Beef.

Lucky ground beef -- like all meat at Lucky -- carries Lucky's Bond. Lucky Bonded means guaranteed customer satisfaction. If you are not fully satisfied, we will refund your money promptly.

ANNUAL SALAD BOWL

A Centennial Theme Is Chosen

SAN RAFAEL'S centennial inspires the women of St. Anne's Service League of 106-year-old St. Paul's Episcopal Church to gather heirlooms from their families for their centennial luncheon and fashion show. Here they try on heirlooms at an ingathering of the objects to decide who will wear what for the Tuesday event. Mrs. James E. Whitney (left) wears a hat lent from her family by Mrs. Geneva Morris, a scarf lent by Mrs. O. Neal Madson, a cameo of her own great grandmother's, and carries an old doll and a lorgnette from Mrs. Frank L. Adamson's family. Others (from left) Jean McNear Powers and her mother Mrs. Jane McNear Powers, Mrs. Alan Hill and Mrs. H. Reed Volin admire an antique umbrella hand-embroidered by Mrs. John Augustus McNear. Mrs. Volin wears a Paris gown lent by Mrs. Adamson.

In celebration of San Rafael's centennial, St. Anne's Service League of St. Paul's Episcopal Church members have gathered up antique gowns and accessories and are trimming hats in the 1870s style for their salad bowl luncheon and fashion show.

The show, "Centennial Spring, will be held at the Magnolia Terrace of the Elks Club in San Rafael Tuesday, beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Many of the guests are preparing to dress in the centennial and turn-of-the-century periods, with the help of Mary Lou Jacobson, chairman of the San Rafael Centennial Fashion Committee.

Among the antique clothes to be worn at the luncheon and show will be a Parisian lace gown with a gold lorgnette from the family of Mrs. Frank L. Adamson. The Williams and Little families of Hartford, Conn., went to Paris every year, Mrs. Adamson said, and brought back many stylish clothes. A maternity gown and christening gowns are among the heirlooms lent by Mrs. Adamson.

Mrs. Jane McNear Powers of San Rafael has lent the three parasols which were hand-embroidered by her great grandmother, Mrs. John Augustus McNear. They will be carried by the costumed women for the afternoon.

Mrs. A. Alan Hill has contributed and will wear dresses which belonged to her great grandmother, Pansy Brewster Teague, a pioneer California settler.

Finale of the fashion show, which will be presented by Modern Eve of San Rafael, will be a wedding gown and veil which belong to Mrs. Katherine Rockwell Crosby of Woodside, now 94, who wore it for her wedding in 1911 to Francis H. Crosby. Mrs. Donald Sandy will model the gown.

Mrs. O. Neal Madson is contributing a scarf from her family, and others lending clothing are Mmes. Geneva Morris, A. G. Cunningham, Alberta Dodds and Hugh F. Hardin, all of San Rafael.

Members of the league who will wear heirloom gowns are Mmes. H. Reed Volin, Donald Sandy, Theodore A. Martin, A. Alan Hill, Paul N. Erickson, John H. DeWitt and James E. Whitney.

Service League members, who will be waitresses, will wear long white and pink aprons over long skirts and ribbons in their hair to carry out the period theme. They are Mmes. Joe Balloun, Paul N. Erickson, Bayard B. Herrick, Robert S. Griswold, Don Johnson, Winnie Lantrip, Kenneth Laird, A. H. Meyer Jr., Jane McNear Powers, Andrew P. Ragnes, Wendy Ranney, Carrie Riggs, Jurgen Schmidt-Petersen and Sally C. Wilmington.

The Mannequin League of Marin will model the styles of today.

Mrs. George D. Riggs is chairman of the event, and Mmes. Theodore Martin and Florence Langbein are reservations chairmen. Other committee chairmen are Mmes. Anne Connelly, Ward Johnson, Jane Hastings, Brian Wittenkeller, Alan Atkins, Walter Smith and Philip Olmsted.

Shuttle service from St. Paul's Church to the Elks Club will be provided.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

California's Junior Miss Is Ready

By MOLLY MARIN

Sharon Fox of San Rafael, California's Junior Miss, is leaving tomorrow for the America's Junior Miss Pageant activites in Mobile, Ala.

She will be among the 50 state Junior Miss winners competing for the national title and more than $50,000 in college scholarships and other awards.

Preliminary activities, prior to the selection of the winner on May 6, will include tours of Mobile, judging in four categories — youth fitness, poise and appearance, scholastic achievement and creative and performing arts — and participation in contests presented by the pageant's four national sponsors.

Sharon's mother, Joan Fox, will join her in Mobile the second week and participate in the activities planned for the contestants parents, banquets and sightseeing tours.

The finale and crowning of America's Junior Miss will be televised May 6 at 9 p.m. on KPIX.

SUSAN FORD, the 16-year-old daughter of Vice President and Mrs. Gerald R. Ford, is exhibiting a needlework pillow at the Stitchery Faire. The fair, sponsored by the Planned Parenthood Auxiliary of Marin, will be held May 3, 4 and 5 at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

She was invited to exhibit by auxiliary member Susann Bowman of Ross, who read about the teen-ager's interest in stitchery in Time magazine.

The pillow design is a likeness of her Siamese cats.

MEMBERS OF the Paradise Harbor Yacht Club will return to the club to share a barbecue and talk over the events of opening day on the Bay Sunday afternoon.

Arrangements for the barbecue are being made by the Kenneth Pipers and Michael FitzGeralds, social committee members.

Commodore and Mrs. Ralph Neelands will have a group of friends aboard the club flagship, the Triton, D.M. O. Eruku, for the sail across to the San Francisco water front. Other Paradise Harbor yachts participating will be the Quadri, owned by Vice Commodore and Mrs. George Giandrea, and the Touche, sailed by Dr. and Mrs. Burt Richardson. The Islander, a 48 foot off-rigged yawl launched about 1903, will add a colorful note to the club flotilla. The Islander belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith.

Mrs. Paul's presents 7 mealtime suggestions for 7 days.

(Try two this week.)

2. Light dinners can be great dinners. Tuesday, try fish fillets with a tossed salad and see what we mean.

3. Wednesday's a good day to eat hearty. So try some eggplant parmesan with your fish fillets and don't be afraid to ask for seconds!

4. Thursday, invite a Reuben to lunch—fish fillet, melted cheese, sauerkraut and a dab of Russian dressing.

5. Two fried eggs on top of two fish fillets make one Schnitzel. Nice to come home to.

6. Saturday, go continental. It's easy—make your fish fillets with green beans Almondine.

7. Pasta on Sunday. Top your fish fillets with melted cheese and tomato sauce and serve some spaghetti on the side. Thattsa nice!

MRS. PAUL'S ENERGY SAVERS:
A good rule of thumb in saving energy is if you have a portable oven or similar appliance, make your fish fillets in it. These appliances use a lot less energy than a full-sized oven and the fish fillets taste just as good.

ON THE AGENDA

Benefit Art Show And Sale To Be In San Francisco Gallery

MILES ANDERSON
Trombone soloist

"Art for ORT's Sake," an exhibit and sale of fine arts, will be held Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the John Bolles Gallery, 10 Gold Street in San Francisco. Sponsors are members of the San Francisco-Marin Region, Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training.

Chairmen are Mmes. B. W. Kirschenbaum and David Lockshin, both of San Francisco.

Among the artists whose works will be for sale are Alberto Giacommetti, Picasso, Gongora, Vuillard, Bonnard and Israeli artist Johanon Shimon. Bay artists included in the show are Franz Bergman, J. Lloyd Conrich, Henry Dietrich, Barbara Rees and June Lederman.

African sculpture, silver, jewelry and other objects of art will also be on exhibit and for sale.

Proceeds will benefit the ORT School of Engineering at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

Prior to the event a preview party for donors will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the gallery.

SAN RAFAEL High School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor the Ross Valley Players production of "The Paisley Convertible" Friday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the play at the Barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

P-TA members will sell champagne at the intermission, and all proceeds will go toward the school scholarship fund and ground beautification.

Ticket chairmen are Mmes. Michael Dooling and Nevin George.

THE THIRD annual "Concert in the Redwoods," sponsored by the Old Mill School Parent-Teacher Association will be given at 1 p.m. Sunday in the garden of the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 277 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley.

Artists who will perform are Miles Anderson, trombonist, recording star and former first trombonist with the San Francisco Symphony; Larry Posner,

Marin Women

Anna Tisciuzzi Will Wed Anthony Amoruso

ANNA TRISCIUZZI
August vows set

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Trisciuzzi of Novato have announced the engagement of their daughter Anna Theresa Trisciuzzi to Anthony C. Amoruso of Rohnert Park.

The couple have set an Aug. 24 wedding at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

Terry, as the bride-elect is known, is the sister of Sante Trisciuzzi of Rohnert Park and Carolyn and Angelo Trisciuzzi of Novato.

She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed by Carrow, Jones, Applen and Forst law firm in Novato.

Anthony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Amoruso of Mamaroneck, N.Y., and the brother of John, Frank, Carla, Michael and Thomas Amoruso.

San Geronimo Golf Tourney For Women To Be Tuesday

The annual San Geronimo Women's Golf Club invitational tournament is scheduled Tuesday at the San Geronimo National Golf Club.

The theme is "Poor Boy" because of the energy problem and the tournament has been cut to a single day this year because of gasoline shortages for motorist-players.

The tournament will begin at 8:30 p.m. A luncheon will be held after the morning play.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

When She's With Repairman Husband Is Insanely Jealous

DEAR HELEN:

My husband cant stand the idea of repairmen being alone with me in the house. I cant leave when I need work done, because company rules say someone must be on the premises when men are at work.

The painter left his overalls in the basement the other day and I thought my husband would have a stroke. Hes wildly jealous. Naturally its flattering to think he believes me so irresistible (Im not!), but its also a terrible nuisance.

How do you handle a man who thinks that every repairman who comes to the house is going to throw me to the floor? — COMPLETELY FAITHFUL

DEAR C.F.:

Tell your husband to take his choice: either learn trust, or learn the repair trade. A few weekends spent in painting and rebuilding should dampen his jealousy. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My widowed sister is just 50, but she has a face that is unusually wrinkled for her age. She was very beautiful when younger, her features are perfect, and I know that a face lift would take at least ten years off. She might even find herself a second husband, which I think shed like very much.

She is scared of plastic surgery, and a little embarrassed at the thought too. She is starting to think of herself as a wrinkled hag when she could be a stunning woman.

It isnt a question of time — or money — just nerve and encouragement. Could you give her some of both? — SIS

DEAR SIS:

Plastic surgery seldom goes wrong, if the skin and the body are healthy. Of course there are no guarantees — all major surgery carries some risk, but usually a face-lift requires no more than a two-day stay at the hospital, less than a month of semi-seclusion while the stitches heal, and it is virtually painless, except to the bank account.

Cost? Upwards of $2,000 usually. And this is not covered by medical insurance, if the operation is for cosmetic enhancement only. However, a trip to Europe is nearly as expensive, and it lasts only two or three weeks, while a face lift "lasts at least five years, often longer. That is, at 55, you sister may look as she did before her surgery performed at age 50, but with luck and proper skin care, she may still have a fairly youthful face at 60. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I have been married 11 years, and in all that time he has never once pinched, hugged or patted me, or given me a passionate kiss. Our love life consists of five-minutes of sex relations a couple of times a month.

He doesnt know how to express affection. When he tries, it is obviously a conscious effort which is worse than nothing at all.

Dont misunderstand: hes a wonderful man, kind, considerate, helpful with the housework and children, since we both work full time. But his lack of affection makes me feel about as desirable as an old Army boot.

Ive tried everything. I stay slim (size 9 dress), keep myself up, and people say Im very attractive. Also keep a well-decorated, clean house, and the children are good kids. But. . .

DEAR DES:

Yes, a man can change, if he wants to, but hell need lots of help not only from a therapist, but from an understanding wife who doesnt let on that shes aware he is "making a conscious effort — and who leads the way with a lot of demonstrated love: Give him those pats and hugs and pinches until he learns to reciprocate. — H.

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

PARENT AND CHILD

Plenty Of Jobs For The Summer

By CYNTHIA PARSONS

This column is addressed to teen-agers:

If you've already got a job lined up for this summer, then you dont need to read further. Just give this column to a friend who doesnt.

You may read or hear that there are more youths than jobs for this summer, dont believe what you hear or read. True, the obvious, more traditional jobs may already be filled, but there are still jobs to be done and people willing to pay you to do them.

First off, domestic work. That word "domestic refers to jobs within a home. Cleaning, scrubbing, child care. There are a great many adults — many single people or childless couples — who have domestic chores they would willingly pay a teen-ager to do.

And you dont need to go just to the single-family dwellings. If you've got an apartment complex near you, you may be very pleasantly surprised at what good pay you can get for cleaning a few windows, scrubbing a few floors, lifting heavy boxes, etc., between upper floors and storage basements.

IF YOU REALLY dont like doing domestic work, perhaps you wouldnt mind doing it with a friend. Team up with one or two others. Two girls, for example, might get a strong, tall boy to be part of their team. The three of you offer to do "heavy cleaning in a house or apartment and promise to be quick about it. You could get a once-a-week job at 10 places and, doing two a morning, have afternoons and evenings free with some pocket change as well.

If you would prefer outside work, then why not form a paint-and-trim group. Again, get together with one or two others, pool ladders and equipment, and offer to do neglected paint jobs.

Lawn and driveway care is another area for which many house owners would be glad to pay if and only if they were assured you would do a thorough and neat job. Again, you may want to form a team. You may have the one who isnt patient and careful do the main mowing, while another willing to squat and stoop can trim edges with clippers.

Suppose, though, that you really want to learn something about a profession you are considering and for which you are studying in high school or college. You dont want to scrub floors, paint eaves or trim lawns.

Instead, you really are hoping to become a sales person. You like cars, you like working with people, and you think youd like to one day have your own dealership. But you know that you've got to start at the "bottom. And now this summer you want to find out just what its like to sell cars or insurance or municipal bonds or fine china or typewriters or hardware.

GO TO A car dealer and tell him what it is you want to do and ask if you cant work with a sales person who would be willing to share some of his earnings. You might get one of the top sales persons, after he or she has made the sales quota for the day, to help you with the next customer who walks in and, if theres a sale, be willing to share the return on that particular sale with you.

The same holds for the one who wants to sell insurance or bonds or fine china, etc. Offer to work on speculation — to earn if, and only if, a sale is made and everyone feels that your salesmanship contributed substantially to it.

In this way, the owner doesnt have to put you on an already too large payroll. You learn what it takes to be a car dealer — at least you get a taste of what its like. And you may earn a little money in the process. If you're seriously headed for a sales career, this type of summer job may be better than the steady cash you might receive from the same firm by washing cars or changing tires in the shop.

We all have had to learn at one time or another how to do "chores. How to do them well. How to do them so that others can rely on having them done intelligently and on time.

Childbirth Unit Schedules Films

The annual spring film festival of the Education for Childbirth Association will be held May 3 at the Little Theater of Redwood High School in Larkspur.

The two films to be shown are "All My Babies, a film about a public health nurse-midwife, and "Rock-a-Bye Baby, a new film about early childhood development.

The films will be shown at 8 p.m., followed by a question period conducted by Dr. N. Edward Boyce, Mill Valley obstetrician.

Nostalgia Is Showing Up In Boys' Clothing

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — A flood of nostalgia for the 1920s and 1930s has engulfed the men's clothing industry, a lot of it based on a flood of movies of that era. The same nostalgia is pervading boy's clothing and predictions are the movie "Mame" will have a major impact on styles for young boys.

It is the year 1928 when Herbert Hoover has just trounced Al Smith and there is no hint of the stockmarket crash to come. Patrick Dennis, 10, has just arrived in New York to live with his Auntie Mame (Lucille Ball) and Patrick is dressed to the nines.

Patrick, played by Kirby Furlong, is resplendent in a three-button gray flannel jacket with knickers and worn with argyle hose and a knitted tie with a Windsor knot and sturdy bluchter oxfords. He also is resplendent in his other costumes of that era, including a double-breasted navy suit with short pants and with matching cap.

Marc Wallach, vice president in charge of merchandising for Donmoor, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of boy's clothes, was almost ecstatic over the look. "This nostalgia is definitely an influence and it is continuing," he said. "This offers a dressed up look to counteract jeans, jeans, jeans . . ."

Kids probably would fight and scream if they were forced to wear knickers these days instead of their beloved long pants — even Patrick got his first pair in the move. But already they are wearing such things as highbuttoned cardigans and Art Deco sleeveless sweaters as shown in the film.

Ungraded School Sets Open House

The Learning Exchange, a nonprofit ungraded individualized school for children from 3 to 7 years old, will have a public open house from 8 to 10 p.m. Monday at the school in Campbell Hall, the parish hall of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

Educational materials and examples of the children's work will be on display, and the school's methods of teaching music, reading and writing, human development, mathematics and science, creative dance, drama, the arts, cooking, social studies and establishment of individual learning goals will be discussed by the staff and the parents of the Learning Exchange.

Broiled Lamb Loin Chops
(makes 2 to 4 servings)

½ cup melted butter
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon ginger
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
4 lamb loin chops, about an inch thick

Combine butter, nutmeg, ginger and orange rind; mix well. Brush lamb chops with butter mixture. Broil 3 to 4 inches from the source of heat, brushing now and then with the mixture, 5 to 7 minutes to a side or until lamb is as done as you like it.

'Go Slow' Attitude On Unification

The Petaluma Board of Education, concerned that its position on the future of Rohnert Park Junior High and Rancho Cotate High Schools might be misinterpreted, last night reiterated its call for a "go slow" approach to unification.

The two schools are now part of the Petaluma district, although there has been a growing clamor among Cotati and Rohnert Park residents to make them part of the Cotati-Rohnert Park School District, which now includes only elementary schools.

The Petaluma board has stated that it would approve unification provided that it was planned well enough to avoid hardships to the district.

At issue during last night's session at Rancho Cotate was the status of students from outlying areas such as Liberty and Penngrove who now attend the two secondary schools.

Board members Mary Shearer and Dr. Wesley W. Ebert said that if unification took place prematurely students from outside Petaluma could wind up in Petaluma's schools where there isn't room for them.

Ebert claimed that early unification could also cause problems for the Cotati-Rohnert Park district by forcing it to use Rancho Cotate High School even though it hasn't enough students to fill it.

Supt Lesly H. Meyer reminded the board that the Sonoma County School District Reorganization Committee has agreed to determine how to accomplish unification without causing excessive problems for Petaluma, and that consequently the matter will probably be resolved.

Ebert said that although he supports unification, "I don't think any of us anticipated the dissent we're getting from the (Cotati and Rohnert Park community.

"I don't think," he said, "that it's been made clear to the people of Cotati and Rohnert Park that, as far as we're concerned, the whole thing is contingent on the fact that all the students presently in the school must be housed."

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

NEGOTIATIONS — Met in closed session to give instructions to Meyer, the board's representative in current salary negotiations with district teachers.

INSURANCE — Amended the district health insurance policy to allow retired teachers to participate in district group health plans up to the age of 65 by contributing the usual premiums.

APPOINTMENTS — Appointed Brenda Shilling, Harry Anderson and Grace Peary to the Penngrove Citizens Advisory Committee.

SPEECH — Heard a report on the district's high school speech competition program, including a request for about $1,200 next year for travel to debate and rhetorical contests.

POOL — Tentatively agreed to cover the leaking Petaluma High School pool, at an estimated cost of $6,500, so other physical education activities can take place above it. Repairing the leaks would cost an estimated $54,000, and Meyer said the pool is a low-priority budget item since other schools don't even have one.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 7 p.m. May 14, when the board will meet at the district administration building in Petaluma.

Art Commission's Concerts Planned

The first in a spring series of chamber music concerts sponsored by the Mill Valley Art Commission will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

Works by Haydn, LeClair, Davidovsky, Telemann and Bach will be featured. Series director is flutist David Subke of Mill Valley.

Bad Check Writer Gets Year In Jail

A San Francisco man who wrote 21 bad checks last June in Marin has been ordered to spend a year in Marin County Jail and repay the money.

Judge Charles Read Best of Marin Superior Court left open the amount Michael James Henry, 21, must pay to make good the checks.

A probation report suggested Henry may have written $1,500 in bad checks between ,ast June 19 and 27.

In addition to the jail time, Best Monday placed Henry on three years' probation and said the youth is not to be released on the work furlough program.

Housing Meeting

The Marin City Council will sponsor a town meeting to discuss redevelopment and housing concerns at 11 a.m. Saturday at Manzanita center, according to council chairman Melvin Atkins.

FLOOD WATERS FLOW

Cattle were stranded in their pens on this farm near Winnipeg, Man., yesterday as widespread spring floods washed over Canada's prarie provinces, driving thousands of families from their homes and causing millions of dollars in damage. Officials fear damage to Canada's transportation system could seriously harm the grain industry. That, and the possible continuation of high water which would delay sowing of crops, could wipe out the year's yield in many areas. (UPI Telephoto)

Athletic Program Suggestions Will Be Eyed By Novato Board

A review and report of the athletic program for the Novato School District was given the trustees last night by Harry Moore, former coach and chairman of an athletic program study committee.

The Novato Unified School District board set May 28 to discuss it in connection with the budget.

The athletic program, for example, is costing the student body fund $2,500 a year at Novato High School, Moore said. He recommended that the district pay for such things as replacement of the uniforms at both the two high schools and the three junior high schools.

The committee also recommended that the stadium at Novato High School be enlarged from 2,000 to 5,000 capacity and that a stadium be constructed at San Marin High School.

Other recommendations by the committee were that the district make a five-year master plan for priorities in athletics, including new programs such as soccer and lacrosse; that smaller buses be used for small-team activities such as golf, and that girls be equal participants in athletic programs.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

LITTLE LEAGUE — Tabled a request from Little League to construct a baseball field at Hill Junior High School, board chairman William T. Eckhoff saying he had it paced off and that nearby residents might be hit by balls.

GIFT — Accepted a gift of $125 from the Marion School Parent-Teacher Association.

SABBATICAL — Rejected requests for sabbatical leaves from four teachers, Supt. James G. Bunker saying the district cannot afford them.

LAND — Authorized advertising for sale approximately 600 square feet of land on the corner of Novato High School campus at 17 Washington Street, with a minimum price of $1 per square foot.

FOREIGN — Authorized letting the Foreign Study League use the facilities at San Marin High School from Aug. 1 to 28 for French students.

RETIREMENT — Accepted the June 30 retirement of Vernona Ritzinger from West Novato School. She has been with the district 17 years.

CLOSED — Went into closed meeting to discuss salary negotiations and set 7:30 p.m., Thursday for another closed meeting on hiring a new superintendent to replace Bunker.

MEETINGS — Set 8 p.m., next Tuesday as a special meeting to discuss junior high school attendance areas and May 14 and 28 for the regular meetings next month.

Annual Gymkhana Scheduled Sunday

The competition will start at 9 a.m. at the arena, Bugeia and H lanes.

There will be 21 classes with three team events and three green rider division events. Judge will be Alice Harknett of Elverta, Sacramento County.

SECOND NATURE™

Now Man and Hen, working together, bring you a major breakthrough—Second Nature.

It's a cholesterol-free egg substitute that tastes so much like fresh eggs, most people can't tell the difference. Which is only natural because Second Nature contains all of the fresh egg white of natural egg. The only substitution is in the yolk, the source of high fat content and cholesterol—and, in fact, the highest source of cholesterol in our daily diet.

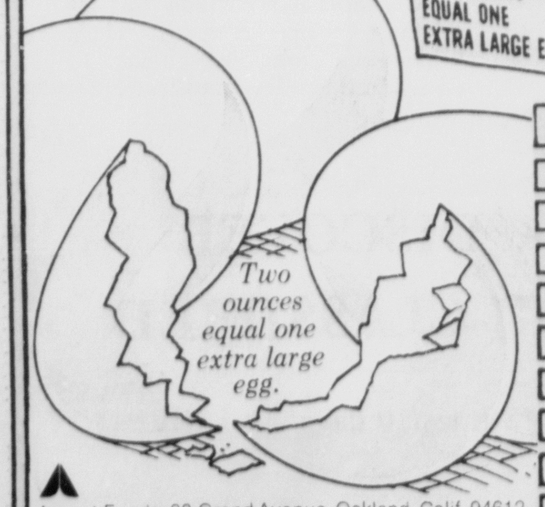
This is why most doctors and the American Heart Association suggest a limit of 3 eggs per week—including both eating and cooking.

But with Second Nature, you can eat your fill—starting with tomorrow's breakfast. They're delicious scrambled, in omelettes, pancakes, French toast, sauces—any recipes that call for whole beaten eggs. For all home-baking, plus packaged mixes of all kinds—cakes, muffins, brownies, biscuits.

*One extra large hen egg contains 330 mg. of cholesterol. An equal serving of Second Nature (2 ounces) contains less than 1 mg.

- ½ the calories of regular eggs.
- Protein quality of regular eggs.
- Two ounces contain the equivalent of one extra large egg.
- Fresh—in the egg case or dairy section—not the freezer.

Second Nature. We make things that taste good good for you.



save 15¢ on new Second Nature™ cholesterol-free egg substitute... in the egg case or dairy section.

UP-TO-DATE — Coast Guardsmen (and women) dine in relative luxury in tables for four in the mess hall at the new barracks at Two Rock, west of Petaluma. Dinner in the new Coast Guard, competing like the other services for recruits, might include shrimp fried rice, sweet and sour pork and chow mein.

Judge Best Quits Panel Over Funds

Marin Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best yesterday announced he has resigned from the North Bay Criminal Justice Planning board in a dispute over the use of state funds.

Best told county supervisors he no longer wanted to be associated with the group, which is responsible for allocating state "law and order" funds to Marin, Sonoma, Solano and Napa counties.

The dispute involves the allocation of about $800,000 to Sonoma County without approval of the regional board. Several weeks ago he said it may have been a "midappropriation of public money."

The regional board voted last week to uphold the allocation and commended its staff for acquiring the money for Sonoma.

Water Board's Ban On Parking During Mountain Play Rapped

Marin County supervisors yesterday expressed disgust but said they were powerless to change a decision of the Marin Municipal Water District board to prohibit parking in Rock Creek Meadow as part of the annual Mountain Play on Mount Tamalpais. (Other county supervisors stories, page 1.)

The meadow, which supervisors claim has been used for parking over the last 30 years, was put off limits this year by the water board because of possible environmental damage.

"It's arbitrary decisions like that which will make the open space movement counterproductive," supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said.

"The water board is all wet," chimed in Chairman Michael Wornum.

County Administrator John F. Barrows said the Mountain Play Association is working on plans to shuttle patrons by bus as an alternative decision.

This year's play is slated for May 5, 11 and 12.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

REPORT — Postponed to April 30 a request from economic consultant Angus N. McDonald that the county apply for a federal grant to print copies of his firm's report on the economic consequencies of the county general plan. Some copies would be used by McDonald for advertising purposes.

WHITE'S HILL — Took no action on a recommendation from the public works department that the two passing lanes over White's Hill west of Fairfax be removed. Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini said the passing lanes are not the cause of accidents as was claimed by the department.

ELECTION — Agreed to set a special election for residents of the Paradise Ranch Estates subdivision near Inverness to pay cost of road improvements. Total cost will run about $140,000, which would be paid off over 10 years.

KENT OAKS — Approved a master plan for a 12-unit apartment complex on Sir Francis Drake Boulevar at Oak Avenue in Kentfield. The board's action deleted a swimming pool from the plan because of a neighbor's protest. It also deleted a condition by the county transit district staff that the developer provide a bus shelter.

MASTER PLAN — Approved a master plan for a new commercial building at 911 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield. The plan was submitted by John DeVries and calls for a new patio shop at the location.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT — Postponed to April 30, discussion of the county administrator's proposed $4 million capital improvement program for fiscal 1974-75.

BUDGET HEARINGS — Set June 12 through 20 for annual budget hearings on the county's spending program for fiscal 1974-75.

FLOAT — Gave tentative approval to the county entering a float in San Rafael's centennial parade. Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere was appointed to work out the details.

FIRE — Agreed to ask the City of San Rafael to restore mutual aid fire protection until November, when a ballot measure to improve fire services in unincorporated areas near San Rafael is planned.

VETERANS — Referred to the personnel commission a proposal that veterans be given preference in county hiring policies.

FAIR — Agreed to have Sept. 3 designated as "Marin County Day" at the state fair in Sacramento and to send a local entertainment attraction to perform.

LEGISLATION — Postponed until May 7 consideration of a policy which would require approval of the board of supervisors for any county commission or committee which wished to support legislation in Sacramento.

COAST GUARD'S NEW BARRACKS

'My God!' Said The Bosun's Mate

By ERNEST MURPHY

In the rolling pastureland west of Petaluma, where a Coast Guard training center sits incongruously among the dairy cattle and silos, a large pink structure has taken shape in recent months.

The new facility is a $1.7 million barracks, and it's a far cry from its drab predecessors.

One enters a carpeted lobby to find young coast guardsmen — and women — lounging on very up-to-date looking chrome and plastic furniture.

The bright colors of the chairs and tables are outshown only by the walls, which alternate huge expanses of day-glow mauves and blues. Even the government-issue television sets are in color.

It's all part of the Coast Guard's strategy to attract recruits, who no longer have the draft to help persuade them to join.

"The Coast Guard is in a selling business," commander Roger P. Hartgen said. "All the services are now."

Hartgen, the executive officer of the center, said the end of the draft forced the services to compete actively for the best candidates.

At the Petaluma center, which trains clerks, cooks, storekeepers and radio operators, the enticement includes four-man rooms, each with a bathroom featuring a built-in heat lamp, and a sparkling new mess hall and galley.

(In the Coast Guard, the "Barnacle Bill" terminology applies even when you're miles from the sea. Thus you go topside instead of upstairs and below instead of down, even if there are more cows than gulls in your neighborhood.)

The mess hall is different from the old days, too — it's furnished with eye-pleasing printed draperies and civilian KPs. Cooks transform standard rations into sweet and sour pork, shrimp fried rice and vegetable chow mein.

Hartgen said the new barracks, built by the Paul V. Wright Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, increases the center's capacity to 575 persons, most of whom are students.

The schooling, before 1971, took place at Governor's Island, N.Y., but the island base was becoming crowded, Hartgen said, and so the less nautical disciplines were moved to the Petaluma base, which until then had been an Army communication center.

The new barracks is the dominion of Boatswain's Mate First Calss Wayne R. Berry, who from his office on the main floor serves as a combination housemother, first sergeant and concierge for the young recruits who live there.

"When the building opened last month, some of us wondered," Berry said. "We took a look at the colors and said "My God. . . " As he spoke, he eyed the large purple couchin front of his chrome and wood desk.

"But now that we've gotten used to it. It's tremendous."

The 20 women live on a wing of their own which is off limits to men. The Coast Guard, unlike other branches, otherwise no longer has a separate status for women. They've been fully integrated, and in Petaluma they train along with the men.

Hartgen said the new barracks building will probably be joined by others during the next decade.

"We expect to accomodate up to 1,000 or 1,500 students by then, based on overall U.S. population growth," he said.

Why is the Coast Guard concentrating on Petaluma?

When compared with the two other schools at Governor's Island and at Yorktown, Va., Hartgen said, the Southern Sonoma facility appears to be the best situated for future growth.

Supervisors Vote To Retain Present Mental Health Setup

A move to set up an independent department of mental health was rejected yesterday as Marin County supervisors agreed to keep the consolidated Health and Human Services Department intact. (Another supervisors story, page 1.)

The decision to leave mental health's troubled administration under the umbrella of the superagency was by the same 3-to-2 vote which first created the vast department nearly a year ago.

Supervisors Gary T. Giacomini and Michael Wornum opposed the action, saying mental health should be severed and given a chance to work out its own problems.

The board's decision brought to a head months of bickering and infighting over mental health's position in the county. The fires were fueled two weeks ago with a state report critical of the county's mental health services.

That report focused on administration of the services and a myriad of shortcomings inherited by Betty L. Presley, director of health and human services.

The report was touched on only lightly yesterday and will undergo a more thorough examination next month when county officials have had time to respond.

"The basic issue before you today is continuation of mental health in the health and human services department," County Administrator John F. Barrows told the board. He recommended it remain under Miss Presley, who also oversees county health and welfare.

"It's it's separated, the concept of (consolidated) health and human services won't stand," he said, adding he would then recommend the superagency be disbanded.

Miss Presley urged the board to make a decision on the matter since correcting the shortcomings "is hard enough if everyone is pulling together and this has not been the case the last couple of months."

Her comment was aimed at Dr. Robert Taylor, mental health program chief, who said yesterday the report wasn't as bad as it appears. He said another evaluation by the state of his department's programs found them "generally above average — in some cases outstanding and in other cases short of expectations." No copy of this evaluation was made available by Taylor to the board or public.

He criticized the state's report, which indicates his administration is in disarray, for not providing evidence used in reaching the conclusions.

"A lot of the problems we are aware of . . . but the state has done us a disservice by implying they are unique to Marin," Dr. Taylor said. "They are not."

The state report criticized the county for poor administration, loosely run mental health programs, nonexistence of programs for the elderly, overstaffing at adminstrative levels and understaffing at operations levels, among other problems.

The second study referred to by Taylor was not available for review by the board or public, though Taylor said he would make copies available in the future.

"This is not a system running amok," he said. "Without increasing staff we've increased the number of people served."

He said the report erred in claiming that the general public has not been encouraged to make use of the mental health services it pays for.

Dr. Elmer Weden of the Marin Medical Society urged the board to leave mental health under Miss Presley's wing and offered his group's services in evaluating various programs.

He said the board should consider using private psychiatrists to a greater extent, instead of psychologists and social workers, in treating the mentally ill.

Other members of the packed, but quiet, audience supported continuation of health and human services, though one psychiatrist urged Dr. Taylor be given a separate department.

Henry G. Coit of the Marin Association for Mental Health said his group supported Miss Presley's agency — including mental health — but wanted control of both mental health administration and programs placed with one person.

(Currently, administration of mental health is merged with administration of health services, while Dr. Taylor oversees mental health programs.)

At Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni's prompting, the board agreed to investigate the internal reorganization suggested by Coit.

Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste seemed to sum up the majority opinion on the board when he said Miss Presley should be given more time to tighten administration of mental health.

"The state audit confirms that it should go this way," agreed Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere, referring to leaving mental health in the superagency.

Dismissal In Novato Case Of Assault

The case against Novato apartment manager Joseph Paul Jordan Sr. was dismissed yesterday when the prosecutor said he cannot locate the youth Jordan was accused of assaulting.

Pledge For Fight Over Transit Aid

The Marin County Transit District board agreed yesterday to fight the Golden Gate Bridge District over Marin's allocation of state gas tax revenues for transit.

The board's stand came on a 5-to-1 vote with director Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. dissenting and director Robert Burton absent.

At issue is how much the transit district will receive from this year's allocation of more than $1 million in gas tax revenues earmarked for transit.

In the past, the bridge district has received the lion's share (or about 75 per cent) for purchase of its bus fleet, among other things.

The county received the remaining 25 per cent which it used to pay the bridge district for operation of "local service" buses in Marin.

Mgr. Ray W. Foreaker Jr. said the Metropolitan Transportation Commission may favorably accept a bid by Marin for more of the funds for local transit. He recommended seeking 70 per cent of the total or between $700,000 and $800,000.

In other action, the board voted 3-to-2 to authorize assistant Gen. Mgr. Robert L. Harrison to attend a transit "workshop" next month in Maryland.

Directors Michael Wornum and Arrigoni argued against the trip, saying the financially troubled district could not afford the $700 cost.

BART Widens Computer Runs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state Public Utilities Commission says BART trains between Fremont and Richmond may now be dispatched by computer rather than by platform supervisors.

Under computer control, approved by the PUC yesterday, trains still will be separated by two stations as required under manual dispatch.

The rules do not involve the more sophisticated automatic control system which is yet to be approved before transbay trains can operate between Oakland and San Francisco.

Reagan Plan Could Supplement Prop. 9

Gov. Ronald Reagan last week presented his version of what California needs in the way of a political campaign reform law.

Obviously, the governor's proposal is intended to counter the Common Cause-People's Lobby initiative measure which will appear as Proposition 9 on the June 4 ballot. It therefore deserves analysis to see what it covers that Proposition 9 does not, and vice versa.

REAGAN WOULD set up a fair campaign practices committee to draft proposed legislation. He would prohibit campaign contributions by labor organizations, corporations, judges, and lobbyists. He would ban on-the-job politicking by public employees. He would require simpler, more understandable analyses of ballot measures to accompany the sample ballots. He would make the secretary of state's office non-partisan. And he would move the California primary to September to greatly shorten the campaign. (It used to be in late August but was moved to June some years ago.)

However, the governor proposed no ceiling on campaign expenditures. Nor did he propose further tightening of the campaign contribution disclosure law. These are key elements of Proposition 9. Its proposed limits on campaign spending for statewide offices are counted on by its sponsors as the major tool to prevent "buying public office."

ON THE OTHER hand, Reagan's proposal goes farther than Proposition 9 in some respects, and includes some things that proposition does not touch at all.

Proposition 9 would require any committee planning to spend $500 or more to influence the vote to register with the secretary of state. Reagan proposes outright prohibition of organization of any such committee by a corporation, labor organization, or public employee organization. This would outlaw such "fronts" as the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education and the California Teachers Association's Association for Better Citizenship, among others.

Reagan's proposal would also go farther than Proposition 9 in prohibiting campaign contributions by corporations, organizations, judges, and lobbyists. This would mean only individual gifts could be accepted by campaign organizations. But it would leave the way open for big gifts by wealthy individuals.

REAGAN RENEWED his urging that the secretary of state, who administers the election laws, be made non-partisan. "It is not enough that the person holding this office be free of partisan or personal bias," he declared. "Even the possibility of bias must be eliminated."

And the governor's proposal for a September primary, to shorten the campaign and thus help reduce spending, would provide a reform untouched by Proposition 9 — and a good one.

Reagan's plan and Proposition 9 are not mutually exclusive. Perhaps they could be complementary. The best features of what Governor Reagan proposes could be added to the reform measures written into the Government Code by Proposition 9 — if it passes.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

PREFACE, CHAT, Jolly Orange Are Saved By Court Decision

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Because a federal court ordered President Nixon to release education funds he had impounded, Glendora Unified School District will have PREFACE, Los Angeles Unified School District will have CHAT, and Napa Valley Unified School District will have the Jolly Orange.

These were among 73 projects approved by the California State Board of Education this month for funding with the released Elementary and Secondary Education Act funds.

PREFACE IS, like most of the 73 projects, described in the funding application as "innovative." As with many of them, its name is an acronym of sorts: the letters stand for premarital relations, family planning, consumer education. All 10th graders in the Glendora district in Los Angeles County "will have an opportunity to participate in interviews and class discussions covering premarital relations, family planning, drug addiction, venereal disease, and consumer education" (rather a mixed bag). This will cost us federal taxpayers $44,550.

CHAT is "Communications Heightened Among Teen-Tots." The Los Angeles schools will spend $108,522 of federal taxpayers' money to set up a computer system among one high school, two junior highs, and seven elementary schools, to provide computer-assisted instruction with older students acting as tutors to the younger ones.

The Jolly Orange is something else again. It is the name of an orange van on which the Napa school system will haul a troupe of 12 high school drama students to elementary schools where they will perform children's stories. This, believes the Napa Valley district, will be worth $22,584 in imporving the "word skills" of the smaller children.

PREFACE AND CHAT are not particularly far out as compared with the 71 other projects approved for federal funds. For instance, Ontario-Montclair School District in San Bernardino County has one called "A Chance To Be Children." This turns out to be a pilot program with eight learning centers to provide training in "motor development, sensory perception, visual perception, auditory perception, self-help skills, communication, preacademics and workshop skills." (That would seem to cover almost everything except subject matter.) The cost: $58,282.

The most expensive project approved was $156,680 for Temple City Unified School District's "accountability in teacher education." Teachers in this Los Angeles County district will be given special summer training, and apply what they learn in teaching 900 students. Records will be kept to see whether students' improvement compensates for the additional teacher training (and the $156,680).

The 73 California projects approved this month were little different from thousands of others that have been funded by the federal government. It is into such projects that most federal aid to education goes.

BECAUSE A "SPECIAL project" is necessary to get federal funds, county superintendents' offices and many of the larger school districts have staff members who devote full time to figuring out salable proposals for submission to Uncle Sam via the State Department of Education. A fund-seeker with a good imagination may be worth considerably more than his weight in handouts.

Those school districts which just concentrate on trying to do a better job of teaching, with no special consortiums, computerized byplay, or sensitivity sessions (to say nothing of a van named the Jolly Orange), simply get no ESEA funds. No "project," no money.

The federal government has been distributing about $4 billion per year of our money under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. This is about a third of all the money Uncle Sam pours into education. Higher education, vocational education, libraries, agricultural extension service, etc., get the rest.

California has received its share of these funds. The school districts of our state seem to be well supplied with personnel capable of thinking up acceptable projects.

THERE HAS BEEN increasing questioning of whether the schools and their students have benefitted commensurately from the federal outlays. Since Uncle Sam began this underwriting of the schools, national test score averages have declined, dropouts have increased, student dissatisfaction with schools has grown. And the federal money, because it goes principally into special projects, has not reduced costs for local school districts.

However, the money tree, once it takes root, is a sturdy plant. Variations of PREFACE and CHAT, and even the Jolly Orange, no doubt will show up for funding in the next go-around — and be approved.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND:

Case Puts Civil Rights In New Perspective

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court is getting plenty of conflicting advice in the DeFunis case. Honorable and able people are lined up 100 deep on both sides with private briefs, and they are clearly moved by the most worthy motives.

The facts are not in dispute. Only the law is in dispute, and the law will be whatever the court says it is.

The facts are that Marco DeFunis Jr. was a Phi Beta Kappa honor graduate who was denied admission to the University of Washington law school although his qualifications were higher than those of 36 minority students who were admitted. It is not disputed that DeFunis was rejected — until the law school was required by a state court to accept him — because he was white, nor that the other 36 were accepted because they were nonwhite.

THE ISSUE IS SUBTLE, and the consequences from whatever the court rules will be far reaching. The easy decisions have already been made. Schoolhouse doors are no longer barred to blacks; the right to vote is no longer determined by the color of one's skin. For nearly two centuries we have sought on the one hand to realize the goal of equal opportunity and on the other to practice a policy of pervasive racial prejudice which denied equality of opportunity.

What, then, is the dividing line in the DeFunis case? Why are so many choosing opposite sides? The reason is well put by Nina Totenberg in the New York Times Magazine: "Now the court, like much of the nation, finds itself caught between two of its most cherished ideals. It must decide which is more important: to continue to do everything possible to correct the effects of centuries of racial discrimination or to remain faithful to the American idea of a strict merit system."

If you state the case one way, the University of Washington law school policy which rejected DeFunis can be quite appealing. Don't we have some obligation to repair the ravages of long discrimination? We do.

But the question which the Supreme Court will now have to decide is not that easy.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL question is not whether the nation should try to repair damage done to minority groups but whether the best way to do it is to discriminate against whites as a way to compensate for discrimination against blacks.

The heart of the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court in 1954 in Brown vs. Board of Education was to guarantee equal protection under the law to all citizens regardless of race. Its purpose was to make the law colorblind.

One justice asked DeFunis' attorney: "You're not suggesting that a law school admissions committee has to take the 150 brightest of the applicants or the ones with the highest scores, are you?"

The reply was: "No, I am saying that they have got to treat everybody alike . . . If Mr. DeFunis had been black, he would have been in. He was kept out because he was white."

Surely there are better ways to redress the ravages of past discrimination than to resort to the very kind of discrimination which produced those ravages.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Plenty Of Gasoline Now Price Is Too High

The new energy "czar" John Sawhill has just announced his "good news". There will be plenty of gasoline for every American's summer vacation. . . Yea! But, he also says it will cost us twice as much as last year's gas.

Now that the Nixon administration has fattened the purses of its contributors all is cheery and we have all the gas we want, which, by the way, very few can afford.

Chalk up another one for Dick.

Campaign Committee's Purposes Outlined

I would like to respond to the allegations expressed in the "Campaigns '74" column last Wednesday regarding the Committee for a Conservationist Majority. First, I find it strange that this, your first reference to our committee, is put in the context of one of the candidates' accusations rather than being drawn from our own press release. Mr. Farlatti's denunciations of our organization are so hysterical in tone and preposterous in content that they are not only unworthy of publication, but are likely to adversely affect his credibility in the view of knowledgeable and reasonable people.

Our committee is of course deliberately and legitimately biased in favor of the election of conservationist candidates. It is composed of respected, responsible citizens who have been active in environmental affairs in Marin County, particularly having to do with water resource management. We consider it essential that control of the MMWD remain in the hands of a responsible conservationist majority on the Board of Directors.

The implication that the committee was "rigged" or "stacked" in favor of pre-selected candidates is unfair and inaccurate . . . Members who were in any way committed to a candidate were required to abstain from voting on that candidate. I feel we were as fair as we could possibly be.

We intend to proceed with our plans to endorse and campaign for the three candidates, Boylan, Seminario and Gibson, whom we have selected. Our effectiveness will rest on the reputations and credibility of the citizens who make up our committee.

'Regulative' Agency's Role Questioned

Your editorial of April 18 struck a responsive note with me. It discussed the efforts being made by Sen. William Proxmire to lop off some unnecessary federal agencies. I suggest we can profitably start here at home and I nominate for serious consideration that branch of the Department of Navigation and Ocean Development which is charged with the duty to regulate yacht brokers.

I provided the so-called enforcement officers of that agency with complete, verified proof of gross fraud practiced by a Bay Area broker who falsely represented the price he received for a boat and secretly retained hundreds of dollars belonging to the seller. . .

Despite the irrefutable proofs provided, the agency in question routinely renewed the broker's license exactly as if nothing had occurred, and has ignored repeated requests for action. After a year and a half of agency inertia, I sent a request for action to Governor Reagan, but it appears that eastern affairs make local frauds too humdrum for even a response.

The question which I asked the governor and would still like to have answered is: what does the yacht and ship brokers' licensing program exist for? Does collecting fees constitute its entire real purpose?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

April 24, 1964

Defense Secy. Robert S. McNamara announced 22 military installations around the U.S. would be closed.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown urged that the United States enter into trade negotiations with Communist China.

20 YEARS AGO

April 24, 1954

The Western Army Antiaircraft Command disclosed that Nike guided missile installations would be placed in southern Marin forts.

French forces fighting a rearguard action within Dienbienphu, Indochina, were thrown back with very heavy losses.

Has South Rejoined Union? Panel Provides Own Answer

ATLANTA, Ga. — Twenty years ago next month, the Supreme Court theoretically banished public school segregation from the United States forever. Ten years ago this summer, Lyndon Johnson signed into law the Civil Rights Act of 1964, opening public accommodations to all Americans everywhere, including the mule-sled counties of the old Confederacy. Last week, a panel of southern politicians looked back over all this and responded to a question raised by the American Society of Newspaper Editors in convention here.

THE PANEL'S SUBJECT, admittedly, was phrased in a way to pique anyone innately defensive about this part of the world. "Has the South Rejoined the Union?" it wanted to know.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina said in amiable indignation that the South is not merely a part of the Union, it is leading it. (He is up for re-election this year.) "There are a great number of things about the Union that we don't want to join," contributed Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas (who is running to take away J. William Fulbright's Senate seat this year).

Now, these are prominent Southern moderates, who by the standards of two decades ago never could have been elected in their states. They spoke proudly of the emergence of the two-party system in the South, of the disappearance of the old "southern caucus" in the Senate.

Neither of them, of course, used the word nigger, as so many elected officials in the South were fond of doing in years past. Not even nigra, which is what uptown politicians always said when they wanted to make a similar point. But their message was in part the same one laid down by eminent declaimers of those epithets back when.

THEY SAID, as Sens. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and J. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., did in the long ago, that the worst racial problems are in the North, rather than the South. And, as a matter of fact, that may have been the only correct statement ever recorded by either Eastland or Thurmond on that general subject.

For indeed things have worked out more smoothly in the South in these years of change than in most of the country. Atlanta has its school busing problem, just as do Flint, Mich., or Prince Georges County, Md.

But as one editor said here, the country has been testing the old cliche that in the North, whites don't care how high blacks get as long as they don't get too high.

His suggestion was that the cliche had proved out. I think not, not literally.

THAT SAME EDITOR grew up in a village just down the road from Atlanta, and he told of going back to visit and stopping in what used to be a redneck cafe (his wording, not mine), and finding it was casually integrated now — had become a hangout for black rednecks as well.

That may help prove the close part, but the other half of the cliche does not hold up, for blacks in the South are riding high, compared to 10 or 20 years ago.

Atlanta now has a black mayor and a black congressman. All right, Atlanta is not the South. But throughout the rest of the region, more blacks hold elected office than in all the rest of the country — well over 1,000 of them, as Bumpers pointed out.

One of them was on the panel with Bumpers and Hollings, the gracious Georgia State Rep. Grace Hamilton. And her reaction to the initial proposition, about the South's rejoining the Union, was in the same spirit, though more restrained than theirs. That she was there, and could even join conscientiously in defense rather than condemnation of the South, was itself the best answer to the panel's question.

She is a reminder of the forthcoming anniversary that counts most. Not that of the Brown vs. Board of Education decision of 1954, nor of the Public Accommodations Law of 1964, celebrated though they should be. The one that marks the profoundest change, that has insured that the South stands so tall in our Union, comes a little later — 10 years after the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Court Creates Dilemma In Case Of The Unborn

By RUS WALTON

Back in August, 1972, the State Welfare Department decided that an unborn child was not eligible for state assistance. The department refused to allow additional to a pregnant woman who was already receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

The mother claimed she needed the extra money to care properly for the unborn child she was carrying. The state welfare people said the fetus had no need for food or clothing or shelter as long as it was snug in its mother's womb. When the child was delivered, that was soon enough to start the additional welfare grant.

The mother, a Shasta County resident, and the California Welfare Rights Organization disagreed. They took the case to court.

Last week, the California Supreme Court ruled against the State Welfare Department. The court found for the mother and her unborn child. It held that the fetus was legally entitled to the monthly aid and that the mother's body could not be considered an economic resource supplanting the state support.

SOMEONE WHO THINKS logically might conclude that the court considered that unborn child an individual — a living person in its own right. I mean, that does seem manifest in the court's decision. You do not award welfare assistance to a nothing, a non-being; you give assistance to a person or to a person for the care of another individual.

Thus, it would seem valid to assume that the court recognized the unborn child as a person in its own right, to be protected by the law.

That, of course, has always been the contention of the pro-life (anti-abortion) folks.

If consistency is a virtue in law as well as life, the court must now face the fact that it is on the horns of a contradiction of its own making. Because it has, in the past, upheld the state's Beilenson Act — the liberal therapeutic abortion law that permits abortion virtually on demand through the 20th week of pregnancy.

I PUT IT TO YOU this way:

Is the unborn child that is entitled to welfare benefits not also entitled to the right of life? If an unborn child is to be protected from malnutrition, is it not also to be protected from slaughter by the curette or syringe?

I am not alone in my concern and quandry over the court's twisted judgments. Assemblyman Mike Antonovich, R-Glendale, asked this question of the legislative counsel:

"How can a fetus qualify for AFDC but not be protected against being aborted under the decision of the United States Supreme Court?"

Came back a tortured legally defensible, perhaps, but tortured) opinion. Here is the key paragraph:

". . . We do not think that there is any legal inconsistency between the holding of the Supreme Court that a fetus is not a 'person' within the meaning of the 14th Amendment, and state statutes — such as the provisions relating to AFDC — which vest the fetus with the status of a person for limited purposes."

And there, my friend, is a pretty good indication of what's wrong in Babylon. If consistency, and logic, is a jewel, then that opinion is a garbage can.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

President Nixon declares May 12 as Mothers' Day. Several congressmen immediately ask for the tapes of the conversations that led to his decision.

The cost of living isn't out of sight; we just need stronger telescopes.

Only one thing has changed about Nixon's invitations to campaign for Republican candidates. Most of them are coming now from Democrats.

WILL ROGERS SAYS . . .

"One witness tried to say that he thought the Democrats had gotten some money too. But that was so laughable that it was almost funny. If any man had given money to the Democratic cause, it would not have left him liable for corruption, but the insane asylum.

"The Democrats wanted to follow up that clue and see if there really was any truth in it, and find out who it was, and let him go ahead and give, if he would." — April 1, 1928.

THE MIND I LIVE IN

Johnny Clerque Found What High Court Means

By ROB TREICHLER

Shortly after Johnny Clerque got a job in the Department of Internal Audit processing employee expense vouchers, he noticed many strange happenings within the seemingly well-run division.

Ben Bureaucrat, the top man, had an unusually high number of relatives on the agency payroll. Not bad in itself, but many of them rarely showed up for work. In fact, John had been in his position for three months when he greeted a middle-aged woman visitor and she introduced herself as Mrs. Bertha Bureaucrat, and was just in to pick up her last three paychecks.

It was probably just as well the boss's wife put in her time away from the agency office, as her presence would probably have caused internal pressure, what with Ben taking those three-hour lunch breaks with the red-haired, mini-skirted secretary from the fourth floor.

BEN WAS AN EXTREMELY competent executive and got out all the work demanded of him. To this end he and the redhead often put in long hours behind locked doors, even staying on long after less dedicated employees had left. It was the long hours, in fact, that necessitated his use of a motor pool car for commuting to the office. As to the accusations he sometimes used the vehicle on weekend trips to the mountains or grocery store, what of it? Anyone with more than one car will tell you the car that's used is the one at the back of the driveway.

Then, too, the old man put in a lot of hours at home. Otherwise why would he have a garage full of power tools and equipment all stenciled "For Official Use Only - Department of Internal Audit"?

None of these things bothered John. After all, the work got done. The boss was basically honest. But why did he always take lunch money from the petty cash box when he and the redhead went out for lunchtime business conferences, especially when lunches were reimbursed on the per diem allowance which they both claimed?

John mentioned it to his superior, and to several others in the agency, and sure enough, a full-scale investigation was launched. Government men swarmed over the office, pulled files, questioned workers, and took depositions and filed quadruplicate reports in as many colors to various other agencies all around the country. It made John's heart swell with pride to see the slow but relentless efficiency of his government in action.

The investigation was not without results.

Ben Bureaucrat regretfully fired Johnny Clerque.

IN MID-APRIL 1974, the Supreme Court had ruled that the government has the right to fire any employee without a hearing when the employee makes remarks which tend to impair the efficiency of the agency for which he works.

Technically, the court decision prohibits "only that public speech which improperly damages and impairs the reputation and efficiency of the employing agency, and it thus imposes no greater control on the behavior of federal employees than are necessary for the protection of the government as an employer.

Under this "cear cut" guideline, a civilian employee of Auchswitz morally and ethically offended enough by his work to speak out would have been rewarded for his observations by a termination slip for disruption of agency work.

At least the decision was not unanimous.

Reagan Would Testify For Reinecke

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan said yesterday he would testify as a character witness on behalf of Ed Reinecke in lthe lieutenant governor's upcoming perjury trial.

Asked if Reinecke would have to subpoena him, Reagan indicated that he would not. But he said he has not yet been asked personally by Reinecke to testify.

He said if Reinecke personally asks him to testify, "I think that I would."

Reagan earlier said he would comply with the law and answer any subpoena. Pressed on the point of whether it would require a subpoena, Reagan replied that he didn't intend to say Reinecke would have to subpoena him to get him to testify.

"I haven't been asked. I know nothing more than that story in the paper," the Republican governor told a Capitol news conference.

Reinecke, who was Reagan's hand-picked choice for lieutenant governor in 1969, is still the frontrunner in the June 4 Republican primary for governor.

He was indicted two weeks ago by the special Watergate prosecutor on charges that he lied three times before the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee in response to questions about his role in the ITT scandal.

Reinecke has denied the charges, which he said are politically motivated, and said he would ask Reagan and San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto to be character witnesses in his trial.

A hearing on pretrial motions is scheduled May 13 in Washington. The court said the trial, which is expected to last a week, could start immediately after that date depending on the motions.

The chances of making a gold strike in California today are estimated at less than a thousand in one.

WHAT'S IN STORE...

. . . a regular weekly column by Alpha Beta's Director of Consumer Affairs, Esther Cramer. We think you'll find these informal messages interesting, entertaining and informative. See if you don't agree!

WE'RE CONCERNED

With all the drum beating about price slashing, super values, and, yes, total discounts, we're afraid the needs of the individual customer have been lost somewhere in the war dance.

It used to be fun to shop in the small village store. The clerks all called us by name, and we counted on the butcher to cut just the right piece of meat for a company dinner with the money we had to spend.

Now, many supermarkets are so impersonal. The whole idea seems to be to rush us through the checkstand with carts bulging with the latest in sugared cereals, imitation red meat pet foods, or panty hose packed in ostrich eggs. The customer is just another dollar sign at the register.

Alpha Beta is determined to turn this image around. We're concerned that shoppers in our markets be offered service as well as good values.

That's one reason the consumer program has been started. We want to try to help you find answers to your shopping problems. We want to put a little more pleasure in pushing that cart. Price miracles can't be promised, but we can pass along shopping tips and point out special values for meal planning. Also, we'd like to hear your suggestions how we might serve you better.

In the meantime, take time to become acquainted with your Man in Blue and the Butcher in the Red Apron. They're trained to help you every day. Give them a chance to serve you better.

'Inky-Dinka-Doo' Rings Once Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — There was the same huskiness in the voice but the words came out slower. The crushed felt hat was tilted to one side as always.

More than 1,000 people sat listening so silently that the slightest tinkle of glass seemed to thunder across the ornate Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria. Tears welled in the eyes of grown men.

Jimmy Durante came home to New York yesterday and captured the hearts of his audience, as he has done countless times in 64 years of show business, but this time it was done with great effort and courage and, as always, a twinkle in his eyes.

He was the special guest at the Banshees luncheon, an annual event at the convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

William Randolph Hearst Jr., whose Hearst Corp. is host for the lunch, presented the one-time Coney Island piano player with the Banshees'"Silver Lady" award in recognition of his long career.

Durante, seated in his chair on the main floor with a group of friends, spoke slowly in thanking the Banshees, where he had appeared numerous times in the group's 39-year history.

And then, in the glare of a spotlight cutting the smoke-filled room and with the Meyer Davis orchestra playing softly, he starting slowly at first, faltering on some words, pausing before others and then, growing stronger.

First there was "Inka-DinkaDoo," the song he used as his trademark all these years, from Coney Island where he started in 1910, on Broadway, radio and television in night-clubs and motion pictures.

There was a long, standing ovation and then another when Jimmy sang "Young at Heart."

"Thank you, folks," he said after each wave of applause, nodding, eyes twinkling.

Fowl Cheaper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Broiler chickens, eggs and turkeys are cheaper this spring than in 1973, the Agriculture Department said today.

ALMANAC

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Today is Wednesday, April 24, the 114th day of 1974 with 251 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

John Russell Pope, American architect of famous public buildings, was born April 24, 1874.

On this day in history:

In 1704, the Boston News Letter became the first American newspaper to be published on a regular basis.

In 1877, federal troops were moved out of New Orleans, ending Northern military occupation of the South following the Civil War.

In 1898, Spain declared war o the United States after receiving an American ultimatum to withdraw from Cuba.

In 1972, Apollo 16 astronauts blasted off the moon and headed back to the earth after the third U.S. exploration of the lunar surface.

A thought for the day: British politician Ernest Bevin said, "There has never been a war yet, which, if the facts had been put calmly before the ordinary folk, could not have been prevented. The common man is the greatest protection against war."

Execution Of Slam Contract On Paper Vs. Playing Hand

There is a great difference between playing a hand on a piece of paper in a quiet room at home and playing it at the table in the hurly-burly of a tournament. On paper, noboby makes a mistake; at the table, even the most experienced players may come a cropper.

TEAM MATCHES

The jumpy bidding is reported as it actually took place in a team match some years ago between England and Norway. At both tables the final contract was six clubs, and at both tables West led the deuce of hearts.

On paper, this lead is the killer. Any other lead would allow declarer to draw trumps and lead three rounds of spades. Dummy's fourth spade would become good, and declarer could later discard his losing heart on it.

The Norwegian declarer was a paper tiger. He finessed with dummy's queen of hearts at the first trick, losing to the king. That was the end of him. He eventually lost a spade trick also.

MORE PRACTICAL

The English declarer was more practical. At the first trick he played the low heart from dummy instead of the queen.

This play put the burden on East. On paper, he could win the trick with the nine of hearts; and it might be possible to prove that this is the "correct" play. In practice, however, this play is difficult. The actual East player put up the king of hearts at the first trick.

SOUTH A SLAM

This gave South his slam. There were now two good hearts in the dummy, so South could eventually discard a spade on a high heart.

Note that South gives up nothing by playing dummy's low heart at the first trick. If West has the king of hearts, South will later win a finesse with dummy's queen of hearts; and then he can discard a spade on the ace of hearts.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold: ♠ A 8 6 3 ♥ A Q 8 ♦ J 10 ♣ A K 8 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You are tempted to jump to two spades, but should avoid this with so weak a major suit. Get a normal rebid from partner and then bid vigorously toward slam.

TIKIS NO. 12 — Resembling an eroded and weathered surface, this "off-the-stretcher" painting is by Los Angeles artist Jerry Byrd, who uses industrial materials to create his works which are now on exhibit at the Lester Gallery in Inverness.

ART REVIEW

What's 'In' For Today? See Gallery In Inverness

By ADA GARFINKEL

Fashion in art is almost as arbitrary as fashion in clothing. What is "in" one season must make way for another "new" for next time around.

Today's "new look" for a sizeable coterie of artists appears to be a retreat from austere elegance to a tough look, and a concern with industrial materials and the work-art process.

It takes a self-confident and tough-minded artist such as Jerry Byrd to develop his new look from basically nonart materials, to wit: photographic backdrop paper, roofing strips, silicone, asphaltum, and masking tape, and to transform these mundane elements into paintings that offer a variety of subtleties and sensitivities.

Byrd, a southern California artist whose works are currently being shown at the Lester Gallery in Inverness, finds beauty in cracking and scarred walls, eroding pavements, patched tarpaulins, and leather hides. These, then, provide the inspirations for his paintings. But it is as if he were seeing the world as the first man on earth.

Even though Byrd's inspiration is drawn from natural processes, and his materials are unorthodox, his allocations of space and structural design elements are classically true and sensitively selected.

Byrd's "off the stretcher" paintings are usually untitled and are fastened to the wall with paper pins. He works the backs of his paintings as assiduously as the front.

The largest paintings are laminated to stained cheesecloth which appears as a thin, delicate border at the edges, and as inserts where shaped sections have been gently torn away.

To activate his painting field, Byrd scores the paper diagonally here and there with a nail against a straight-edge. Sometimes the paper tears and short rows of arrowhead-shaped darts heighten the rhythm.

Working intuitively, Byrd uses other accidentals, for instance: gouges which are subsequently filled with silicone or asphaltum, waterstains, and masking tape stencils which create pictorial, trough-like depths.

In a series of 12 related 18-by-24-inch paintings, sprinklings of Prussian blue and rusty orange accentuate the vibrant energy field created by narrow rows of diagonal tape across the surfaces.

Elsewhere, in a larger painting, Byrd has used burlap to contrast textures and to fill in a torn edge, and has augmented the top of this six by eight foot work with two narrow gussets whose elongated points embrace one another, lending a slightly off-center shift to the picture plane.

This exhibit will continue through May 11. Gallery hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. The gallery is on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Inverness.

MUSIC REVIEW

Symphony Closes Season With Unique Performance

By VERA M. OLMSTED

The Marin Symphony, under the direction of Sandor Salgo, ended a successful concert season last night at the Veterans' Memorial Building with an entertaining concert version of Hector Berlioz's opera-comique, "Beatrice and Benedick."

This two-act opera is based on Shakespeare's romantic comedy "Much Ado About Nothing" and was presented in English, a definite advance as there is much spoken dialogue and the audience was able to be in on the fun.

The plot revolves around two young people, Beatrice and Benedick, who delight in being fiercely antagonistic towards each other. They are tricked into falling in love by their friends, and finally succumb to matrimony, at the same time somewhat sardonically acknowledging they will probably be quarreling by the next day.

Difficulties abound in trying to stage a concert version of an opera, and this one had its share. The production was actually more than a concert presentation, as costumes and simple props were used, and there was a great deal of motion from one side of the stage to another.

Another distraction was the use of scores by some of the singers (plaudits to the women principals who memorized their lines and music). A performer is seldom convincing when he acts and sings with a score held a foot in front of his nose. The usage should have been uniform —either everyone was to use a score or no one.

But the evening held many beauties and memorable moments. The singers had fine voices and sang both gracefully and with dramatic expressiveness.

Mezzo-soprano Margery Tede put energy and spirit into her role as Beatrice and was very effective in the heroic and melodic aria and trio in the second act.

Soprano Margot Power (as Hero), sang her triumphant solo with a joyful passion, and the duet with contralto Marcia Hunt (as Ursula), which ended Act One was one of the delights of the evening. The orchestra outdid itself in its ability to sustain the gentlest shimmer of sound.

Tom Acord, tenor (as Benedick), has a pure tenor voice and nice acting skill; and Robert Bernard, bass, showed a full and clearly articulated speaking voice.

Others who did well were Michael Harvey as Claudio, Milton Williams as Somerone, Frank Riley, and Robert Carr.

Scott Beach acted as both narrator and Leonato, utilizing his resonant voice and expressive face; in addition Beach wrote the two "Shakespearean" poems with which he introduced the beginning of each act.

Maestro Salgo and the orchestra were in top form. The sound was good, with the sections balanced, and the dynamic levels almost always under control in order not to overwhelm the soloists and chorus. In the virtuostic Overture and Entr'act Sicilian they came into their own while demonstrating the artistry of Berlioz's orchestration.

The large audience did not seem overly responsive, but "Beatrice and Benedick" offered a worthy change of pace from strictly symphonic programming and a challenging way to end the season.

Centennial Concerts Are Scheduled

Musical groups from eight San Rafael schools will perform at about noon May 20 through May 24, in concerts scheduled at Courthouse Square and at Northgate as part of the city's Centennial celebration.

Hundreds of youngsters in choirs, bands and orchestras of the San Rafael and Dixie School Districts will participate.

The schedule of concerts at the Courthouse Square is:

May 21, from noon to 12:30 p.m., Santa Venetia and Davidson Choirs, director Byron Jones; from 12:30 to 1 p.m., San Rafael High School Orchestra, directors Kurt Giambastiani and Ken Sugita.

May 22, from noon to 1 p.m., San Rafael High School Symphonic Band, director Miss Wilkerson; from 12:15 to 12:30, Sun Valley Choir, Louise Hagens directing.

May 23, noon to 12:30, Santa Venetia and Davidson Orchestras, director Lynn Oakley; 12:30 to 1 p.m., Glenwood Choir, Miss Hagens directing.

May 24, noon to 1 p.m., San Rafael High School Choir, Byron Jones directing.

Performances at the Northgate Fashion Mall will be:

May 20, noon to 1 p.m., Santa Venetia Band, directed by Jean Stevens.

May 21, 12 to 12:30 p.m., Vallecito Band; 12:30 to 1, Vallecito Madrigal Singers, both directed by Jan Chaffin.

May 22, noon to 1 p.m., Terra Linda High School Choir, Fred Marett directing.

May 23, 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Terra Linda High Stage Band, Gordon Lowe directing; 12:30 to 1 p.m., Vallecito Orchestra, Miss Chaffin directing.

May 24, noon to 1 p.m., Terra Linda High Wind Ensemble, Gordon Lowe directing.

Scheduled concerts at Northgate I, from noon to 1 p.m. are:

May 20, Terra Linda High Stage Band; May 21, Terra Linda Dixieland Band, both directed by Gordon Lowe; May 23, Terra Linda Choir, Fred Marett directing.

San Rafael High's Stage Band will also perform at the civic luncheon planned as part of the Centennial celebration on May 24, at Dominican College.

San Rafael and Terra Linda High student bandsmen will march and Santa Venetia Band will play from a truck in the parade scheduled on the closing day of the 10-day Centennial observance May 26, on Fourth Street, San Rafael.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held in the Alameda Room, Hotel Claremont, Ashby and Domingo Avenue, Berkeley, California, at 7:30 PM on Wednesday, May 15, 1974 by the Agency Board of the Bay Area Sewage Services Agency to consider the budget estimate of the agency for fiscal year 1974-75 in accordance with the provisions of Section 16800 et seq. of the California Water Code. Agencies, organizations or individuals having an interest or concern in the Agency's budget for fiscal year 1974-75 are invited to attend and present testimony. All persons are advised that, under the law, upon conclusion of the hearing and not later than June 10, 1974, the Agency Board must approve the budget estimate as submitted or as revised by the Board and thereupon the same shall constitute the final budget for the ensuing fiscal year.

Information copies of the proposed Agency budget are on file in the Agency Office at Hotel Claremont, Ashby Avenue and Domingo Avenue, Berkeley, California and in the Office of the County Clerk of each County within the Agency.

TO MEMBERS OF CLASS OF PROPOSED CONSENT JUDGMENT

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS OF GROUND BEEF:

On August 13, 1971, Meryl J. Maler, et al. filed Los Angeles County Superior Court Case No. C-9691, a purported class action on behalf of California residents, alleging mislabeling of ground beef products by several supermarket chains, including: Albertson's Inc., Alexanders Markets, Alpha Beta Acme Markets, Inc., Arden Mayfair, Inc., Beach Grocery Company, Better Foods, Incorporated, Carl's Ranch Markets, Inc., Community Market, Crawford Stores, Inc., Dale's Food Marts, Inc., Food Fair Stores, Inc.,Gateway Markets, Hughes Markets, Inc., JonSon's Markets, E. F. MacDonald Shopping Bag Food Stores, Inc., Savmor Markets, Stater Bros. Markets, Supreme Foods, Inc., F & G Discount Foods, Inc., The Boys Market, Inc., Thriftimart, Inc., Vons Grocery Company, Westward Ho Markets and Gelsons Markets. Said defendants have denied all of plaintiffs' allegations. Solely for the purpose of resolving this litigation in the public interest, the parties have reached the following settlement: Defendants shall pay the aggregate sum of $40,851.00, divided into four equal parts of $10,212.75 each, to the University of California at Davis, University of California, at Los Angeles, University of Southern California and Stanford University for research concerning food and nutrition. In addition, the proposed Consent Judgment on file herein provides for:

1. Payment of attorneys' fees to plaintiffs' counsel;
2. Expenditure by defendants of $200,000.00 for improvement of their ground beef products, including fat-testing equipment and consumer brochures; and
3. Restrictions on nomenclature and categories of ground beef products; all as more particularly set forth in said proposed Consent Judgment.

All records in this case may be inspected at the address below.

NOW, THEREFORE, TAKE NOTICE:

1. If you are a member of the class described above (that is, have purchased ground beef and are a resident of California), you will be bound by any judgment based on the proposed settlement, whether favorable or not, unless you appear or object in the manner hereinafter provided.

2. If you prefer to be represented by your own counsel, rather than by counsel for plaintiffs named herein, you may enter an appearance through your counsel, but not later than May 17, 1974.

3. If you wish to make any objections to the proposed settlement, you must file your objections in writing with the undersigned by May 17, 1974, and appear, individually or through your own counsel, on May 21, 1974, at 8:45 a.m., in the Courtroom of the Honorable Joseph A. Wapner, Judge of the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Los Angeles, Department 37, 111 North Hill Street, Los Angeles, California, to show cause why the proposed settlement should not be approved by the Court and a judgment entered accordingly.

LOOK/ALIKE DWELLINGS

There's a distinctly unified look about these quaint, half-timbered homes in the tiny village of Freudenberg in central Germany that contrasts greatly with the modern high-rise at right rear. Each house has been given its annual spring coating of paint to help retain the village's centuries-old style.

State Employees Talk Of Strike

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California State Employees Association today studied possible actions, including a strike, it might take in response to Gov. Ronald Reagan's refusal to submit its wage-benefit proposal to arbitration.

Reagan yesterday flatly rejected CSEA's request that the issue of higher wages and fringe benefits of state employees next year be submitted to arbitration. CSEA had warned that if Reagan refused, a strike vote would be submitted to its 110,000 members.

But after Reagan's rejection, CSEA president John Matheny said his organization "will not be forced into any precipitous confrontations by the governor's unreasonable refusal to submit CSEA's pay and benefit proposal to impartial arbitration."

Matheny said any CSEA action, including a strike, will be decided by its board of directors and taken only after a vote of CSEA membership. A CSEA spokesman said the group's emergency action committee is holding meetings to consider possible actions and will make recommendations to the directors.

Reagan was asked at a news conference yesterday whether he would agree to arbitration and he replied crisply: "No. I don't believe that we have the right to do such a thing."

The governor said in dealing in pay matters with state employes, elected officeholders as representatives of the people "must have the last word other than the people themselves."

"For the elected representatives to delegate their responsibility to someone else not chosen by the voters is to put into some arbitrator's hands the right to make a settlement that could result in imposing a tax increase on the people," Reagan said.

Reagan repeated a warning that any employee who struck would be fired "at the end of five days of unexcused absence."

CSEA has proposed a $190 million package for the next fiscal year starting July 1. Salaries would consume $110 million, an increase of 10 per cent.

Reagan has proposed a 2.7 per cent pay raise in a $90 million package split evenly between salaries and fringe benefits.

However, the governor noted he included in the current budget almost $250 million for employee increases which the federal Cost of Living Council had withheld. The state Supreme Court last week ruled the workers were due $83.4 million in retroactive pay raises for this year.

Those same raises are contained in the proposed new budget, Reagan explained. "But on top of that, what it amounts to is the employees of California will be getting over the two-year period a 19 per cent raise."

Reagan accused the CSEA leadership of offering a "distorted" presentation to its members.

HOSTEL PLAN

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill authorizing construction of a $2.15 million hostel system for hikers and bicyclists in state parks has gained final legislative approval from the Senate.

The measure (SB420) by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, was sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday when the Senate concurred in Assembly amendments to the bill on a 28-0 vote.

The proposal would require the state Department of Parks and Recreation to develop a hostel plan by next Feb. 1 for submission to the legislature.

The legislation called for hostel facilities in state parks in Butte, Del Norte, Fresno, Humboldt, Kern, Los Angeles, Marin, Mendocino, Monterey, Nevada, Orange, Placer, Plumas, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sonoma, Tulare and Ventura counties.

GYM CLASSES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Local school districts would be allowed to exempt 11th and 12th grade students from compulsory physical education classes under a bill which has narrowly passed the Senate.

The measure (SB1746) by Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, was sent to the Assembly yesterday on a 22-8 vote—just one more than needed for passage.

Opposing the bill was Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, who contended it moved away from the American tradition of cultivating a "sound mind and body."

However, Alquist said his measure would not abolish compulsory gym classes—but just give local schools more control over the type of classes they offer.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Three Simple Treatments Used For Children Who Wet The Bed

The treatment of enuresis (bedwetting) boils down to 1. simple advice and encouragement, 2. medications, such as imipramine, and 3. "buzzers." Almost 94 per cent of enuretic children respond to one or more of these remedies. In addition, we think we know why some children have this problem. The nerves that control the bladder are not fully mature. This, plus the fact that enuresis occurs during deep sleep when the pressure within the bladder increases enough to initiate urination.

IT IS UNREASONABLE to scold or punish these children for wetting the bed or reward them for being dry. Since the accident occurs during deep sleep, the child is not aware of it. The doctor encourages the tyke when he tells him that other boys and girls do the same and control will occur when he grows up. Heredity may play a role if he comes from a family of "deep sleepers" and "slow maturers."

Tests also are conducted to determine whether a urinary infection or a neurogenic or psychiatric disorder exists.

Imipramine is given if there is no disease and pep talks do not work. Sleep research laboratory sutdies of these children show that the problem occurs in stages IIIand IV of nonREM (deep sleep) periods. It does not occur during REM periods when sleep is lightest and dreaming occurs. Imipramine is effective because it increases the stage II sleep period and does not allow the normal increase in the pressure within the bladder. As a result, the medication helps to decrease the irritability of the immature bladder.

BUZZERS ARE not new but, to be successful, must be used properly and intelligently. The child sleeps on a pad that makes an electrical connection with a buzzer as soon as it is wet. Awakened by the sound, the youngster jumps out of bed, turns off the buzzer, and rushes to the bathroom. The idea is to beat the buzzer. Heavy sheets and wearing clothes below the waist delays completion of the circuit with obvious consequences. According to one study, 92 per cent became dry when the buzzer device was used as suggested.

Dr. Van Dellen welcomes reader questions. While he cannot reply to them individually, he will answer those of general interest in his column. Write to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

COXSACKIE VIRUSES

M. B. writes: What can you tell me about the Coxsackie viruses?

REPLY

I can tell you that there are 30 different types. These are primarily intestinal viruses that in some ways resemble polio viruses. They cause ill-defined diseases and fevers, including infections involving the mouth, diaphragm, nervous system, and intestine. Symptoms range from fever, gastrointestinal and/or respiratory distress to epidemic myalgia and herpangina. Rare symptoms that may occur are rash, paralysis, and meningitis.

CALM CURES COLITIS

A reader writes: Is there any known cure for mucous colitis?

REPLY

Yes, provided the basic nervous disorder can be corrected. The irritable bowel is one of the most common of all intestinal problems. Most of the victims have abdominal pains, but some develop diarrhea, often with the elimination of considerable mucous. Drugs that quiet the intestines are most helpful.

DISINTEGRATING BONE

L. P. writes: Our 12-year-old son has osteochondiritis dissecans of the leg. Please explain this condition.

REPLY

In this disease, there is noninflammatory disintegration of the bone in the hip or knee. The cause is not known except that something disrupts the blood supply to a part of the bone. In most instances, attention to the disorder is brought on by a painful limp that worsens with activity. Distress may be felt in the hip, thigh, or knee. The X-ray shows changes and rest is needed until circulation returns and healthy bone develops. Many youngsters use crutches or a weighbearing brace. Others require surgery.

HEAD PUNCHING

A reader writes: My doctor wants me to have a neurological examination. But a neighbor tells me that, in this examination, the head is punched or pulled back 50 to 75 times. I can't believe a doctor would to this to a 64-year-old woman with diabetes. However, I thought it best to ask.

REPLY

I'm not familiar with an examination of this type and see no reason for manhandling the head in this way. Are you sure your neighbor was examined by an M.D.? The neurological examination consists of a thorough study of the motor and sensory nerves of the body, including reflexes, muscle strength, balance, and coordination.

CAT AND COUGH

Mrs. P. writes: A neighbor gave my 18-year-old daughter a cat. She keeps the animal in her room and it sleeps with her. Since acquiring this pet, she has developed a hacking cough. Do you think the animal is responsible?

REPLY

Yes, if the girl is allergic to animal dander. But there are other causes of bronchitis and allergy skin tests should be done before blaming the cat.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Apparent Liquor Industry Victory

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill proposing higher liquor taxes and abolition of fair trade prices on alcohol in California has suffered a serious and possible fatal setback in a legislative committee.

The action occurred in a subcommittee of the Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday after a San Francisco psychiatrist accused lawmakers of accepting "special favors" from the liquor industry.

Dr. Joel Fort, lecturer at the University of California School of Criminology at Berkeley and author of the book "Alcohol: Our Biggest Drug Problem," told the five-member subcommittee the liquor industry uses "financial power" through the "well-financed lobbyists of the industry who pay for the campaigns of many legislators."

Subcommittee Chairman George Zenovich, D-Fresno, told Fort if he has any evidence of legislators doing anything illegal, "the district attorney is right across the street."

Sen. Donald L. Grunsky, R-Aptos, characterized Fort as a publicity seeker and told him to "make his statements" and "then go home and watch them on TV."

On a unanimous 5-0 vote, the subcommittee recommended that the full committee take no action on the bill, a procedure that would kill it. The measure, opposed by the liquor industry, is scheduled for a vote of the entire committee tomorrow.

Both Gov. Ronald Reagan and Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, have publicly opposed the measure (SB1497) by Sen. Arlen Gregorio, D-San Mateo.

The bill called for a doubling of the state excise tax on liquor and the repeal of the fair trade law, which allows the state to control the price of liquor.

Proponents said by freeing the price controls on alcohol the cost would drop about 10 per cent and the cost to consumers would not increase even with the added tax.

The measure would provide about $25 million for alcohol rehabilitation programs, all of which would be coordinated at the local level.

Representatives from the liquor and beer industry testified that they opposed the measure because it would force small "mom and pop" liquor retailers out of business. They also said the lower operating profits would be transferred to other items sold in small grocery stores.

"It is our position that the fair trade laws in California relating to alcoholic beverages not only protect the small independent businessmen from the monopolistic practices of the giants in the industry at the retail level," said Larry Razzano, president of the California Retail Liquor Dealers Association, "but likewise in the long run protect the consumer in the pricing area as well."

Earlier at a news conference, Fort charged that liquor lobbyists "pay for the campaigns of many lawmakers, ply them with free booze, food and women, and then tell them how to vote if they want to keep getting these favors."

Fort told newsmen he was referring specifically to liquor lobbyist James D. Garibaldi, one of the highest spending and powerful lobbyists in Sacramento.

"There's not one ounce of truth in it," Garibaldi said. "He'd better be damned careful if he's making statements like that or he's going to get one big fat lawsuit."

Fort said he has worked professionally since 1955 in the field of sexual problems and has interviewed or worked with prostitutes who had been hired by lobbyists in Sacramento and Washington, D.C.

He said many of the prostitutes had been hired by the alcohol lobby in both capitals.

Reinecke Is Predicting June Victory

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Although the California Polls show his voter support has sharply declined, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke believes the survey still indicates he will win the June Republican primary election for governor.

The public opinion survey of GOP voters showed Reinecke's support had dropped significantly since February—from 71 to 51 per cent. It also showed his chief rival, Controller Houston Flournoy, with 74 per cent, up from 29 per cent in February.

Since the February poll was taken Reinecke has been indicted on federal perjury charges.

Reinecke issued a statement yesterday saying, "This poll shows that when I am cleared there will be an overwhelming turn to me as their candidate by the undecided voters and we will win a runaway victory.

He referred to a section of the poll which asked voters whether they would be more likely to vote for Reinecke if he is found innocent prior to the election.

Of those currently favoring Flournoy, 35 per cent said they would be more likely to vote for Reinecke in the event of an innocent verdict.

Flournoy yesterday said the poll showed him narrowing the gap between him and Reinecke "substantially and significantly."

"I'm confident the trend will continue and that we will indeed win the primary election in June," he declared.

Brown Still Atop Gubernatorial Poll

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Edmund G. Brown Jr. is still the top candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination but his margin ahead of the rest of the pack has narrowed, the California Poll reported today.

Pollster Mervin D. Field said that Secretary of State Brown is the favorite of 29 per cent California Democrats while Assembly Speaker Robert Moretti is now second with 16 per cent and San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto third at 15 per cent.

When the 24 per cent who have yet to make up their minds are omitted, Brown leads with 38 per cent to 21 per cent for Moretti and 20 per cent for Alioto. Last August, the comparable figures showed Brown with 52 per cent, Alioto with 28 per cent and Moretti with 11 per cent.

There will be 15 other candidates on the Democratic ballot June 4 and the poll indicates that none appears ready to challenge the three front-runners.

Los Angeles supervisor Baxter Ward is fourth with 6 per cent, Congressman Jerome Waldie next at 5 per cent, businessman William Matson Roth fifth with 3 per cent and lawyer Herb Hafif sixth with 1 per cent. The other candidates combined draw another 1 per cent support.

Wine Drinking Increases By 10.4 Pct. In State

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Californians guzzled a record 526.8 million gallons of beer, wine and hard liquor during the past fiscal year, according to state tax records.

In its annual report yesterday, the state Board of Equalization also said that wine consumption rose to an all-time high in California during fiscal 1972-73.

Taxes on alcoholic beverages in 1972-73 totaled $114.8 million, up 2.8 per cent from the previous year.

Leading all other beverages, overall wine consumption reached 73.5 million gallons, a 10.4 per cent increase over 1971-72.

Beer and distilled spirits consumption also increased but at smaller rates. Beer went to 404.9 million gallons from 395.6 million and distilled spirits from 47.4 million gallons to 48.3 million.

Per capita consumption for California's 20.6 million residents for 1972-73 was beer 19.63 gallons; wines 3.57 gallons, and distilled spirits 2.35 gallons.

The report also said cigarette tax revenue rose 2.9 per cent over 1971-72 for a total of $258.5 million. It said 2.75 billion packs of cigarettes were smoked during 1972-73.

Overall, the board said, it raised more than $4.7 billion during the fiscal year.

The board said its collection cost was 81 cents per $100, equally last year's record low cost.

In addition to cigarette and alcoholic beverage taxes, the board collected the following: retail sales and use tax $2.1 billion; insurance gross premiums tax $180 million; private car tax $5.7 million; gasoline tax $698.9 million; use fuel tax $48.2 million, and transportation tax $29.9 million.

The board said it also collected $732.7 million in sales and use tax for local jurisdictions. In addition, it said its assessments of public utilities and railroads yielded $506.3 million in local property taxes.

Ex-POW Praises Foreign Policy

HONOLULU (UPI) — John S. McCain III, a Navy commander and for six years a prisoner of war in North Vietnam, praised President Nixon yesterday for strides in foreign policy. McCain said he hoped Watergate would not overshadow Nixon's accomplishments.

"I believe the reputations of presidents most times are based on their foreign policy," he told a Hawaii Freedom Foundation awards banquet. "I hope we will not allow Watergate to obscure some of the wonderful things President Nixon and his administration have done for the country."

Older Students Are Invited To Open House

An open house for persons wishing to continue their education or to begin studying after several years' absence from school is being hosted by Dominican College of San Rafael on May 1.

The event will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Archbishop Alemany Library on the campus.

Six persons who have returned to college, or begun higher education after they were 22 years old, will discuss their experiences.

Visitors may also tour the college's 100-acre campus, attend classes and special lectures and have lunch in the college dining hall.

Nuclear Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill to authorize $3.67 billion spending by the Atomic Energy Commission, including $890.2 million for research and testing of nuclear weapons, was approved by voice vote yesterday by the House.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday:
Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.

Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Bridge Leaper Was Modestan

Stanley E. Jacobsen, a 58-year-old tire salesman from Modesto, jumped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after 10 a.m. yesterday.

A motorist who was following Jacobsen's northbound car said the vehicle stopped midspan. Jacobsen, who was carrying a bottle of liquor, got out went to the east railing, put the bottle down and jumped, according to the witness.

Jacobsen's body was recovered by the Coast Guard.

$150,000 Fire

WOODLAKE (AP) — Fire yesterday raced through Nickel's Payless Food Store here, causing $150,000 damage, a fire official in this Tulare County community said.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8 p.m. — The terms of six of the country's most influential presidents — George Washington, Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk, Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt — are covered on "Power and the Presidency," a special focusing on how each one helped to establish the foundations of power on which succeeding presidencies have been based. George C. Scott will narrate the "American Parade" presentation.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8 p.m. — The saga of the return of thousands of salmon to the waters of their birth, and the perilous migration of the red salmon to spawn in the remote Fraser Lake in Alaska is captured on film by Captain Cousteau and the crew of the Calypso on "The Tragedy of the Red Salmon," another episode in the "Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau" series.

KGO (7), KNTV &11), 9 p.m. — Ruby Dee, J. D. Cannon, Eileen Heckart and Clarion Taylor star in "Wedding Band," a bittersweet love story which focuses on the 10-year relationship between a white man and a black woman. The drama takes place in 1918 in a small South Carolina town, where a black seamstress and a poor white baker find that their relationship is not only a difficult one, but also illegal.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 11:30 p.m. — A year-long national search for a new singing cowboy star neared its goal this week as the names of eight finalists out of a field of more than 2,500 young men were announced. The eight men will compete to be the new successor of the likes of Gene Autry and Roy Rogers in "The Search for the Singing Cowboy," which will star John Davidson as host.

It Could Have Been Real Thing

WORTHING, England (UPI) — An actor playing the role of the condemned Thomas Moore in a stage version of "A Man For All Seasons" nearly lost his head yesterday when he failed to get it out from under the executioner's axe in time.

Luckily for David Beale, the axe was made of wood.

Beale had his head on the block during the final moments of a dress rehearsal of the play. According to the script, as the executioner swung his blade, Beale was to pull a concealed lever which drew the block safely out of range and toss a fake head onto the stage.

But the lever jammed and the wooden axe came down right where it should have for a real execution.

CHANNEL CHUCKLES

Dimes Walk Planned Saturday

A 20-mile March of Dimes walk-a-thon will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday at Kenilworth Park on Payran Street in Petaluma.

Volunteer walkers will be sponsored by individuals and organizations which promise to contribute donations on a per-mile basis, a spokesman said.

The money will be used to support more than 100 birth defects centers across the country and to finance educational campaigns and scholarships for students entering health fields.

The walk will include free refreshments at the end of the route for all walkers, as well as water stops along the way. The route will follow a clockwise path in and around Petaluma.

Awards will be given schools in Petaluma and Rohnert Park which pledge the most money and provide the most walkers.

Weapon Sales

PARIS (UPI) — France will sell $150 million in missiles, night-fighting equipment, mortars and ammunition to seven Arab countries, the newspaper Le Monde said today.

TELEVISION REVIEW

News Show Set In Big Town

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Six years after its Los Angeles station began a local two-hour evening news show, NBC is about to begin a similar effort here next Monday at its flagship station, WNBC-TV.

Because this is the nation's richest video market and erroneously considered by the townies to be the navel of new events, things like WNBC's move usually commence with far more hoopla than elsewhere in the U.S.

Such was the case the other day when the station gave an advance peep at " 'NewsCenter 4,' New York's first two-hour nightly news broadcast."

NBC invited print writers — even "Women's Wear Daily" sent a delegate — to hear about the show. It issued press kits outlining the new program and the journalistic histories of those involved in it.

It assembled anchormen and executives and threw open the doors of Studio 6-B, home of the show and former home of the "Tonight" show. Later, there were free eats at the 64th floor of the RCA Building.

The basic idea of all this was to publicize the show as it starts its ordeal-by-viewer. The theory is a lot of viewers who now don't watch WNBC news might tune in and hopefully remain steady customers.

RUBY DEE

That would translate into higher ratings, which are to TV what circulation figures are to newspapers. And WNBC's evening news show, faced by those of ABC and CBS stations here, now is a poor third in ratings.

Higher ratings mean higher advertising fees. But there's a second factor that's equally important. WNBC's move, if it clicks, could give a greatly improved "lead-in" audience — and ratings — to the national "NBC Nightly News," now a close second to the "CBS Evening News."

On entertainment matters, ABC says at least six of its affiliates decline to carry "The Wedding Band" tonight. It's a two-hour play, set in a South Carolina seaport town in 1918 and concerns a 10-year love affair between a white baker and a black woman.

Wish I could say this Joseph Papp-produced epic had more going for it than fine acting by Ruby Dee, among others. But it doesn't.

It's just bloated soap opera with sporadic racial epithets, including one outburst near the end that contains the most racially and sexually abusive language I've ever heard on commercial TV.

They'll cause heavy viewer complaints. The sad thing is, this play, as adapted for TV, has no real defense. It's a dog, pure and simple.

Marin City Groups Claim Voices Muffled In Plan

The Marin City Council and Marin City Public Housing Tenants Representation Association have filed a complaint against the county housing authority and its executive director, Wallace K. Shepherd, according to council chairman Melvin Atkins.

The complaint, filed Friday with the Department of Housing and Urban Development in San Francisco, asks that funds be withheld for remodeling of 103 public housing apartments in the community.

It charges that the seven-member tenants modernization committee is a token group handpicked by Shepherd and that tenants do not have an adequate voice in planning and coordinating the $431,200 project, Atkins said.

The complaint also accuses Shepherd and the authority of not living up to federal regulations which call for hiring Marin City residents for remodeling jobs.

Work on the controversial renovation program, which includes a $177,000 landscaping project, began April 1 and is expected to be completed in six months.

Atkins said council members expect a decision in the matter from HUD officials this week.

Sausalito Sets Hearing On Successor To Rappa

The Sausalito City Council last night set May 7 for public discussion on how to fill the vacancy left by Saturday's resignation of Leonard F. Rappa.

The council made no decision on whether to call a special election or appoint a successor to Rappa during a closed session before the council meeting. This was the second time the council has met privately to discuss filling the seat vacated by Rappa after five weeks in office.

A petition signed by 700 persons supporting the appointment of Earl F. Dunphy, the defeated incumbent, was presented to the council despite Mayor Evert H. Heynneman's attempts to quell comments on the pending decision.

The large audience that came to support the Dunphy appointment chanted "voice of the people" while one person told the council that "if the people want it, who are you to say no." "The sentiment of the people is very clear," said another, noting the 700 signatures and adding that they "demand" the council take this into consideration before making a final decision.

One man opposed the petitioners and said they were a "very energetic minority" of Sausalito voters.

Legally the council must select a replacement within 30 days or hold a special election. City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said a special election could be consolidated with the November statewide elections. He also said the council could choose to select an interim replacement until the 1976 city elections.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

TAXIS — Postponed until May 7 a resolution granting rate increases to Sausalito Yellow Cab Co.

SCHOOL — Called a review session for Tuesday at 7 p.m. to discuss plans for converting Central School classrooms to office use.

CONTROL — Voted unanimously to have the staff rewrite an ordinance that would require businesses causing traffic backup in city streets to provide traffic control programs.

AGENDAS — Voted 3-to-1, councilman Sally Stanford opposed, to post agendas and the results of all meetings on the door at city hall and to identify by initials the voting records of councilmen.

VACANCIES — Continued until the budget hearings a request by councilman Violeta Autumn to reduce costs by not filling vacancies on city staff.

SUBDIVISIONS — Approved 3-to-1, councilman Stanford opposed, the first reading of an amendment that would require subdivisions of four or fewer lots to comply with the general plan.

UTILITIES — Continued to May 7 hearing on an ordinance that would require evidence that water and sewer hook-ups would be issued at least by the completion of the proposed structure.

SERVICE — Voted unanimously to raise the yearly cost of mailing agendas by $15 to $10 for Sausalito taxpayers and property owners and $20 for all others.

Resolution Will Bring Cuban Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The stiff objections of Latin America to U.S. policy on Cuba have apparently set the gears of Congress grinding on a broad review of U.S. relations with Fidel Castro's Marxist government.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved yesterday a "sense of the Congress" resolution calling for a new look at U.S.-Cuban relations by both the administration and Congress.

The resolution, sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and attached to the 1975 State Department budget authorization bill, will lead shortly to hearings on the subject, committee sources said.

In a related action, the Senate Banking Committee was urged by a prominent businessman, Donald Kendall, chairman of Pensico, Inc., to repeal a law that bans foreign subsidiaries of U.S. companies from selling to countries embargoed by the United States.

Last week the State Department granted an exception to allow Argentine subsidiaries of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler to sell cars to Cuba. Chrysler yesterday signed a $24,000,000 deal to sell Havana 9,000 Dodge sedans.

But the United States still in general bans its citizens from trading with Cuba.

Javits attended a meeting of the Organization of American States (OAS) in Atlanta, Ga., Saturday and a two-day interAmerican meeting in Washington last week. Aides said he came away impressed with the strength of Latin objections to U.S. policy.

Meantime Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., had proposed repealing a 1962 cogressional resolution condemning Cuba for exporting revolution, and which is the basis of U.S. policy. When Pell brought up the repealer Tuesday, several conservatives objected on grounds it could be misinterpreted as a U.S. endorsement of the Castro regime.

Javits then drew up on the spot a substitute measure calling for both the administration and Congress to review U.S. policy with an eye to "recognition of the traditional friendship of the people of the United States and the people of Cuba."

Sources said the resolution is likely to pass Congress and probably will not be vetoed by President Nixon because it does not carry the force of law.

Hilarita's Final Map Is Approved

The Tiburon City Council has approved the final map for the Hilarita moderate-income housing project.

With the unanimous approval Monday, developers of the 102-unit complex are now free to get a building permit from the city planning department.

Edwin G. Weed, one of the project organizers, said he expects closing papers to be signed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development in two weeks, with groundbreaking soon after.

As a condition for final approval, according to Weed, the Tiburon Ecumenical Association, which is building the complex, has guaranteed that Hilarita will remain a moderate-income facility for at least 20 years.

The development must also pay 50 per cent of the cost of building a left-turn lane on Tiburon Boulevard to serve the project.

The project received a final commitment for a $2.6 million loan in January from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

More funds are being provided through a limited dividend corporation which invests in low and moderate-income housing projects.

The Tiburon City Council also:

CONDOMINIUMS — Approved at first reading an ordinance regulating the conversion of apartment projects into condominiums. Approved at first reading an ordinance which will end the city's year-long ban on condominium conversions.

POLICIES — Postponed action on new circulation and scenic highway policies of the general plan until an environmental impact report can be prepared on all new policies to be included in the plan.

Ferry Proposed From East Bay

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, yesterday proposed legislation allowing Emeryville to operate a ferry from the East Bay to San Francisco.

The proposed ferry ride would take 15 minutes and cover five miles of water, Petris said.

Such means of transit, he added, would partially relieve congestion on the Bay Bridge, help reduce pollution and "provide a pleasant and congenial method to end the work-a-day blues."

Bill Would Aid Attack Victims

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Rape victims in Connecticut would no longer be required to produce witnesses or other evidence backing up their accusations of sexual attack if a bill approved yesterday by the state senate becomes law.

Sen. George Guidera of Weston said Connecticut is the only state in the nation which requires corroboration before a rape conviction can be secured.

A Special Day For Athletics

They can't run very fast and their jumping doesn't set any records but it's still the Olympics. A very special kind of Olympics.

It will be the sixth annual Marin County Special Olympics for retarded children and adults, Saturday at Novato High School. More than 250 will be competing in running events, standing long jump, softball throw, tumbling and swimming.

The best of them will qualify for the state championships June 28-30 at UCLA. The others will all have their chance to compete, just like other kids who don't have the handicap of being retarded. It's a special day for all of them.

It is being put on by the Marin Aid to Retarded Children with help from the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation. Those who want to help can sponsor an athlete by purchasing a sponsorship ticket at $1 from the Marin Aid to Retarded Children (MARC), P.O. Box 55, San Rafael. The sponsorship program is designed to give participating athletes additional rooters. It lets them know there are people who really care.

Saturday's events start at 9 a.m. with a parade, opening ceremonies and lighting of the Olympic torch. Actual competition begins at 10 a.m.

Sam Shoemaker, director of the meet, and all those who are donating time and energy deserve a round of applause for helping these kids get a chance at sports. It's good, because sports doesn't have to be confined to just those persons who possess excellent skills and strength. Sports is for everybody.

Fortunatley, all the retarded children and adults who compete in the day's activities come out winners. Instead of the traditional gold, silver and bronze awards to the winners and nothing for the losers, meet organizers are making sure all who enter come out with a campaign ribbon. In most cases, those ribbons will be among some very important possessions of these kids.

DATES HAVE been announced for the sixth annual Tennis for Heart tournament — June 15-16 and 22-23 at San Domenico School for Girls in Sleepy Hollow. The tournament will include men's singles and doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles for Classes A and B. According to tournament chairman Buz Thiercof, the tourney netted $1,700 for the Marin County Heart Association last year and the goal this time around is $2,500. That's tennis for a reason.

GIANTS RESERVE CATCHER John Boccabella, a native San Franciscan who was reared and still lives in Marin, will be feted at a "welcome home" dinner Saturday night at Rocca's Restaurant at 555 Golden Gate Avenue in San Francisco. Putting on the affair is the Giants Boosters of Northern California and "reservations are a must," according to Pres. Allan B. Murray. Cocktails are at 6:30 and dinner at 8.

Perry Finally Does It

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians' hurler Gaylord Perry said the law of averages finally caught up.

But Gene Tenace of the Oakland Athletics said it was Perry's fork ball that did it.

Whatever the cause, Perry and the Indians beat the A's 2-1 yesterday to end a four-game losing streak.

For Perry, it was the first victory over the Athletics in nine efforts.

"I felt the law of averages was long overdue after losing eight straight . . . to Oakland," Perry said.

Tenace said Perry "has a very effective fork ball" and as far as he's concerned "it did not resemble or react anything like a spit ball."

The Oakland first baseman said none of the other players said anything about Perry throwing a spit ball. Oakland Manager Alvin Dark agreed.

"I really didn't notice anything different," Dark said.

Tenace said he thought the whole spit ball controversy had been "blown out of proportion to an extent. Some managers and players are using this as a scapegoat, and I think it's unfair for a guy like Gaylord."

Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte called it a great pitching duel.

"You're not going to see a better pitching duel than you had out there today," he said. "In all my years in baseball I haven't seen any better matchups. It was the type of game where one hit meant the difference."

Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter gave up only three hits to Perry's eight.

However, one of the Cleveland hits was a two-run double by Charlie Spikes that broke a scoreless tie in the seventh inning.

Spikes' big blow followed two walks — one of them intentional — given up by Hunter. Catfish walked only three batters in the entire game, and Perry gave up only two bases on balls.

BIG BASEBALL WIN

Redwood In Front

It took a great deal of effort, and some help from unexpected quarters, but Redwood High School's baseball team is back in first place today.

The two-time defending Marin County Athletic League champions eked out an eight-inning, 2-1 victory over San Marin yesterday in a game played at San Marin due to wet field conditions at Redwood.

Steve Spelman came off the bench to play a hero's role, singling home the winning run in the eighth after Gary LaTorre reached base on an error and moved to second on another bobble.

Redwood, winner of four straight games, now stands 5-1 in the MCAL. Previously unbeaten San Marin is 3-1.

Redwood scored in the first inning on an RBI single by LaTorre, but San Marin retaliated in the third on Ken Ronshausen's run-scoring single.

Yesterday's other three games were rained out and rescheduled for tomorrow. On tap are Drake vs. Terra Linda, Albert Field, 3:30 p.m., and Novato at Tamalpais and San Rafael at Marin Catholic, both at 4 p.m.

VOTE EXPECTED

NFL Talks Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League owners went back into session today to consider the details of what seems to be an almost certain expansion beyond its current 26 clubs.

After listening to what Commissioner Peter Rozell called, "a lengthy, comprehensive report," from the League's expansion committee yesterday, the owners adjourned for the day. "We hope," said Rozelle, "to have a vote tomorrow."

That meant another day of waiting for five cities bidding for NFL franchises. They are Memphis, Honolulu, Tampa, Seattle and Phoenix. "We've waited this long," said a representative of one of the bidding cities. "We can wait another day."

It appears that the wait will be worthwhile for some of the cities. The committee's report to the NFL owners supported expansion and touched on all aspects of the matter from a timetable to stocking new teams to financing.

Rozelle said the owners had held considerable discussion following the report but would not indicate whether the issue could be resolved quickly.

Rozell indicated that the discussion among the owners now centers not so much on whether the NFL should expand as it does on how, when and to where it should expand.

Rozelle admitted that expansion wasn't the only thing the owners discussed in their day-long meeting.

"I think," he said smiling, "the World Football League was touched on."

The Commissioner said he did not feel that the development of the rival league had anything to do with NFL expansion. "It's not really relevant to their operation as far as we can see," he said. He did, however, note that seven of the 12 WFL cities already had NFL teams.

Rozelle said he was deeply troubled over the signing of future contracts with the new league by NFL stars such as Larry Csonka, Calvin Hill, Kenny Stabler, and others.

"I think it's very bad for pro football," the commissioner said. "It creates conflicts of interest and divided loyalties. I consider it very, very unhealthy."

3 Locations For Regional Tennis Tourney

There will be three Marin County sites for the first round of the Bay area Women's Doubles Round Robin tennis tournament.

Belvedere, Mill Valley and Marin Country clubs will host local play May 6 starting at 10 a.m. Twelve players will advance to the Youth Tennis Foundation-sponsored finals May 13 at 10 a.m. at the Orindawoods Tennis Club.

Regional play will be held simultaneously at the three other regions: San Francisco, Peninsula and East Bay. Girls 9-15 are eligible.

Small Purse For 'Open', Say Women

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Beneath the soft-spoken exterior, some of the members of the Ladies Professional Golf Association are incensed.

The U.S. Open for the ladies at La Grange, Ill., July 18-21 will carry a $40,000 price tag compared to the $225,000 purse at the U.S. Open for men at Oakmont, Pa., June 21-24.

"The U.S. Open is supposed to be our most prestigious event, but it isn't," said Jane Blalock, of Highland Beach, Fla. "Our Open is just a shadow of the men's Open. The men will play for nearly six times the money we will play for. Is that fair?"

The former school teacher from New Hampshire and the other lady pros played for $200,000 at Palm Springs, Calif., last week. First prize in the Colgate-Dinah Shore Winner's Circle tournament was $32,000.

"I'd rather win the Dinah Shore," said Miss Blalock. "It has more prestige. It makes the U.S. Open look like Podunk."

"I think," said Jo Ann Prentice, of Miami, "we should be playing for more money. We do draw better than the purse indicates."

Miss Prentice won at Palm Springs, earning $32,000 and a new car in a sudden-death playoff with Miss Blalock and Sandra Haynie, from Dalias.

LPGA Executive Director Bud Erickson said his organization met with U.S. Golf Association officials at the Masters in Augusta, Ga., this month.

"The USGA insists that $40,000 is all that their budget allows," Erickson said.

San Rafael Swimmers Win Dual Meet Championship

San Rafael High School yesterday won its first swimming championship since the great dynasty of the mid-1960s — and did it under circumstances which hint at another dynasty in the mid-1970s.

The Bulldogs defeated visiting Redwood, 105-68. In other Marin County Athletic League matches yesterday, Terra Linda defeated visiting San Marin, 106-65, and host Novato downed Drake, 98-62.

San Rafael's championship clinching overshadowed an outstanding performance by Art Morrill of San Marin, who won the 200-yard individual medley in 1:59.6, which automatically qualifies him for All-America recognition. It was the only automatic All-America time in the MCAL this year.

San Rafael completed its season with an 11-1 record. Terra Linda is 10-1-1 following the announcement by Novato coach Joe Morgan that the Hornets have forfeited their March 1 meet with the Trojans, which was postponed due to an unheated pool.

Of that group, only Baerthel will swim varsity in the league meet Friday at College of Marin. The others will drop down to Class B, for which they are eligible because of age or size.

Many other swimmers around the league are doing the same thing, including stars like Dick Atwood of Tamalpais, Matt Lager of Redwood and Terra Linda's Dan Stewart, Bill Power and Tom Olund.

The meet will start at 3:30 p.m. There will be three heats in each event. Top six swimmers will advance to the Division II meet May 5 at Redwood High.

The diving portion will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at College of Marin. Again, the top six in varsity and "B" will advance.

JUST ASK FOX

Expos Aren't Pushovers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Take it from San Francisco Giants pilot Charlie Fox—the Montreal Expos are no longer pushovers.

"Sure, when they first came in the league they weren't too good," Fox said after his team lost 8-4 last night. "They still don't scare you like some teams, but they are a sound team."

The Expos' victory ran their record to a flashy 9-2 this season.

"I wouldn't say they beat us," Fox added. "We beat ourselves."

Giants pitchers walked seven batters and an error gave Montreal four unearned runs.

The Giants, with Tom Bradley pitching, were cruising along with a 4-2 lead in the sixth inning when the Expos broke loose for five runs to win.

The victory went to Mike Torrez, who makes a habit of beating the Giants. He has a 7-0 record in his major league career against San Francisco.

"Torrez has pitched better but he was good enough," Expo Manager Gene Mauch said. Relief pitcher Tom Walker blanked the Giants for the final four innings to get a save.

Mauch credited the trade with the Los Angeles Dodgers that brought Willie Davis for making Montreal a contender.

"It's possible that Mike Marshall held back some of our pitchers like Walker," Mauch suggested. "Now that he's gone, they are getting a chance."

Marshall went to the Dodgers for Davis.

"I said last year we were one phenom away from being a respectable team," Mauch said. "Willie Davis might not be a phenom but he has made a big difference in our team."

Davis had three hits against the Giants to keep his average over the .300 mark.

"I can't do all the things I used to do but I can still play," the 34-year-old Davis said. "This team is going to win and I want to be a part of it."

The Giants had a 4-2 lead against Torrez, partly because of a homer by Bobby Bonds, his third of the season. But Bradley hit a wild streak and reliever Don Rose couldn't get any of the four batters he faced. After that it was too late.

The Giants were to send lefty Mike Caldwell to the mound in the finale of the short series this afternoon. Ernie McAnally was to pitch for the Expos.

See Giants' box score on inside page.

Bears Claim Veteran Pass Catcher Dale

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Veteran Minnesota Vikings wide receiver Carroll Dale, 36 today, was released yesterday by the Vikings and claimed on waivers by the Chicago Bears.

Dale caught 14 passes for the Vikings last season after he was released by the Green Bay Packers.

His peak season was in 1970 when he had 49 receptions for Green Bay, where he played most of his professional career.

Marin Rained Out

Always Excitement In A's Clubhouse

The Oakland Coliseum has seen its share of controversy, tirades, verbal battles and just plain unusual happenings. Sunday was no exception.

There is an unwritten rule that if someone throws at one of your hitters a response will be forthcoming. The response is almost always directed at the first opposing batter to come to the plate.

In the ninth inning of Sunday's game Darold Knowles threw one up and in on little Danny Doyle of the California Angels. The lead off hitter in the bottom of the ninth was Reggie Jackson and Skip Lockwood's first pitch sent him spinning. Reggie took two steps toward the mound and pointed an accusing finger at Lockwood. The umpire then went to the mound to restore order. A still ruffled Jackson struck out, yelled something toward the California bench, fired his batting helmet into the dugout area and sat down steaming.

THE SCENE FOLLOWING the game in the Oakland clubhouse could only be described as unbelievable. As I walked in Reggie was calmly answering questions. All of a sudden Vida Blue started slowly reeling off some of the worst language imaginable. Then, saying he "just had to" do it, he picked up a bat while still cursing and attacked a bat rack.

During the entire time Vida was putting on his display Reggie continued to calmly answer questions about his knockdown. He said that he told Lockwood to "throw the ball over the plate before I have to come out and hurt you."

REGGIE ALSO said he knows that the knockdown is part of the game but that he doesn't like it. He felt that it was his ex-college coach, Bobby Winkles, throwing at him and not Skip Lockwood.

Reggie yelled at Winkles as he left the plate that he'd "never forget this."

When asked what he was doing to help an obviously troubled Vida Blue, Reggie shook his head and said that he was trying to get him to concentrate on being as great as he can. Reggie credited Frank Robinson with helping him to realize his potential.

In another corner of the clubhouse Knowles was denying any intent in throwing at Doyle. He also took the opportunity to rip into Alvin Dark and his handling of the pitching staff.

IN THE OPPOSING clubhouse Winkles, though saying he didn't order the knockdown, felt that Reggie shouldn't have gotten so upset because he had to know it was coming. He said that Reggie is "a fine young man." He felt that he was probably ticked off at his old coach and that both Reggie and Sal Bando would bear down even harder the next time the two teams met.

Winkles felt that Knowles was wrong in throwing at Denny Doyle. Coach Whitey Herzog felt that Reggie should be mad at Knowles and not Winkles.

THE BEST LINE of the afternoon belonged to Skip Lockwood. When asked if he usually pitched Jackson up and in he answered, "I usually pitch him 500-footers."

Some things became evident throughout the entire proceedings. The biggest thing is that Dark has no control over his ball club. It would not surprise me to see him gone before the end of the season.

Blue will have to get his head together if he is to regain his winning ways. I was, frankly, surprised at his immaturity. There is hope here since Reggie felt it took him five years to reach an understanding of his situation.

The talent on this team is just too great to allow anything to cause it to fold. They sure do keep this game interesting.

Pitching Record For The Perrys

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

It's now official that Gaylord and Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians are the first family of modern pitching.

For years that honor was held by Christy and Henry Mathewson of the old New York Giants, who combined for 373 major league victories. Their record probably accounted for more barroom brawls than any other trivia question baseball had to offer.

"The answer," one obnoxious guy would say to the other, "is Christy and Henry Mathewson. 373 wins. Christy with a 373-188 lifetime record and Henry with 0-1."

The brawls, of course, started almost immediately.

Well, the bartenders of the U.S. can relax because the answer is now "legitimate"— 374 victories, with Gaylord Perry accounting for 179 and Jim for 195. In due time, they'll also pass the Neanderthal mark of 386 total victories compiled by Dad John and Walter Clarkson almost exclusively before the turn of the century.

Gaylord had the honor of putting the Perry brothers over the top yesterday when he pitched an eight-hitter to give the Indians a 2-1 triumph over the Oakland A's. It was Gaylord's second victory against one loss this season while Jim stands 1-1.

Royals 5 Red Sox 2

Ninth-inning singles by Buck Martinez, Amos Otis and Jim Wohlford drove in three runs and enabled the Royals' Al Fitzmorris to win his first game of the year.

Twins 1 Tigers 0

Steve Braun's homer in the top of the 10th produced the only run of the game and gave the Twins' Bill Campbell his second straight win for two perfect innings of relief pitching. Dick Woodson went the first eight innings for the Twins, allowing five hits and striking out four.

Orioles 4 Angels 3

Rich Coggins singled home the winning run for the Orioles with two out in the 10th after Don Baylor was hit by a pitched ball and went to second on a passed ball by Ellie Rodriguez. Reliever Bob Reynolds picked up his second win after shutting out the Angels for the last three innings while Dave Sells was the loser.

White Sox 3 Brewers 2

Jim Kaat and Cy Acosta combined in a three-hitter for the White Sox, who scored the decisive run in the sixth inning on singles by Dick Allen and Bill Melton, a walk and a wild pitch by Jim Slaton. Kaat, who went 6 1-3 innings, received credit for his second win with Acosta picking up a save.

The Mighty Dodger Bench

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

There is growing evidence to support the joke that the only bench stronger than the Los Angeles Dodgers' belongs to the U.S. Supreme Court.

For overall depth and quality among their second-stringers, the Dodgers would certainly have to rate among baseball's hierarchy.

Their tremendous depth was demonstrated again last night when the team got a three-run, pinch-hit homer from Tom Paciorek in the ninth inning to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

But while Paciorek's homer was the significant blow, it was by no means the only sterling contribution made by the bench against the Phillies. Manny Mota, Ken McMullen and Lee Lacy, neither of whom started, also were instrumental in the victory.

Mota, perhaps baseball's best pinch-hitter, delivered a pinch single in the seventh inning, enabling the Dodgers to tie the score at 2-2, while McMullen and Lacy both played pivotal roles in the ninth inning rally.

McMullen delivered a pinch single with one out in the ninth to start the rally and Lacy was sent in to run for him. When Dave Lopes hit into what appeared to be an easy forceplay, Lacy put his baserunning talents to work and knocked the ball out of second baseman Dave Cash's hands, putting runners at first and second.

Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark then relieved Frank Linzy with left-hander Mac Scarce and Paciorek, a righthanded hitter, was sent up to bat for left-handed-hitting Bill Buckner and delivered his game-winning blast.

"It was my first pinch-hit homer ever, Little League or anywhere," said Paciorek. "I don't consider myself a good pinch-hitter. We have better ones on the team like Manny Mota. It's just a matter of getting loose. It was a bad slider by Scarce over the fat part of the plate."

The hits by Mota, McMullen and Paciorek in pinch roles gives Dodger pinch-hitters 10 hits in 23 at bats this year. Mota has gotten five hits in seven pinch-hit appearances while Paciorek is two-for-three.

In other National League games, San Diego clubbed New York 10-2, Cincinnati defeated Chicago 5-3, St. Louis whipped Houston 8-2 and Montreal downed San Francisco 8-4.

Padres 10, Mets 2

Johnny Grubb and Enzo Hernandez combined their talents to spark the Padres' triumph. Grubb hit a three-run homer, double and single, scored three runs and drove in four while Hernandez hit two singles and stole three bases. Randy Jones went the distance for the Padres for his first victory afer four losses.

Reds 5, Cubs 3

Tony Perez hit a two-run homer and Roger Nelson and Pedro Borbon combined on a three-hitter in pacing the Reds' victory. Nelson allowed only one hit in six innings of work in posting his first win of the year.

Cardinals 8, Astros 2

Lou Brock collected three hits, stole three bases and scored twice to lead the Cardinals over the Astros. St. Louis scored four runs in their first at bat with Bake McBride contributing a two-run single to the rally. John Edwards had a two-run homer for Houston.

Golfers Retain Perfect Mark

San Rafael High School completed the first half of the Marin County Athletic League golf season with a perfect 7-0 record by defeating Drake (2-5) yesterday at San Geronimo National, 200-213.

Yesterday's other two matches were rained out. San Marin was to attempt to play Novato today at Indian Valley, while the Terra Linda-Tamalpais match at Mill Valley has not yet been rescheduled.

San Rafael 200, Drake 213 at San Geronimo National

Terra Linda Wins Key Tennis Match

Terra Linda High School won with surprising ease and Drake triumphed with surprising difficulty yesterday in Marin County Athletic League tennis action.

The Trojans knocked off contender Tamalpais, 5-2, while the Bulldogs struggled past visiting San Rafael, 4-3.

San Marin whitewashed visiting Novato, 7-0, in yesterday's other match. Marin Catholic's competition at Redwood was rained out and will be held Friday at 4 p.m.

Drake's Gene Lachelt took the first singles match from San Rafael's Mark Sabella, 7-6, 6-7, 6-2, and that slender victory proved essential to his team's triumph.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Restoration Takes Some Hard Work

Fiberglass boats that look rough after a winter's lay-up can be restored to some semblance of their original beauty by a few tricks, and hard work.

Don't despair if your boat has picked up a lot of dirt, grime, stains and scuffing. What do you expect from our dirty air, polluted waters and the constant rubbing against docks and piers. The hot summer sun that we like so much doesn't help either. It tends to fade the pigments in the resins from which the boat is made.

But optimistically, most of the trouble is merely superficial. It's only skin deep, and in most instances a good washing with a strong detergent will remove the grime and bring back the shine.

If it doesn't, try fiberglass or auto body polish. This material is the stuff that comes out of the can like thick cream, dries to a chalky powder as you rub it then polishes off to leave a clean, waxed surface.

Try two applications of this polishing material before trying anything else. If it doesn't do the trick get some auto body rubbing compound from garage supply house.

Rubbing compounds are an abrasive paste which cuts very quickly as it is applied, and then breaks down into a finer polishing powder. You can feel the abrasive material in the paste with your fingers. It usually cuts through the chalky surface film on a fiberglass boat, and restores its glow.

If that doesn't work to your satisfaction you'll have to repaint.

There are other fiberglass problems as our reader mail shows:

Q. There are two very deep gouges in my fiberglass runabout. Can they be filled satisfactorily?

A. No problem if you just get the right material from a marine dealer. The filler handles like putty and after it is hard it can be sanded down with fine, wetable sand paper. You can mix in color to match your boat, too.

Q. Ordinary putty was used to fill cracks in the transom of my boat. It has cracked again. What can I do?

A. Remove all the putty the best way you can, then fill the cracks with the best marine seam filler you can get. Tell your problem to a marine dealer, he will have the right material. Even the best is none too good.

Q. What should I use to scrub my fiberglass boat?

A. Usually a strong household detergent will do. Use a scrub brush if you like. If anything stronger is required, use the automobile rubbing compound mentioned above.

Q. My aluminum boat which is not painted has become stained. How can I brighten it?

A. It's usually just plain hard work. First of all, try kitchen scouring pads that are loaded with detergent. If the soap in them doesn't work, try dipping the pads in strong solutions of fruit acids such as citric or tartaric. You know how stewing fruit makes an aluminum pot sparkle.

Q. My white cabin top has little rusty brown specks in the paint. What can be done?

A. The only thing to do is sand them right out of existence. I have seen similar specks caused by particles of steel wool left after a clean up job. The steel rusts very quickly and stains whatever it is on. Clean up after using steel wool either with a vacuum cleaner or a tack rag.

Q. There are circular and wavy scratches from sand paper that show through the paint on my varnished boat. What can I do?

A. More sanding appears to be the only answer. Such scratches are usually caused by very course sand paper in oscillating or orbital sanding machines. Very fine sandpaper on a belt sander does the smoothest job.

Rain Can't Stop Petaluma Ballclub

UKIAH — Even a little bit of rain couldn't deny Petaluma High School yesterday.

Despite a third-inning shower that stopped the game for 10 minutes, the Trojans recorded their first North Bay League baseball victory of the year with a 4-2 win over host Ukiah.

In other high school baseball yesterday, Casa Grande took a 9-8 Sonoma County League victory over visiting Rancho Cotate, and the St. Vincent at Tomales game was postponed until today due to wet grounds.

Petaluma (1-4) managed just five hits off three Ukiah pitchers, but two of them by Stan Highstreet drove in three runs.

Rancho Cotate's shoddy defense gave the game away, as Casa Grande (2-1) earned just four of their runs off David Bayer and Tom Varley. The Cougars (2-2) committed seven errors.

Rancho Swimmers Eye Title

If its league dual meet season is any indication, Rancho Cotate High School will be crowned the Sonoma County League champion tomorrow in Santa Rosa.

The Cougars will be taking a perfect record (6-0) into the league finals after swamping visiting Sonoma yesterday, 113-54.

In other local high school swimming yesterday, Petaluma closed out its north bay league season with a 120-48 loss to host Napa. The Trojans (4-10) will swim in the NBL championships in Santa Rosa Friday.

Rancho Cotate won nine of 11 events, with Dale Soto and Wayne Eggert taking two each. Soto won the 200-yard freestyle 2:03.0) and the 100 butterfly (1:01.1), and Eggert took the 50 free (24.6 and the 100 breaststroke (1:11.1).

Rote Wants Tenfold Pay Increase

Combined AP & UPI

DALLAS — Kyle Rote Jr. wants a tenfold pay increase before signing with the Dallas Tornado soccer club.

Rote, who won the Superstar competition in Florida this year, wants $15,000. He made $1,500 last season and few, if any, players in the North American Soccer League make as much as $5,000.

Rote was the first American player to lead the league in scoring last season. He led the Tornado to the finals of the NASL championship before the team lost to Philadelphia.

Tennis

LONDON — Virginia Wade yesterday was named captain of Great Britain's four-member team in the May 12-19 Women's Federation Cup tennis tournament in Naples, Italy. Veronica Burton, Glynis Coles and Sue Barker complete the squad.

PHILADELPHIA — Sausalito's Rosemary Casals defeated Pat Bostrom, 6-2, 6-4, in the first round of a women's pro tennis tour tournament yesterday.

Elsewhere in tennis, Rhodesia's Andrew Pattison won the Clows Classic in Johannesburg with a 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Australia's John Alexander; Earl (Butch) Buccholz' comeback was wrecked by Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia, 7-5, 6-0, in a World Championship of Tennis blue group tournament; and Rod Laver held off Colin Dibley, 7-6, 6-4, as the Australians dueled in WCT green group competition.

Horse Racing

INGLEWOOD, Calif. — California Derby winner Agitate will be shipped from Hollywood Park to Louisville Monday for the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby May 4, it was disclosed yesterday.

Basketball

ITHACA, N.Y. — Cornell University appointed its first black coach yesterday when it named Ben Bluitt to head the Big Red basketball team.

Football

DALLAS — The Dallas Cowboys players voted yesterday to boycott the club's organized off-season training program in support of the National Football League Players Association, which is stalled in negotiations with the NFL Management Council.

General

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Reichler, a veteran sports writer prior to his selection as public relations assistant for the Baseball Commissioner's office, yesterday was named special assistant to Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Reichler will be in charge of major projects that include promotions, films and publications.

Q. Could you advise if the Nuveen Tax-Exempt Bond Fund is suitable for tax exempt income? Are there other funds such as this? — J.S.

A. Municipal bond funds are operated differently than the usual open-end fund,in that once a portfolio of bonds is assembled, it remains intact until the underlying securities are redeemed, sold or mature. At that time proceeds are distributed to fund-holders on a pro rata basis. A portfolio of perhaps $10 to $50 million of tax-exempt general obligation and revenue bonds is amassed and then that series is offered to the public in units of $1,000. In most cases portfolios comprised of a dozen or more high-quality municipals provided added safety through diversification.

Since there are six different sponsoring groups, most of which are brokerage firms, and a wide variety of specialized series, you would be wise to investigate in order to find the most suitable fund for your purpose. Some pay interest monthly, others invest solely in one state's offerings in order to qualify interest for state tax-exemption, as well as federal. Because there is no annual management fee, all these funds charge a load fee of 3½ per cent to 4½ per cent. Aside from Nuveen, Merrill Lynch, Bache, E. F. Hutton, Dean Witter, Paine Webber and Reynolds are involved as sponsors of municipal bond funds. If you are in a 30 per cent or higher tax bracket, this type of investment is suitable.

I am worred about Broad Street Investing Fund, which I hold. My only income is from this investment.

A. You hold shares of a high-quality fund, with an above-average performance record. The yield from income dividends is low at 3.5 per cent, however if you are taking capital gains distributions in cash, your total annual return for the current year is 9.5 per cent. At the present time this fund has a 5.5 per cent cash position, allowing substantial buying power as market conditions warrant. Portfolio turnover rate is low, as is the fund's expense ratio. Hold.

Money Crisis Could Hit Many Individuals, Businesses Hard

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A money crisis appears to lurk just around the corner, and present indications are that business and a lot of individual Americans are going to walk smack into it. The concussion could be shattering.

Business has big capital spending plans on its book, hoping to enlarge and better equip its production facilities. Individuals, encouraged by renewed activity in homebuilding, have plans to buy long-delayed homes.

Neither may be able to go ahead with plans, however, because the money might not be there. And nobody needs to be told that a spending plan without money or credit is as impossible of accomplishment as filling a lacerated balloon with air.

The demand on the money supply has been growing for months, and not even historically high interest rates have been able to suppress it. In fact, the cost of money itself might be contributing to the situation.

It goes like this: a company plans to increase its spending on plant and equipment by 13 per cent over 1973, which is in fact the rate industry as a whole has set as a goal. But instead of having 13 per cent more money it must subtract for inflation — and for the higher costs of borrowing.

Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, which controls the money spigot, has been growing increasingly disturbed about what he considers to be highly inflationary demands for money. He has declared his intention of restraining that demand.

Otherwise, it is the Fed's contention, individuals and business will spend to such a degree that further inflationary strains are placed upon the economy. Inflation must be controlled, Burns asserts, even though it pains.

Countering his position, some investors and businessmen have hollered that monetary policy alone cannot accept so much of the burden of restraint. They claim that to limit the money supply could destroy business, wreck the housing market and bring about a stock market collapse.

Burns this week stood firm. "We aren't going to sit back and prepare a monetary path to a continuation of rapid inflation," he said. "Let there be no mistaking our determination to do this."

Stocks Tumble Sharply Amid Stepped-Up Sales

The blue chip indicator dropped 12.59 yesterday amid concern over the spread of the record 10 ½ per cent prime lending rate among major banks, a trend which continued today.

Investors also were alarmed by the sharp drop in stock of Con Edison, the nation's largest power utility. Con Ed fell 5¾ to 12¼ yesterday on news the company was omitting its quarterly dividend for the first time since 1885. The development has left investors who buy stocks primarily for income — as opposed to capital gains — badly shaken, according to analysts.

As of noon, Con Edison had not opened for trading, held up by an influx of orders.

Matsushita Electric, the volume leader, declined ¾ to 16 ¼ on 228,200 shares, including two large blocks—125,000 at 16 ¼ and 102,600 at 16 ⅜. Motorola fell 1 ⅛.

Most other market groups fell in fractions.

Silver Prices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Handy and Harman today quoted silver at $5.55 cents per fine ounce up 13 cents. Engelhard quoted silver bullion at $5.55 up 13 cents and fabricated silver at $5.606 up 13.1 cents.

Catering Service And Kitchen Shop Will Open In San Rafael

Giese

Zimmank

A catering service and kitchen shop is scheduled to open next month at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael.

R. B. and Geri Horsley of Tiburon are remodling the interior at 249 Third Street, next to Salt's Fish & Chips, and will call their new shop Geri's Catering & Kitchen Shop. It will offer catering for all kinds of parties and receptions, and party rentals. The shop will sell a variety of kitchen utensils including brands like Cordon Bleu and Crownford China.

Mrs. Horsley formerly worked for a leasing company in San Francisco for about 10 years. She and her husband then operated a charter boat service in the Carribbean for two years until they returned to Tiburon last year. Mrs. Horsley has been catering in Tiburon since last August.

JAMES M. GIESE of San Rafael has been elected president of the Retail Credit Managers of San Francisco. He served on the board of directors for the past three years.

Giese is vice president of United California Bank and head of the Master Charge northern headquarters of UCB.

G. KARL ZIMMANK of Larkspur has been promoted to assistant vice president, operations, in Wells Fargo Bank's international division, San Francisco. He was assistant manager of operations before the promotion.

Zimmank joined the bank in 1963 in the Polk-California office, San Francisco. He later served as operations officer in the Mill Valley office and as assistant manager at the 29th and Mission and Geary-19th Avenue offices in San Francisco.

NATURE IMPORTS, a new shop featuring imported gift items made of wood, fiber or sea shells, opened last Friday at The Port in Mill Valley, 393 Miller Avenue.

Onwers of the shop are Sonia and Roy Morledge of San Rafael, who import wood, shell and fiber craft, mostly from the Philippines. Nature Imports carries such items as bowls inlaid with buffalo bones, lamps and chandeliers made of sea shells, "paintings" created by multi-colored shells, fabrics from various fibers like pineapple, embroidered handbags, shell necklaces, bread baskets of multi-colored straw, and many others.

Mrs. Morledge said she practiced law in the Philippines for five years, then did tax research in a New York accounting office for the past two years. She decided to open a retail store in Marin to help publicize Philippine handicrafts. "They are top quality, durable and reasonable in price," said Mrs Morledge. "They just aren't as well known as other imports."

Morledge, who has been a tax laywer in Montana and in Iowa since 1959, helps operate Nature Imports. The shop is open Tuesday through Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

CRIMPER'S PARLOUR, a new hair salon for men and women, is open for business at 22 Redhill Avenue (Miracle Mile) in San Anselmo near the Campolindo Juice Bar.

Owner-operator of Crimper's Parlour is George Rome of Woodacre, who has four years of experience in the business, including two years with the Fig Leaf at Lark Creek Shoppes on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

Crimper's Parlour offers hair cutting and styling for both men and women and carries a full line of acid-balanced products for hair and skin care. The new hair salon is open six days per week, Monday through Saturday, plus two evenings, Tuesday and Thursday until 9 p.m.

WRITERS INK, a new company that offers all types of writing and advertising — from letter and speech writing to film presentations — opened this week at 418 Locust Street in Sausalito.

Three partners in the firm are Roger McGovern of Sausalito, who has 25 years of experience in advertising and radio work including news and commercial writing for radio station KTIM for the past year; Bill Reading of Berkeley, who worked for advertising agencies for 17 years and has training in editing environmental impact reports; and Al Partridge of Berkeley, who has about 10 years of experience in advertising and television work.

McGovern said Writers Ink can turn out technical literature, letters, political material, publicity releases, speeches, advertising, educational or sales films, and can complete environmental impact reports that people can understand.

"We are not an agency, so no account executives, no expense accounts, no song-and-dance," said McGovern. "We write, period."

WILLIAM C. NOLAN of Mill Valley, owner of The Nolan Group sales promotion and merchandising firm, announced that his company was named exclusive Northern California representative for Marden-Kane.

New York-based Marden-Kane, active in consumer promotions for more than 20 years, develops and administers contests and sweepstakes.

"I've worked with Marden-Kane since the 1950's, and I know I'm representing one of the finest promotion firms in the country," said Nolan.

Realtors Give To Bicycle Path

A check totaling $350 was presented this month by the Marin County Board of Realtors and the Marin chapter of the Women's Council of the National Association of Realtors for improvements at a bike path-hiking trail rest center in Marin County.

The checks were accepted by Polly Smith, chairman of the Bicycle Paths and Hiking Trail Committee of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department.

Presentation of the check — representing $300 from the Marin County Board of Realtors and $50 from the Women's Council — was made by William Lewis, past president of the Marin Board of Realtors, assisted by Mildred Vail, president of the Women's Council and chairman of the Board's Environmental and Ecology Committee.

The funds are earmarked for installation of a drinking fountain, table, or bench for the enjoyment of Marin hikers and cyclists.

Prison Union Founder Wins Parole Round

SAN QUENTIN (UPI) — The California Adult Authority has decided against sending Wilbert (Popeye) Jackson, founder of the United Prisoners Union, back to San Quentin.

Jackson returned to the prison yesterday for an all-day hearing by the authority which was considering revoking his parole.

Jackson told newsmen after the closed hearing the parole officials had "restricted my activities." For example, he was not allowed to drive a car, Jackson said.

About 200 persons supporting Jackson marched outside the prison as guards carrying shotguns stood by. Some of the guards checked the identification of the demonstrators.

Jackson has been on parole for three years. He served 19 years in prison for burglary and robbery.

The revocation hearing was called after Jackson was acquitted of narcotics charges by a San Francisco Superior Court jury Nov. 16. Some of the protesters carried signs reading: "A jury acquittal equals a prison sentence?"

State law provides that the authority can send back to prison a parolee who has been arrested even though he is acquitted of the charges.

Municipal Court Judge Daniel Hanlon set May 9 for a pretrial hearing on the arrest, which conceivably could lead to another hearing before the Adult Authority.

Allocations To Crusade Units Given

United Bay Area Crusade officials yesterday announced allocations totaling $14,285,424 to agencies and service organizations in five Bay Area counties for 1974-75.

The amount reflects a 9.7 per cent increase over last year's allocations and includes a new $50,000 grant to the Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council and a $100,000 emergency contingency fund.

The largest grant, $2,380,000, went to the American National Red Cross Bay Area Council, which includes Marin County's Red Cross chapter.

Allocations to Marin County agencies include: Marin City Boys Club, $21,525; Center Point, $10,000; Fairfax-San Anselmo Children's Center, amount to be determined later; Family Service Agency of Marin County, $63,600; Legal Aid Society of Marin, $10,000; Marin Child Development Center, $28,500; Marin Open House, $20,000; St. Vincent's School for Boys, $43,000; Sunny Hills, $63,000, and Marin County Volunteer Bureau, $27,000.

In addition, allocations were made to a number of agencies in lump sums, for their activities in more than one county.

Among those with Marin County branches were Big Brothers, Boy Scouts of America, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Social Service, Cerebral Palsy Associations, Children's Home Society, Girl Scouts, Jewish Welfare Federation, United Jewish Community Centers, Mental Health Associations, Salvation Army and the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations.

Tough Sentence For A Few Cents

VICENZA, Italy (UPI) — A court Monday convicted postal worker Placido Padovan of embezzlement in stealing 52 cents worth of loose postage stamps he found among the mail.

It sentenced him to 17 months in jail, suspended the sentence, barred him from public office for the same length of time and fined him $40.

Presidential Funds Seen In '76

NEW YORK (UPI) — The plan to pay for the 1976 presidential campaign for both Democrats and Republicans with federal funds through a $1 checkoff on income tax returns now appears assured a success, the chief of the Internal Revnue Service (IRS) said yesterday.

"We project that more than $25 million will have been designated this year for the 1976 presidential election campaign when all the 81 million returns have been processed," IRS Commissioner Donald C. Alexander told the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) convention.

"When this amount is added to the almost $4 million designated last year, the campaign fund should have a balance of over $29 million by the end of the year," Alexander said.

Alexander said he expected funds designated by taxpayers in the next two years will put the campaign fund into operation in 1976. The fund will become operable when it reaches an amount equal to 15 cents for each American of voting age — a figure expected to be less than $50 million.

He told the editors and publishers that the checkoff was much more successful this year than last, due in large part to news reports and editorials.

The commissioner also reported taxpayers have not been taking questionable deductions or refusing to comply with income tax laws as a result of the disclosure of President Nixon's tax situation.

He said "seers" who had predicted mass noncompliance apparently overlooked Americans' sense of responsibility to their fellow citizens.

Most of the second day of the convention, at which 1,400 ANPA members are registered, was taken up with reports from the Newspaper Advertising Bureau and group discussions of various problems facing the industry.

The ANPA reported that advertising volume of daily newspapers again led all other media in 1973, getting a 30.3 per cent share of the advertising dollar. Leo Bogart, general manager of the advertising bureau, said newspaper advertising, year out, has maintained a steady 1.6 per cent of retail sales while other types of advertising have fluctuated.

"This year, in my opinion, newspapers will be more fortunate than other media," Bogart said. "When times are tough, marketers become less concerned with building image than with selling goods. And newspapers offer a proven record of producing fast returns on an advertising investment."

Auto Stolen

GOVERNOR'S REPLAY ON TAXES: 'YEP'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Asked if he paid a state tax on his 1973 income, Gov. Ronald Reagan replied only, "Yep."

Reagan, who long has contended that "taxes should hurt" drew fire three years ago when it was disclosed he paid no 1970 state income taxes because of "business reverses."

At news conference yesterday the governor was asked whether he paid any state income taxes for 1973. "Yep," was the one-word reply.

In each year subsequent to 1970, Reagan has said he paid a state income tax but has not divulged the amount.

Court Backs Florida Aid To Widows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court upheld on a 6-3 vote today the Florida law giving widows, but not widowers, a $500 tax break on grounds that society is inhospitable to working women.

Justice William O. Douglas wrote the majority decision, citing the generally lower economic status of women as a proper basis for the law.

"There can be no dispute that the financial difficulties confronting the lone woman in Florida or in any other state exceed those facing the man," Douglas said.

"Whether from overt discrimination or from the socialization process of a male-dominated culture, the job market is inhospitable to the woman seeking any but the lowest paid jobs."

Douglas said the Florida tax law was "reasonably designed to further the state policy of cushioning the financial impact of spousal loss upon the sex for whom that loss is a disproportionate or heavy burden."

White and Brennan both said the Florida law was too broad because it failed to require women to demonstrate financial need for the tax break.

"It may be that most widows have been occupied as housewives, mother and homemaker and are not immediately prepared for employment," White said. "But there are many rich widows who need no largesse from the state; many others are highly trained and have held lucrative positions long before the death of their husband."

The case was brought by Mel Kahn, a Florida widower who claimed violation of his constitutional rights to equal protection of the law without regard to sex.

The Dade County Circuit Court upheld Kahn's plea but the decision was overturned by the Florida Supreme Court.

Satellites For Phones Planned

ATLANTA (UPI) — The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T) announced yesterday it plans to launch a domestic satellite system to improve telephone service.

The proposed system would include two working satellites and a backup satellite and would have one of seven earth stations located near Atlanta.

A Heart Disease Hypothesis Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Connecticut researcher questions the conventional approach of blaming cholesterol for hardening of the arteries and suggests that an enzyme in homogenized milk might be a factor in heart disease.

Dr. Kurt A. Oster, chief of cardiology at Park City Hospital, Bridgeport, Conn., acknowledging his hypothesis is controversial, called for new research on the dietary causes of atherosclerosis and heart disease.

Oster told an International Symposium on Water Quality yesterday that he believes an enzyme called xanthine oxidase is absorbed into the blood stream and eventually attacks a major constituent of the cell membranes of arterial walls and heart muscle.

Oster said the homogenization of milk breaks down the size of fat droplets containing the enzyme. The resulting smaller particles of xanthine oxidase thus more easily escape digestion by stomach juices and are absorbed into the blood stream, he said.

The idea was disputed by Dr. M.F. Brink, president of the National Dairy Council.

"Homogenization breaks up the fat particles in milk —the fat globules become smaller and dispersed, but the molecules such as xanthine oxidase would not be affected," Brink said in Chicago.

Dr. Henry Blackburn, director of the laboratory of physiological hygiene at the University of Minnesota and coordinator of a national study of heart disease risk factors, said he knew of no other research supporting Oster's hypothesis. Blackburn also said that from population studies, there is no question of a direct relationship of cholesterol to heart disease.

Oster said work is now under way to correlate the origin of the enzyme found in diseased arteries with the enzyme in cow's milk.

"It is not the milk, but it is the enzyme in the milk," he said. "I think milk is an excellent food."

Study Of Drainage Plan Is Scheduled

The Tamalpais Valley master drainage plan will be discussed by the Richardson Bay Flood Control Advisory Board tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Library gallery.

Also on the agenda will be progress reports on Ryan Creek drainage problems in Mill Valley and proposed dredging of Coyote Creek in Tamalpais Valley.
